AIR TRAFFIC IS TIED UP; SNOW FALLS

Two Aviators Missing and Two Others "Bail Out" in Pittsburgh Blizzard

STREETS ARE BLOCKED

Temperatures Forced Down to New Lows for Winter in Many Sections

By United Press

BLIZZARDS and severe snowstorms, driven by blustery northwest winds, raged over the eastern states today, forcing temperatures down to new lows for the winter in many sections. Twenty-two deaths were reported due to the storm.

Air traffic was tied up and surface traffic in the cities seriously impeded. At Ft. Erie, Ont., two aviators were missing on a short flight from Hamilton, Ont.

Philadelphia reported eight deaths, three of them from exposure. Three persons died in New York. In Pittsburgh five persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. At Hampden, Me., explosion of a steam heater at the height of a blizzard caused a fire at a dance hall in which three persons were burned and others forced out into knee-deep snow in light attire.

Two mail pilots, caught in a blizzard east of Pittsburgh last night, abandoned their planes after the wings became coated with ice and snow, and parachuted to safety.

A light snowfall in western New York turned into a blizzard today and bus and railroad lines were warned. In northern Connecticut the temperature dropped to nearly zero. At Northfield, Vt., it was 4 degrees above and at Boston 10 above.

ARRAIGN BANKERS IN FEDERAL COURT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Fred W. Kiesel and A. B. Carter, president and vice president, respectively, of the closed California National bank were to be arraigned in United States court here today on charges of violating federal banking laws.

Indictments accusing the former bankers of submitting and conspiring to submit false reports on the bank's condition to the comptroller of the treasury were returned several weeks ago by the federal grand jury after an exhaustive investigation.

Defense attorneys announced they would enter both a demurrer and a motion to dismiss on the ground the indictments are faulty in that they fail to charge any offense. Should this move be unsuccessful, it was reported the attorneys may seek a change of venue on the plea their clients' interests would be endangered at a trial here because of prejudice growing out of the bank failure.

FULLERTON HIGH SCHOOL BOY KILLED BY HIT RUN DRIVER

Four Others Injured In 4 Accidents

Total Traffic Fatalities for Year Are Brought to Fifty-four

BILLY AMENT, 15, Fullerton high school freshman, was killed by a hit and run driver, one man is in the county jail after admitting he hit the boy, and four persons were hurt as the result of seven wrecks in Orange county over the week end.

Ament was struck and fatally injured by a car driven by Karroll La Grange, 22, 124 West Truslow street, Fullerton, about 9 p. m. Saturday, while the boy and two friends were walking along Orangethorpe road near Magnolia avenue. He was rushed to the Fullerton General hospital and died at 2 p. m. yesterday. His death brought the total of traffic fatalities in the county this year to 54.

La Grange was placed under arrest for investigation of manslaughter and failure to stop and render aid when he came to the Fullerton police station yesterday afternoon to inquire if anyone had been hurt the night before. He did not know that his car had struck the youth, he said, and it was not until he saw a dent in his fender the next day that he realized someone might have been struck.

Struck by Auto

The victim with his two friends, Sam Moses and Glen Landreth, all living near Buena Park, were returning to their homes after visiting at the home of Jim Brown. They were attempting to cross Orangethorpe road and walking along the edge of the highway, the boys told officers. As a car approached from the west, the boys said they thought the driver was blinded by headlights and struck Ament, whose body was hurled into an orchard. The boy died from a fractured skull.

La Grange told police that an approaching car forced him to drive close to the boys and that just as he came even with them, the wind wing and right window were smashed on his car. Thinking that they had thrown a rock through the window, he continued

INSTITUTE OF WORLD AFFAIRS URGING PEACE

Discussions on Second Day Turn to Problems Facing Far East

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—The Institute of World Affairs turned to problems in the Far East today as it settled down to its eleventh annual meeting with keynoters stressing the urgency of world peace.

Provost Monroe E. Deutsch, vice president of the University of California, declared a solution to the world's economic problems was being blocked by the intense spirit of nationalism existing in many countries.

"Unless we can convince nations of the world that a spirit of nationalism now rampant must be translated into internationalism," he said, "we cannot come to the solution of the world's economic ills."

Strive for Peace

"With the present economic barriers, armament increases and war debt difficulties, nationalism threatens the overthrow of national balances. Those who desire peace must strive valiantly now to offset efforts of arms manufacturers who are ready to plunge more nations into war for their selfish gains."

Deutsch praised the principle of the NRA, declaring its "unselfish provisions" serve as an object lesson to the world in seeking a way out of the depression.

Delegates, many of them from foreign lands, were welcomed by Chancellor R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California. He pleaded for nations to apply the rudiments of world peace through self-education.

"We have been thinking too much of reorganization and too little of basis philosophy on which the peace structure must be erected," he said.

BULLITT ARRIVES IN MOSCOW TODAY

MOSCOW, Dec. 11.—(UP)—William C. Bullitt, first United States ambassador to Soviet Russia since the World War, arrived today.

Arriving at the national hotel Bullitt found flying outside the first American flag to be displayed in Russia since the revolution. His suite was the one he and his mother lived in when they visited Russia during the Bolshevik revolution.

EARLE WYNEKOOP IS FREED OF CHARGES

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Earle Wynekoop today was freed on a charge of being an accessory before the fact of the murder of his wife, Rheta, when the case was nolle prossed at the request of the state's attorney's office.

Dismissal of the accessory charge left police with no legal method of holding the young husband who had been in custody since returning to Chicago after his wife's murder.

Wynekoop's mother, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, remained in her county jail cell where she is held on an indictment charging her with her daughter-in-law's murder.

RENO, Nev., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Mayor E. E. Roberts, Reno's colorful mayor for the past 10 years, died here today following a protracted illness. He would have been 63 years old tomorrow.

He had been suffering from a stomach ailment, doctors said.

Mayor Roberts who achieved nation wide fame two years ago when he advocated the placing of barrels of whiskey on every street corner with dippers dangling from the sides, was born at Pleasant Grove, Cal., in 1870.

He had been active in Nevada politics for many years. He served as district attorney at Carson City for five terms shortly after he was admitted to the bar in 1899. He also served as Nevada's lone congressman for four terms.

His wife and several stepchildren were at his bedside when he died. A daughter, Hazel Lee Johnson, wife of Walter Johnson, baseball player, died several years ago.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Financial transactions of David and Serge Mdivani came under the scrutiny of the county grand jury today when a number of witnesses was summoned to discuss the brothers' operation of the Pacific Shore Oil company.

The Mdivanis may also testify if they desire, according to Deputy District Attorney David L'Esperance who said the inquiry was directed at purported withdrawals from a trust fund in which stockholders' money had been invested.

SECRETARY ICKES INJURED IN FALL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes was severely bruised today when he slipped on the ice in front of his home.

It was first believed Ickes had received several broken ribs but an X-ray examination at the naval hospital revealed his injuries were limited to severe bruises on the right side.

Ickes was expected to return soon to his office.

HEARINGS OPEN ON LIQUOR TAX LEGISLATION

Republicans of Committee Attack Dilatory Administration Tactics

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP) Failure of treasury and other department experts to appear at the joint congressional hearing today on liquor tax legislation precipitated a Republican attack on "dilatory" administration methods.

Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee and Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee said that Acting Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau had asked for more time before appearance of experts from his department and members of President Roosevelt's interdepartmental committee on alcohol control.

Members of the inter-departmental committee had been scheduled to appear today to sponsor their proposed program for a $2.60 whiskey tax and for other levies which would bring in an estimated $500,000,000 annual revenue.

The two committees decided after 10 minutes of argument to hear L. H. Parker of the joint committee on internal revenue.

The wet house group opposed to the proposed $2.60 levy received several new recruits from the ways and means committee.

Parker told the committee it must seek to place a curb on profiteering, "reduce bootlegging to a minimum," and prevent duplication of federal, state and local taxes.

Parker reviewed revenue which has accrued to the treasury under the $1.10 per gallon tax which was in effect before prohibition. He said importation of liquors had averaged about 3,500,000 gallons annually, and the $2.60 customs levy had brought annual revenues of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

Between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 gallons of illegal whiskey is held by bootleggers, Parker testified.

The tax expert estimated that 140,000,000 gallons of whiskey would be consumed the first year of repeal. He estimated that of this amount, probably 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 gallons would be imported. In Canada at present, he said, there was a supply of 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 gallons of whiskey available for consumption in this country.

Uarker reviewed past revenues from wine and beer taxes, and when he concluded, the committee adjourned until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Though Lindbergh made no announcement of the route he would take, it was indicated he might try the dangerous overland route to Port of Spain, Tinidad.

MORE THAN TWO MILLIONS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN DEPRIVED OF EDUCATION THIS WINTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—School this winter does not exist for more than two and one-quarter million American children, according to George F. Zook, commissioner of education in the department of interior.

Millions more have had their school year shortened by boards of education seeking desperately but in vain for the cash to pay teachers' salaries and keep school houses in repair, information obtained from Zook showed.

More schools will close by the thousands next year, he predicted, unless the education system of the country is revivew by a bountiful injection of cash.

When the school season opened this fall, about 2000 rural school houses had their doors boarded, Zook said. As the season progressed many more schools were abandoned. Others took long vacations, some began charging tuition, which the poorer students could not afford, and many curtailed their teaching staffs, by dropping important parts of their curriculum.

Affects Future

Zook fears that the educational catastrophe has reached such proportions that its effects will be felt upon the country for a generation.

Loss of a year, or of two years schooling by a 14-year old boy, for instance, affects him the rest of his life, he said. In 90 per cent of the cases, it is estimated he will forget his education, seek a job and thus rob himself of a chance for success. Even should he return to the classroom, once it opens again, he will be behind the boy whose education proceeded without interruption.

The depression reached the school later than it did industry or agriculture. It is wreaking greatest havoc in the schools after recovery already has started elsewhere.

Closing outright of thousands of schools perhaps is the most sensational aspect of the situation. Almost as serious is the fact that school terms in practically every great American city are from one to two months shorted than they were before the depression. One state has an average of 44 pupils per teacher. The average for five states is more than 40.

ANNUAL BUDGET TASK TAKEN UP BY PRESIDENT

Roosevelt to Meet Department Heads Before He Starts on Message

The task involved arriving at figures for emergency governmental expenditures on the recovery drive as well as for carrying on the ordinary functions of the government.

Mr. Roosevelt scheduled a series of conferences during the week with Director of the Budget Lewis Douglas and heads of other government departments. The message will go to congress soon after it convenes on Jan. 3.

Douglas tentatively foresees a governmental income of about $3,350,000,000 for the 1935 fiscal year.

Against this income an outlay of approximately $2,600,000,000 will be required for the regular governmental establishments, leaving a balance of three-quarters of a billion dollars according to tentative forecasts by Douglas.

This balance and the treasury's current cash balance of approximately $1,000,000,000 would be available for emergency relief and public works expenditures if their continuation is required.

Additional funds are expected to accrue from plugging the holes in the income tax laws and from other sources, such as the liquor levies and tariffs and the processing taxes laid on farm products.

Mr. Roosevelt had worked from the start of his administration for a balanced budget by a system of meeting current expenses from revenues and spreading out liquidation of emergency outlays over a long period of years.

This policy of separating the ordinary expenditures from those for emergency purposes has been adopted since congress last considered budgetary matters.

The system has been attacked by the Republican national committee as a bookkeeping system devised to deceive the public. These attacks may be expected to be revived by administration critics in congress.

SAN MATEO PLANS CHALLENGE "IF SANTA ANA WILL ACCEPT"

It was said that San Mateo officials previously desired a game with Los Angeles junior college, which was turned down by the southern school. San Mateo was reluctant to issue another challenge unless it was assured Santa Ana will accept.

Santa Ana junior college is "willing and anxious" to meet San Mateo for the state championship provided "suitable business arrangements" can be made with the Northern California institution, according to Bill Cook, Don football coach.

Cook said the Dons would do one of two things, (1) travel north if their expenses were paid in full or (2) play San Mateo at the Municipal Bowl here if San Mateo were willing to split the gate receipts on a fifty-fifty percentage.

Speaking for D. K. Hammond, president of the college, and McKee Fisk, dean, Coach Cook stated Santa Ana was not in a position to make a flat guarantee if San Mateo comes here. Furthermore, he explained, the Don felt the challenge should come from San Mateo, which had been negotiating for a contest with Los Angeles before Santa Ana defeated Los Angeles for the Southern California championship last Saturday.

When the Dons played at Sacramento for the state crown in 1929, the local team's expenses were paid in full. They totaled approximately $1000, it was said.

CODES ARE SENT TO ROOSEVELT TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Codes for retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers of food were before President Roosevelt for approval today.

Completion of the codes was delayed by a break between George N. Peek, agricultural administrator, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Assistant Secretary Tugwell.

Peek's future, it was indicated, will be in the state department, to bargain liquor import quotas for foreign markets for American farm products. His present post is expected to be filled by Chester Davis, former agricultural commissioner of Montana.

DEATH TOLL IN SPAIN REVOLT PLACED AT 100

Threats of General Strike Fail and Government is Reported in Control

MADRID, Dec. 11.—(UP)—With indications that a general strike, threatened by anarchists and syndicalists after Sunday's battles against police, was failing to materialize, the government claimed today to dominate the uprising on all fronts. Estimates put the death toll at around 100.

"All public forces, military and civil, are loyal to the government," Minister of Labor Pi Y Suner told the United Press, "and the government has complete control over the country."

Pi Y Suner was optimistic as reports continued to arrive that the radical elements had failed to succeed in forcing all workers to quit their jobs.

"The blindness of some of the revolutionary elements is lamentable," he said. "The government wanted to avoid any injuries to the people, and therefore gave orders to all its armed forces to permit the rebels to surrender and avoid bloodshed, but in many cases the leaders refused, and the battles resulted."

Pi Y Suner said the death toll would reach 100. A threatened railroad strike at Seville, he said, had been blocked, and a majority of the factories were operating in Barcelona and Madrid.

Heartening support for the government came from Julian Besteiro, president of the powerful General Labor union, and one of the Socialist leaders. He declared the Socialists would not join the anarchists' movement because they regarded the rebellion "against the interests of the laboring class."

WICHITA OFFICERS OUTWIT IRATE MOB

WICHITA, Kans., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Officers today claimed a solution to three mysterious murders after the alleged slayer, a 37-year-old farm hand, had been imprisoned behind the strong walls of the Kansas State Reformatory to save him from an infuriated mob.

A confession implicating the farm hand, Jack Wisdom, in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard and Emory Large, was obtained shortly before Oklahoma officers found the body of Pritchard, a Wichita clothing merchant, near El Reno, Okla.

Wisdom, arrested early Sunday after a three-weeks' search, was taken to the reformatory at Hutchinson after a wild ride through Oklahoma and Kansas with an angry mob in pursuit. Quick action by Gov. W. H. Murray in mobilizing the Oklahoma national guard was credited with saving him from violent death at the hands of would-be lynchers.

MERCHANTS OPTIMISTIC FOR SEASON

SALES VALUE HIGHER

(Copyright 1933 by United Press)

CHRISTMAS buying this season, the first under NRA, has shown an increase ranging upward from 10 per cent in the country's major cities, a United Press survey revealed today. This increase was in both volume and total dollar value of sales.

Cities reported crowded department stores. Observers reported a greater number of wage earners and low salaried workers in the crowds than last year. This was interpreted as indicating an improvement in purchasing power for the masses.

The lateness of Thanksgiving this year and the fact that the day preceding Christmas is a Sunday shortened the shopping season. But from the first week's indications merchants were optimistic of exceeding last year's volume and dollar business for the season.

Only one city, St. Paul, reported a drop both in dollar and sales volume under a year ago.

Charity Funds

All the cities polled in the survey expect to provide charity Christmas funds as usual. So far, contributions are the same as last year.

Denver—Three leading department stores report business increase of 25,115 and 22 per cent. Two leaders estimate total for entire period will be 60 and 22 per cent above 1932.

Minneapolis—Unit sales about same as last year, but dollar volume higher due to higher prices.

Atlanta—Large department stores report shopping a "whole lot better." Gain has been noticed for three weeks.

Boston—Several stores report buying 15 per cent higher than last year. Total volume expected to be as good or slightly better than last year.

Chicago

Chicago—Retailers agreed that shopping is about 20 per cent above 1932 and estimate total will run 15 to 20 per cent higher for season.

Cleaveland—Unit sales higher this year, dollar volume slightly less. More small wage earners buying gifts. Department stores up 10 to 15 per cent in sales.

Dallas—First week of December showed 22 per cent business gain. Merchants expect season's business to be 25 per cent higher.

Detroit—One large department

Between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 gallons of illegal whiskey is held by bootleggers, Parker testified.

The tax expert estimated that 140,000,000 gallons of whiskey would be consumed the first year of repeal. He estimated that of this amount, probably 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 gallons would be imported. In Canada at present, he said, there was a supply of 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 gallons of whiskey available for consumption in this country.

Parker reviewed past revenues from wine and beer taxes, and when he concluded, the committee adjourned until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11. —(UP)—Explosion of an oil stove started a hotel fire in which one man lost his life and three women received broken bones, official investigation determined today.

SAN MATEO PLANS CHALLENGE "IF SANTA ANA WILL ACCEPT"

It was said that San Mateo officials previously desired a game with Los Angeles junior college, which was turned down by the southern school. San Mateo was reluctant to issue another challenge unless it was assured Santa Ana will accept.

Santa Ana junior college is "willing and anxious" to meet San Mateo for the state championship provided "suitable business arrangements" can be made with the Northern California institution, according to Bill Cook, Don football coach.

Cook said the Dons would do one of two things, (1) travel north if their expenses were paid in full or (2) play San Mateo at the Municipal Bowl here if San Mateo were willing to split the gate receipts on a fifty-fifty percentage.

Speaking for D. K. Hammond, president of the college, and McKee Fisk, dean, Coach Cook stated Santa Ana was not in a position to make a flat guarantee if San Mateo comes here. Furthermore, he explained, the Don felt the challenge should come from San Mateo, which had been negotiating for a contest with Los Angeles before Santa Ana defeated Los Angeles for the Southern California championship last Saturday.

When the Dons played at Sacramento for the state crown in 1929, the local team's expenses were paid in full. They totaled approximately $1000, it was said.

MORE THAN TWO MILLIONS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN DEPRIVED OF EDUCATION THIS WINTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—School this winter does not exist for more than two and one-quarter million American children, according to George F. Zook, commissioner of education in the department of interior.

Millions more have had their school year shortened by boards of education seeking desperately but in vain for the cash to pay teachers' salaries and keep school houses in repair, information obtained from Zook showed.

More schools will close by the thousands next year, he predicted, unless the education system of the country is revivew by a bountiful injection of cash.

When the school season opened this fall, about 2000 rural school houses had their doors boarded, Zook said. As the season progressed many more schools were abandoned. Others took long vacations, some began charging tuition, which the poorer students could not afford, and many curtailed their teaching staffs, by dropping important parts of their curriculum.

Affects Future

Zook fears that the educational catastrophe has reached such proportions that its effects will be felt upon the country for a generation.

Loss of a year, or of two years schooling by a 14-year old boy, for instance, affects him the rest of his life, he said. In 90 per cent of the cases, it is estimated he will forget his education, seek a job and thus rob himself of a chance for success. Even should he return to the classroom, once it opens again, he will be behind the boy whose education proceeded without interruption.

The depression reached the school later than it did industry or agriculture. It is wreaking greatest havoc in the schools after recovery already has started elsewhere.

Closing outright of thousands of schools perhaps is the most sensational aspect of the situation. Almost as serious is the fact that school terms in practically every great American city are from one to two months shorted than they were before the depression. One state has an average of 44 pupils per teacher. The average for five states is more than 40.

LINDBERGHS PLAN TO RESUME FLIGHT

Though Lindbergh made no announcement of the route he would take, it was indicated he might try the dangerous overland route to Port of Spain, Trinidad.

ANNUAL BUDGET TASK TAKEN UP BY PRESIDENT

Roosevelt to Meet Department Heads Before He Starts on Message

The task involved arriving at figures for emergency governmental expenditures on the recovery drive as well as for carrying on the ordinary functions of the government.

Mr. Roosevelt scheduled a series of conferences during the week with Director of the Budget Lewis Douglas and heads of other government departments. The message will go to congress soon after it convenes on Jan. 3.

Douglas tentatively foresees a governmental income of about $3,350,000,000 for the 1935 fiscal year.

Against this income an outlay of approximately $2,900,000,000 will be required for the regular governmental establishments, leaving a balance of three-quarters of a billion dollars according to tentative forecasts by Douglas.

This balance and the treasury's current cash balance of approximately $1,000,000,000 would be available for emergency relief and public works expenditures if their continuation is required.

Additional funds are expected to accrue from plugging the holes in the income tax laws and from other sources, such as the liquor levies and tariffs and the processing taxes laid on farm products.

Mr. Roosevelt had worked from the start of his administration for a balanced budget by a system of meeting current expenses from revenues and spreading out liquidation of emergency outlays over a long period of years.

This policy of separating the ordinary expenditures from those for emergency purposes has been adopted since congress last considered budgetary matters.

The system has been attacked by the Republican national committee as a bookkeeping system devised to deceive the public. These attacks may be expected to be revived by administration critics in congress.

CODES ARE SENT TO ROOSEVELT TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Codes for retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers of food were before President Roosevelt for approval today.

Completion of the codes was delayed by a break between George N. Peek, agricultural administrator, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Assistant Secretary Tugwell.

Peek's future, it was indicated, will be in the state department, to bargain liquor import quotas for foreign markets for American farm products. His present post is expected to be filled by Chester Davis, former agricultural commissioner of Montana.

DEATH TOLL IN SPAIN REVOLT PLACED AT 100

Threats of General Strike Fail and Government is Reported in Control

MADRID, Dec. 11.—(UP)—With indications that a general strike, threatened by anarchists and syndicalists after Sunday's battles against police, was failing to materialize, the government claimed today to dominate the uprising on all fronts. Estimates put the death toll at around 100.

"All public forces, military and civil, are loyal to the government," Minister of Labor Pi Y Suner told the United Press, "and the government has complete control over the country."

Pi Y Suner was optimistic as reports continued to arrive that the radical elements had failed to succeed in forcing all workers to quit their jobs.

"The blindness of some of the revolutionary elements is lamentable," he said. "The government wanted to avoid any injuries to the people, and therefore gave orders to all its armed forces to permit the rebels to surrender and avoid bloodshed, but in many cases the leaders refused, and the battles resulted."

Pi Y Suner said the death toll would reach 100. A threatened railroad strike at Seville, he said, had been blocked, and a majority of the factories were operating in Barcelona and Madrid.

Heartening support for the government came from Julian Besteiro, president of the powerful General Labor union, and one of the Socialist leaders. He declared the Socialists would not join the anarchists' movement because they regarded the rebellion "against the interests of the laboring class."

WICHITA OFFICERS OUTWIT IRATE MOB

WICHITA, Kans., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Officers today claimed a solution to three mysterious murders after the alleged slayer, a 37-year-old farm hand, had been imprisoned behind the strong walls of the Kansas State Reformatory to save him from an infuriated mob.

A confession implicating the farm hand, Jack Wisdom, in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard and Emory Large, was obtained shortly before Oklahoma officers found the body of Pritchard, a Wichita clothing merchant, near El Reno, Okla.

Wisdom, arrested early Sunday after a three-weeks' search, was taken to the reformatory at Hutchinson after a wild ride through Oklahoma and Kansas with an angry mob in pursuit. Quick action by Gov. W. H. Murray in mobilizing the Oklahoma national guard was credited with saving him from violent death at the hands of would-be lynchers.

MERCHANTS OPTIMISTIC FOR SEASON

(Copyright 1933 by United Press)

CHRISTMAS buying this season, the first under NRA, has shown an increase ranging upward from 10 per cent in the country's major cities, a United Press survey revealed today. This increase was in both volume and total dollar value of sales.

Cities reported crowded department stores. Observers reported a greater number of wage earners and low salaried workers in the crowds than last year. This was interpreted as indicating an improvement in purchasing power for the masses.

The lateness of Thanksgiving this year and the fact that the day preceding Christmas is a Sunday shortened the shopping season. But from the first week's indications merchants were optimistic of exceeding last year's volume and dollar business for the season.

Only one city, St. Paul, reported a drop both in dollar and sales volume under a year ago.

Charity Funds

All the cities polled in the survey expect to provide charity Christmas funds as usual. So far, contributions are the same as last year.

Denver—Three leading department stores report business increase of 25,115 and 22 per cent. Two leaders estimate total for entire period will be 60 and 22 per cent above 1932.

Minneapolis—Unit sales about same as last year, but dollar volume higher due to higher prices.

Atlanta—Large department stores report shopping a "whole lot better." Gain has been noticed for three weeks.

Boston—Several stores report buying 15 per cent higher than last year. Total volume expected to be as good or slightly better than last year.

Chicago

Chicago—Retailers agreed that shopping is about 20 per cent above 1932 and estimate total will run 15 to 20 per cent higher for season.

Cleaveland—Unit sales higher this year, dollar volume slightly less. More small wage earners buying gifts. Department stores up 10 to 15 per cent in sales.

Dallas—First week of December showed 32 per cent business gain. Merchants expect season's business to be 25 per cent higher.

Detroit—One large department

CITRUS GROWER URGES SUPPORT FOR HARBOR

By C. F. Skirvin

My first introduction to the Newport Harbor project was some 25 years ago, when Congressman Charles A. Kennedy of the first Iowa district was chairman of the rivers and harbors committee of congress.

In company with Lew Wallace, who during the elapsed quarter of a century has been a consistent friend of harbor development, I made a trip over the bay and listened to the earnest endeavor of Mr. Wallace to interest the government official in the project.

It would be a tragedy, after waiting all these years for government approval, to refuse the government aid so long sought, and which has at last been granted if we in Orange county will pay only one-third of the cost.

Newport Beach city assumed heavy community burdens to start the harbor development, and Orange county made further progress in 1920, but never losing sight of the logical government responsibility of joining in the work.

Definite Approval

The time has now arrived when the U. S. Navy acknowledges the strategic location of our harbor. Government engineers have approved the plans for further expansion, and the government itself has committed itself financially to the extent of $1,195,441 as an outright gift, which will pay two thirds of the cost.

Recognition of the commercial and pleasure benefits has long been admitted, and the correlation of these three interests appear sufficient to justify unanimous approval on the part of Orange county voters.

Unless the horripilations of the times frighten away our better judgment, the Orange county harbor bonds will be given a substantial majority at least.

Briefed down to figures, Orange county invests $640,000 and the government $1,195,441. Looks like a good deal for Orange county, and the only reason this money is offered to us is because topographically we have what other localities have not.

Are we going to refuse nearly $1,200,000 of government money by withholding an investment of $640,000 which will cost the taxpayer an average of 26 cents per year on a home worth $3000 and assessed at $1000? I think not, for such offers are decidedly infrequent.

Action Needed

Under ordinary times there would be no hesitancy in accepting such a proposition from the government. There should be none under the stress of prevailing conditions, as the combined investment would be an assurance of better times for Orange county. We have wanted government recognition of our harbor for a long time. Now is the opportunity to get it, which may never come again.

Men who keep record of taxes know that newly created wealth in Orange county must take the place of depreciating incomes from oil, oranges (in which I happen to be interested), homes, and general farm lands. An important measure of relief for all of us inland taxpayers will be the new taxable wealth in the harbor area, financed by new money from the outside, which will appear with the further development of our harbor.

Aside from the materialistic benefit, I firmly believe the harbor project will prove to be a unifying force in Orange county. It will exert such an influence socially and commercially that it will dissipate much of the jealous sectionalism that has prevailed, and which in reality has no place in our county, which is so small and compact that one can reach most any point in it within an hour.

Here is one big project upon which all communities, all races, all religions, all political faiths, and all residents of every kind and character can unite upon. I believe such a result is highly desirable and that it is being accomplished right now.

The hopeful outlook for the harbor district on the Dec. 19 ballot arises from the calm inspection voters are giving the proposition. It is logically sound, commercially desirable, appealing from its recreational viewpoint, it will evidence our support of the president's recovery program, and possesses a sense of security in that it will bring substantial Navy units to our coastline.

Orange county should help Newport Harbor, so that Newport Harbor can help Orange county.

LAST DRY CASE TO COME BEFORE COURT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—The last case to be prosecuted here under the national prohibition law was to come before Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan when Richard Heddy, Nevada City restaurant operator, is arraigned in United States district court this week.

Ray T. Coughlin, attorney for Heddy, said he would seek dismissal of the case. Federal officials, however, intimated charges of violating the internal revenue law might be filed unless a plea was entrede to the prohibition charge.

Other cases on the calendar included arraignment of George W. Kerr and William Barry, asserted members of an eastern gang held responsible for the $234,000 robbery of the Sacramento post office a year ago.

FULLERTON BOY IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

to Fullerton to get medical aid for his companion, Charles Stone, who was cut by flying glass. Some time later, he said they both returned to the scene of the accident but found nothing to lead them to believe anyone had been hit.

No date has been set for an inquest by Coroner Earl Abbey. The body was taken to the McAuley and Suters funeral home pending funeral arrangements. The mother of the boy, Mrs. J. M. Bryan, was visiting in Las Vegas, Nevada, and arrived in Fullerton this morning after being summoned by authorities. The boy lived with his three brothers and sister with an uncle, Jesse L. Leach.

Two Men Hurt

Two men were hurt Saturday afternoon when cars driven by Eugene Jiminez, Tustin and William Fay, 1312 West Fifth street, collided at Second and Hesperian streets. One of the cars broke a fire plug after the impact and flooded the streets. No one except the drivers was injured.

A. J. Buchanan, 32, 211 1-2 Frankfort street, Huntington Beach, is in a serious condition in St. Joseph's hospital as the result of a motorcycle accident in Huntington Beach yesterday noon. Buchanan was riding the motor on Ocean avenue and collided with a truck owned by the Bruce Brothers Trucking company at Fifteenth street. He suffered a fractured right arm, possible internal injuries, severe head wounds and loss of blood. He was given first aid treatment at the Huntington Beach Emergency hospital and transferred to St. Joseph's hospital.

No one was hurt but Dewey Dreblow, 35, 1135 West Third street, was booked at the county jail for drunken driving as a result of a wreck at Fairview and Parton streets Sunday afternoon. Cars driven by Dreblow and M. U. Martin, 115 East Chestnut street, crashed at the intersection.

Fogs Cause Wrecks

In a peculiar series of accidents caused by heavy fog yesterday morning, three wrecks occurred within 30 minutes at Huntington Beach boulevard and Seventeenth streets, in which no one was hurt.

The first crash was at 8 a. m., when a car driven by G. W. Cheatham, 38, 313 West Broadway, Anaheim, crashed headon with a car driven by Roy C. Branchet, 41, Whittier. Cheatham had started to pass another car and did not see the Branchet machine approaching, it was learned from reports.

Twenty minutes later, a car driven by D. S. Beals, 32, Seattle, crashed into the back of a machine driven by Charles E. Hart, 38, Pasadena. Hart had stopped for the boulevard stop and Beals, unfamiliar with the intersection, could not avoid the crash, reports said.

Ten minutes later, the third accident occurred in exactly the same manner as the second. Edward G. Enault, 35, R. D. 1, Box 314, Garden Grove, had stopped his car for the boulevard and was struck by K. Yoshioka, 44, Artesia. Both cars were proceeding south on Huntington Beach boulevard.

200,000 Jobless

With more than 200,000 registered teachers out of jobs and thousands more working without salaries, most of the rest are receiving pay lower than the Blue Eagle minimum for common day laborers.

Chicago has been most publicized for its failure to pay teachers. One committed suicide because she was hungry. Others endured untold hardships. Nearly as bitter have been the experiences of school ma'ams in many other cities.

Average pay for a rural teacher this winter is $750 a year, but 84,000 will receive less than $450, while in at least 18 states teachers are being paid in warrants, cashable if at all at discounts ranging from 5 per cent up.

Salaries in many states have been reduced 20 to 40 per cent, while Michigan intends to lower the pay of her teachers 60 per cent unless more money, somehow, somewhere, is forthcoming.

"Had this crisis been precipitated upon us as suddenly and dramatically as in the case of the World war, or even as in the closing of banks from one end of the country to the other last spring, we doubtless should have been aroused to the necessity of doing something about it speedily, said Zook. "Like most other social ills, however, it has stolen upon us unawares.

"We find ourselves in the grip of a social difficulty from which we shall extricate ourselves only with great pain and effort.

NORTHWEST RIVERS INUNDATE HIGHWAYS

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Flood waters isolated sections of southwestern Washington today after a steady 48-hour rainfall swept the region and inundated the highways.

Aberdeen, Hoquiam, Kent, Auburn and other towns were cut off temporarily from the rest of the state when the Cowlitz river and other streams overflowed.

Red Cross workers rescued 275 families marooned by the high waters. Hundreds of homes were abandoned hastily in the North Kelso section. The Puyallup bridge was washed out.

Main highways from Seattle were blocked by flood waters and train traffic was cut off.

Property damage was estimated tentatively as more than a million dollars. No lives were lost, according to present reports.

ARREST THREE FOR THEFT OF DUMPED FRUIT

Three Mexicans were arrested by sheriff's officers last night on investigation of grand theft following reports from the California Orange Grfowers association that fruit was being stolen from the Santa Ana river dump during the night.

Officers Steve Duhart and Fred Swayze watched the dump Saturday night without result and had been on the job last night about an hour when a truck drove up and stopped. When taken in custody, the men said they were on their way to Corona to get a load of lemons and had stopped to fix a headlight, officers reported. The men were Leo Martinez, 23, Joe Garcia, 30 and Ramon Ortez, 29, all of Los Angeles.

FORT ERIE, Ont., Dec. 11. —(UP)—Blinding snow storms and extreme cold hampered search today for two occupants of a plane, missing on a short flight from Hamilton, Ont., to the local airport. The men were Bert Ashley, pilot, and Jack Nichols, passenger, both of Toronto.

Rescut planes were kept grounded by the storm.

PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Ice and snow forced two pilots for Transcontinental Western Airways to abandon their mail planes over the Allegheny mountains east of here last night.

The pilots, Dean Burford, 32, Columbus, O., and H. G. Andrews, 35, Newark, N. J., parachuted safely to earth, but their planes and the mail were lost.

HAMPDEN

HAMPDEN, Me., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Explosion of a steam heater was blamed today for a fire which enveloped the Paradise Dance hall last night, killing three marathon dancers and sending eight others to a hospital.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(UP)—New York City was covered today with a blanket of snow for the first time this season.

Three persons died of exposure.

The thermometer went down to 11. By 8 A. M., the fall was 1.3 inches.

PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—(UP)—A wintry blast that swept eastern states over the week-end caused eight deaths in this area and severe suffering from exposure and auto acicdents on icy streets.

Andrew Spittle, 60; an unidentified man; Alexander Steinberg, 40; nine-year-old Edna Delaney; John Shamrock, 30, Collegeville; George Tully, 52; Angelo Cristaldi, 19, of Weldon; and Joseph Falk, 35, Philadelphia, were killed by cold or n storm accidents.

BUFFALO

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Light snows in western New York during the night turned to blizzards early today as a sudden storm swept out of the northwest. Weather bureau predictions were that the reading by nightfall would be below 10 above zero and by tomorrow morning country districts around Buffalo would have "zero or near zero weather."

HULL EXPECTED TO ISSUE STATEMENT

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 11.—(UP) — An important pronouncement on United States economic policy as it concerned Latin America today was expected after a series of conferences between Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other Pan American conference leaders.

Delegates had the idea that Hull would make a statement that might mark a step in the orientation of President Roosevelt's economic policies, with Argentina, Brazil and Chile, the "Big Three" South American republics, co-operating.

Only through education, he said, can nations achieve self-direction and self-control. He pointed out that a program that would define the rights of many as of greater importance than those of a favored few must "eventually lead to condition to peace at home and abroad."

Affairs in the Orient attracted the attention of speakers at today's session. Dr. John B. Appleton of Scripps college was to discuss "The Japanese Problems in Manchuria." Harry L. Kingman of the University of California chose as his subject, "The United States and the Far Eastern Crisis." International aspects of Adolph Hitler's policies were to be discussed by Dr. H. Arthur Steiner of the University of California at Los Angeles.

A record number of women are attending this year's session of the institute. Women organizations represented include the League of Women Voters, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Friday Morning Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Los Angeles Teachers Association.

Kansas City — Dollar business since Nov. 15 is 5 per cent behind 1932 but volume larger. Sales per unit about 20 per cent higher.

Pittsburgh—Volume of business expected to exceed 1932, perhaps by 20 per cent. Christmas funds probably will equal last year's.

Philadelphia—Large stores report about 10 per cent increase in business, expect a slightly larger total of volume this year.

San Francisco

San Francisco—Two leading department stores report business "a little better." Moderately priced articles selling better but expensive goods lagging. Community Chest raised 92.8 per cent of quota, compared with 93 per cent last year.

Seattle—Shopping 10 to 15 per cent ahead of 1932. Total expected to be 5 to 10 per cent higher. More buyers indicate greater spread in payrolls. Charities anticipate larger funds this year.

St. Louis — Volume of sales slightly higher; season's total expected to be higher. Usual charity contributions expected.

St. Paul—Buying shows decided drop, both in volume and dollar value. Season's total expected to drop below last year. Salvation Army and Volunteers of America report funds lagging.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES FOR JAFFEE TO BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION SKATER

IRVING JAFFEE

(At Right)—Again Jaffee makes a thrilling finish as he speeds to victory! Winner of 1,000 medals and trophies, including three Olympic Skating Championships, Jaffee has brought the highest skating honors to the U.S.A. Asked recently if he was a steady smoker, Jaffee said, "Yes—but that goes for Camels only. I have to keep my wind, you know, and healthy nerves."

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

You've often seen his name and picture in the papers—Jaffee, the city-bred boy from the U.S.A. who beat the best that Europe had to offer, and became the skating champion of the world! Speaking of speed skating and cigarettes, Jaffee says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

Change to Camels and note the difference in your nerves... in the pleasure you get from smoking! Camels are milder... have a better taste. They never upset your nerves. Begin today!

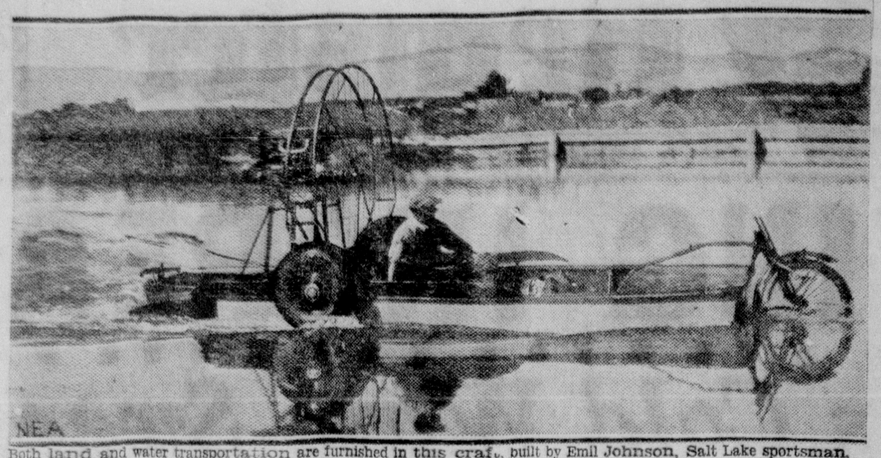
LAST DRY CASE TO COME BEFORE COURT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—The last case to be prosecuted here under the national prohibition law was to come before Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan when Richard Heddy, Nevada City restaurant operator, is arraigned in United States district court this week.

Ray T. Coughlin, attorney for Heddy, said he would seek dismissal of the case. Federal officials, however, intimated charges of violating the internal revenue law might be filed unless a plea was entrede to the prohibition charge.

Other cases on the calendar included arraignment of George W Kerr and William Barry, asserted members of an eastern gang held responsible for the $234,000 robbery of the Sacramento post office a year ago.

Land-Water Conveyance Is Hunter's Newest



Both land and water transportation are furnished in this craft, built by Emil Johnson, Salt Lake sportsman. An airplane propeller furnishes the motive power. The rubber wheels, used on land, are retracted in the water.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 11. (To the Editor of The Register:) Many a thing in our Sunday papers that showed a great picking up of things, and it was not ballyhoo, and not all government paid workers either. This thing of "We can't go ahead till we know exactly what our dollar is worth" is hooey. Your bankers and your financiers marry with no gold clause.

The preacher just guarantees you she is a wife; how long you can keep her, what she is worth to you, is all up to you. Roosevelt, like the preacher, says "Here is a dollar, it can always be used for a dollar."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FULLERTON BOY IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

to Fullerton to get medical aid for his companion, Charles Stone, who was cut by flying glass. Some time later, he said they both returned to the scene of the accident but found nothing to lead them to believe anyone had been hit.

No date has been set for an inquest by Coroner Earl Abbey. The body was taken to the McAuley and Suters funeral home pending funeral arrangements. The mother of the boy, Mrs. J. M. Bryan, was visiting in Las Vegas, Nevada, and arrived in Fullerton this morning after being summoned by authorities. The boy lived with his three brothers and sister with an uncle, Jesse L. Leach.

Two Men Hurt

Two men were hurt Saturday afternoon when cars driven by Eugene Jiminez, Tustin and William Fay, 1312 West Fifth street, collided at Second and Hesperian streets. One of the cars broke a fire plug after the impact and flooded the streets. No one except the drivers was injured.

A. J. Buchanan, 32, 211 1-2 Frankfort street, Huntington Beach, is in a serious condition in St. Joseph's hospital as the result of a motorcycle accident in Huntington Beach yesterday noon. Buchanan was riding the motor on Ocean avenue and collided with a truck owned by the Bruce Brothers Trucking company at Fifteenth street. He suffered a fractured right arm, possible internal injuries, severe head wounds and loss of blood. He was given first aid treatment at the Huntington Beach Emergency hospital and transferred to St. Joseph's hospital.

No one was hurt but Dewey Dreblow, 35, 1135 West Third street, was booked at the county jail for drunken driving as a result of a wreck at Fairview and Parton streets Sunday afternoon. Cars driven by Dreblow and M. U. Martin, 115 East Chestnut street, crashed at the intersection.

Fogs Cause Wrecks

In a peculiar series of accidents caused by heavy fog yesterday morning, three wrecks occurred within 30 minutes at Huntington Beach boulevard and Seventeenth streets, in which no one was hurt.

The first crash was at 8 a. m., when a car driven by G. W. Cheatham, 38, 313 West Broadway, Anaheim, crashed headon with a car driven by Roy C. Branchet, 41, Whittier. Cheatham had started to pass another car and did not see the Branchet machine approaching, it was learned from reports.

Twenty minutes later, a car driven by D. S. Beals, 32, Seattle, crashed into the back of a machine driven by Charles E Hart, 38, Pasadena. Hart had stopped for the boulevard stop and Beals, unfamiliar with the intersection, could not avoid the crash, reports said.

Ten minutes later, the third accident occurred in exactly the same manner as the second. Edward G. Enault, 35, R. D. 1, Box 314, Garden Grove, had stopped his car for the boulevard and was struck by K. Yoshioka, 44, Artesia. Both cars were proceeding south on Huntington Beach boulevard.

With more than 200,000 registered teachers out of jobs and thousands more working without salaries, most of the rest are receiving pay lower than the Blue Eagle minimum for common day laborers.

Chicago has been most publicized for its failure to pay teachers. One committed suicide because she was hungry. Others endured untold hardships. Nearly as bitter have been the experiences of school ma'ams in many other cities.

Average pay for a rural teacher this winter is $750 a year, but 84,000 will receive less than $450, while in at least 18 states teachers are being paid in warrants, cashable if at all at discounts ranging from 5 per cent up.

Salaries in many states have been reduced 20 to 40 per cent, while Michigan intends to lower the pay of her teachers 60 per cent unless more money, somehow, somewhere, is forthcoming.

"Had this crisis been precipitated upon us as suddenly and dramatically as in the case of the World war, or even as in the closing of banks from one end of the country to the other last spring, we doubtless should have been aroused to the necessity of doing something about it speedily, said Zook. "Like most other social ills, however, it has stolen upon us unawares.

"We find ourselves in the grip of a social difficulty from which we shall extricate ourselves only with great pain and effort.

NORTHWEST RIVERS INUNDATE HIGHWAYS

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Flood waters isolated sections of southwestern Washington today after a steady 48-hour rainfall swept the region and inundated the highways.

Aberdeen, Hoquiam, Kent, Auburn and other towns were cut off temporarily from the rest of the state when the Cowlitz river and other streams overflowed.

Red Cross workers rescued 275 families marooned by the high waters. Hundreds of homes were abandoned hastily in the North Kelso section. The Puyallup bridge was washed out.

Main highways from Seattle were blocked by flood waters and train traffic was cut off.

Property damage was estimated tentatively as more than a million dollars. No lives were lost, according to present reports.

ARREST THREE FOR THEFT OF DUMPED FRUIT

Three Mexicans were arrested by sheriff's officers last night on investigation of grand theft following reports from the California Orange Grfowers association that fruit was being stolen from the Santa Ana river dump during the night.

Officers Steve Duhart and Fred Swayze watched the dump Saturday night without result and had been on the job last night about an hour when a truck drove up and stopped. When taken in custody, the men said they were on their way to Corona to get a load of lemons and had stopped to fix a headlight, officers reported. The men were Leo Martinez, 23, Joe Garcia, 30 and Ramon Ortez, 29, all of Los Angeles.

FORT ERIE

FORT ERIE, Ont., Dec. 11. —(UP)—Blinding snow storms and extreme cold hampered search today for two occupants of a plane, missing on a short flight from Hamilton, Ont., to the local airport. The men were Bert Ashley, pilot, and Jack Nichols, passenger, both of Toronto.

Rescut planes were kept grounded by the storm.

PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Ice and snow forced two pilots for Transcontinental Western Airways to abandon their mail planes over the Allegheny mountains east of here last night.

The pilots, Dean Burford, 32, Columbus, O., and H. G. Andrews, 35, Newark, N. J., parachuted safely to earth, but their planes and the mail were lost.

HAMPDEN

HAMPDEN, Me., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Explosion of a steam heater was blamed today for a fire which enveloped the Paradise Dance hall last night, killing three marathon dancers and sending eight others to a hospital.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(UP)—New York City was covered today with a blanket of snow for the first time this season.

Three persons died of exposure.

The thermometer went down to 11. By 8 A. M., the fall was 1.3 inches.

PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—(UP)—A wintry blast that swept eastern states over the week-end caused eight deaths in this area and severe suffering from exposure and auto acicdents on icy streets.

Andrew Spittle, 60; an unidentified man; Alexander Steinberg, 40; nine-year-old Edna Delaney; John Shamrock, 30, Collegeville; George Tully, 52; Angelo Cristaldi, 19, of Weldon; and Joseph Falk, 35, Philadelphia, were killed by cold or n storm accidents.

BUFFALO

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Light snows in western New York during the night turned to blizzards early today as a sudden storm swept out of the northwest. Weather bureau predictions were that the reading by nightfall would be below 10 above zero and by tomorrow morning country districts around Buffalo would have "zero or near zero weather."

HULL EXPECTED TO ISSUE STATEMENT

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 11.—(UP) — An important pronouncement on United States economic policy as it concerned Latin America today was expected after a series of conferences between Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other Pan American conference leaders.

Delegates had the idea that Hull would make a statement that might mark a step in the orientation of President Roosevelt's economic policies, with Argentina, Brazil and Chile, the "Big Three" South American republics, co-operating.

Only through education, he said, can nations achieve self-direction and self-control. He pointed out that a program that would define the rights of many as of greater importance than those of a favored few must "eventually lead to condition to peace at home and abroad."

Affairs in the Orient attracted the attention of speakers at today's session. Dr. John B. Appleton of Scripps college was to discuss "The Japanese Problems in Manchuria." Harry L. Kingman of the University of California chose as his subject, "The United States and the Far Eastern Crisis." International aspects of Adolph Hitler's policies were to be discussed by Dr. H. Arthur Steiner of the University of California at Los Angeles.

A record number of women are attending this year's session of the institute. Women organizations represented include the League of Women Voters, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Friday Morning Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Los Angeles Teachers Association.

Kansas City — Dollar business since Nov. 15 is 5 per cent behind 1932 but volume larger. Sales per unit about 20 per cent higher.

Pittsburgh—Volume of business expected to exceed 1932, perhaps by 20 per cent. Christmas funds probably will equal last year's.

Philadelphia—Large stores report about 10 per cent increase in business, expect a slightly larger total of volume this year.

San Francisco

San Francisco—Two leading department stores report business "a little better." Moderately priced articles selling better but expensive goods lagging. Community Chest raised 92.8 per cent of quota, compared with 93 per cent last year.

Seattle—Shopping 10 to 15 per cent ahead of 1932. Total expected to be 5 to 10 per cent higher. More buyers indicate greater spread in payrolls. Charities anticipate larger funds this year.

St. Louis — Volume of sales slightly higher; season's total expected to be higher. Usual charity contributions expected.

St. Paul—Buying shows decided drop, both in volume and dollar value. Season's total expected to drop below last year. Salvation Army and Volunteers of America report funds lagging.

NO CHANGES MADE IN PRICE OF GOLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(UP)—The government today again set the price for newly-mined American gold at $34.01, continuing the quotation in effect since December 1.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

FOR JAFFEE TO BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION SKATER

IRVING JAFFEE

(At Right)—Again Jaffee makes a thrilling finish as he speeds to victory! Winner of 1,000 medals and trophies, including three Olympic Skating Championships, Jaffee has brought the highest skating honors to the U.S.A. Asked recently if he was a steady smoker, Jaffee said, "Yes—but that goes for Camels only. I have to keep my wind, you know, and healthy nerves."

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

You've often seen his name and picture in the papers—Jaffee, the city-bred boy from the U.S.A. who beat the best that Europe had to offer, and became the skating champion of the world! Speaking of speed skating and cigarettes, Jaffee says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

Change to Camels and note the difference in your nerves... in the pleasure you get from smoking! Camels are milder... have a better taste. They never upset your nerves. Begin today!

BIG RECREATION CENTER URGED BY SPEAKERS

A fund totaling $9750 already has been subscribed by leading citizens of Santa Ana to create a fund for the purchase of 20 acres of land which is proposed to be converted into a public park for the city, using labor and materials furnished by the government under the Civil Works Administration reemployment program.

This was learned today following a meeting of interested citizens in the courthouse this morning. The program is to get 100 men to underwrite the purchase of the land, each subscribing $250 to be called for at not more than $25 a year. Speakers at the meeting expressed the opinion that there is little doubt but that the necessary signatures to pledges can be obtained.

Because the project must be ready by December 15, J. S. Smart, chairman of the committee in charge of the park movement, stressed the importance fo rimmediate action to underwrite the project.

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger threw a dash of cold water on the enthusiasm of others, at the meeting by declaring himself against any increased costs or plans "to saddle the maintenance expense of a park on the city at this time." He said the city is not in a financial position to take on added costs.

Little Cost

Mayor Paul Witmer, in a statement made today, declared that maintenance of the park would cost the city little if anything. He pointed out that the government would furnish the shrubs, trees, materials and labor and that the regular city park crew, with perhaps the addition of one or two men transferred from other city departments, could do all the upkeep work on the park. "Now is the time to get a park for the city," he said. "It never could be obtained cheaper or under more favorable circumstances."

Several speakers stressed the desirability fo ra park in Santa Ana. The Rev. C. M. Aker, president of the Ministerial association, declared that a park would prove a great moral benefit to the city, pointing out that moral welfare of the city is essential to material welfare. "We think too much of suppression and elimination of vice," he said, "and too little of substitution."

Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, Santa Ana justice of the peace, offered strong support for the park program, declaring that it is of extreme importance to the community to teach children to play cleanly and fairly.

J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank, urged that Santa Ana, a city of 30,000 people, support a program to obtain a park.

M. B. Wellington offered his support if the program can be worked out satisfactorily.

Benefits Outlined

Chairman Smart outlined the program, pointing out that none of the money subscribed will be called for unless the movement is successful. Discussing the matter of sites for the park, he said several sites have been offered but the site would be determined by the group of 100 subscribers at a meeting in the near future if the program goes through. He stressed the moral and material benefits of keeping children off the streets and giving them opportunity for wholesome recreation, in the employment of hundreds of men and the excellent opportunity to secure a park at little cost.

O. E. Steward, Anaheim, gave facts and figures on the costs of the Anaheim City park, known as one of the finest in this section. He also stressed the value of the park to children and adults, declaring these benefits are hard to determine in dollars and cents.

Last year 100,000 attended ball games in the Anaheim park, he said, 150,000 used the picnic grounds and 40,000 atended city entertainments in the open air theater, in addition to those attending private or other events.

"The Anaheim city park," he asserted, is the outstanding attraction the city has to offer. It is the best thing we have in Anaheim, but it took long and hard work to get it."

With $99,600 as the original cost of the Anaheim 20-acre park site, he said, the total cost of development in a 13-year period has been $238,189. A total of 31,798 swimmers used the plunge during the year, he said, but as high as 50,000 have used it during a year.

S. A. One Of Pacific Coast Leaders

Santa Ana was included among the 25 leading cities on the Pacific Coast in volume of building permits issued during November, according to the Western Monthly Business Survey prepaed by the H. R. Baker and Co., announced today.

While permits from the 25 cities showed an 11 per cent increase in November over the preceding month in this year, a substantial decline was shown, however, from the totals of November, 1932. Santa Ana, with $14,381 for November this year, was one of eight cities which showed a gain over the same month last year, when the permits aggregated $9813.

Cities in the list included those in California, Washington, Oregon, British Columbia, Utah and Arizona.

STATE BROTHERHOOD OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR INITIATIVE ON LOCAL OPTION IN STATE

Representatives of California State Brotherhoods united in a program for consolidation of their forces in bringing to use the power of nitiative in restoration of local option in the state, at a rally held in Fullerton Saturday night.

This move for a united front on the liquor question was consumated at a meeting of directors and of representatives of the Brotherhoods at the Fullerton Baptist church, where Dr. A. M. Wilkinson, Beverly Hills physician, president of the Federated Brotherhoods, presented, and Eli R. Bush moved the adoption of a resolution restoring the right of local option.

This resolution is expected to be in churches of California by December 31, and the American Temperance Federation, formed, with the purpose in view of uniting all dry forces under one banner to give people the privilege of determining the question of whether certain communities may vote dry.

The initiative measure, originally sponsored by the Santa Ana Ministerial association, to be submitted to hte voters through the dry forces, it now in the hands of the attorney general, and provides that if a majority of qualified electors of any county, city and county, municipal corporation, assembly district, school district, supervisorial district or precinct desire local option, and so indicates with a ballot, it shall so be granted.

The whole board of the Federated Brotherhood united in backing the program as did the general assembly of representatives.

In the chief address of the evening, the Rev. Kelly O'Neall, pastor of the First Christian church of Huntington Park, urged the men to assume a standard of militant helpfulness, especially in this time of stress, and to make the church a friend of the working man.

"Men are in want and in confusion; men are next door to rebellious against the whole world, and it is simply terrible to find that they are thinking that the public press and the church are enemies of the working man," he said. "I am sorry conditions are existent that cause these men to have reason to so believe of the church, and I want the Brotherhood and the church to be a friend to these working peoples," he said, drawing attention to the need of realizing that Jesus Christ was a friend of the working man, and a sufferer with humanity.

"Militant helpfulness" was one of the phases of Brotherhood he drew forth, while other phases he dwelt on were "appreciation, a valuing of mankind;" "sympathy and understanding, a sharing of the sorrows of all" and "tolerance."

Backs President

Like J. F. Burke, Santa Ana, who introduced him and who also gave a short talk, he urged the backing of President Roosevelt in his program of "squaring life to the ideals of Christ."

The program opened with a dinner, served by women of the Baptist church. W. P. Willimott presided. After dinner, the Rev. Grover Ralston led in opening prayer, and Mayor William Hale welcomed the large assembly to the city, on behalf of the city, while the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the host church, welcomed the group on behalf of the churches. E. Y. Porter of Riverside, a director, responded.

A. W. Purdy, Albert Sitton and Ed Moore, members of the Baptist Brotherhood, were introduced as those in charge of the entertainment.

Burke spoke on the need of all church groups cooperating in forward movements, and of rallying behind a united leadership, declaring that the battle for prohibition was lost because of lack of single leadership. He said the presentation of his economic and social ideals makes President Roosevelt a leader of power, and presents a challenge that spells obligation and discrimination, a challenge difficult to follow.

Others introduced who gave short talks were Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam, who in a short talk drew attention to a "state and nation, trembling in the balance, and with such surrounding, needing as a cure such groups carrying out principles for which the Brotherhood stands."

W. J. Carmichael, the Rev. Dr. Frank Dowling, Hugh Gibson, organizer of Sunday school work in Southern California, the ministers and the directors present all were introduced. Under direction of P. C. Beach of La Habra, community singing was indulged, and a quartet from the La Habra Methodist church presented a group of numbers. E. E. Covert of Glendale, one of the originators of the plan of initiative measure, was present and spoke on the initiative petition.

BIDS OPENED ON SITE FOR P. O. BUILDING

Bids on a site for a new postoffice to be erected in Orange were opened at the Orange post office this morning by Postmaster W. O. Hart. Prices asked for the site range from $3600 to $15,000. The post office and site are to cost $64,000.

Bids received were as follows: Ed Honey, two lots on the southeast corner of Almond avenue and Harwood street, with a frontage of 97 feet on Almond and 135 feet on Harwood, $7500; G. T. St. John's Lutheran church through Fred H. Gerdes, president of the church board, made three alternate bids on a site at the corner of Almond avenue and Olive street. The site is that of the old Lutheran church school. The first bid calls for $5000 for lots 16, 17 and 18, the second for $6000 for lots 19 and 20, and the third lumps the entire property in a bid for $10,000.

Bids were sent to Washington following the opening.

RUSSIAN LAW SUBJECT FOR FORUM MEET

"The Legal System of the Soviets" is the subject announced by Dr. Frederick W. Roman for Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at his forum in the Temple theater. This subject is expected to be of especial interest since the recognition of Russia as the haziest of ideas exists in the United States in regard to Soviet law, according to Dr. Roman.

Dr. Roman's recent visit to Russia where he saw the system in operation and his association with men who have made a considerable study from the lawyer's viewpoint have fitted him to present a popular description of this subject, according to Harry Gerhart, Forum director.

"The Soviets do not hold that all citizens are equal before the law. Equality dose not exist either in theory or in practice," says Dr. Roman. "The justice practiced is class justice. The workers are given a preference over all others or professional men, these in turn are more favored than shopkeepers and 'non-toilers.' Members of the Communist party in Russia are the most severely judged of all and the penalties are the greater upon them."

The first hour of the evening will be devoted to a current event's discussion under the general heading of "Tomorrow." The public is invited to the lecture and forum for which there is no charge.

BIG RECREATION CENTER URGED BY SPEAKERS

A fund totaling $9750 already has been subscribed by leading citizens of Santa Ana to create a fund for the purchase of 20 acres of land which is proposed to be converted into a public park for the city, using labor and materials furnished by the government under the Civil Works Administration reemployment program.

This was learned today following a meeting of interested citizens in the courthouse this morning. The program is to get 100 men to underwrite the purchase of the land, each subscribing $250 to be called for at not more than $25 a year. Speakers at the meeting expressed the opinion that there is little doubt but that the necessary signatures to pledges can be obtained.

Because the project must be ready by December 15, J. S. Smart, chairman of the committee in charge of the park movement, stressed the importance fo rimmediate action to underwrite the project.

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger threw a dash of cold water on the enthusiasm of others, at the meeting by declaring himself against any increased costs or plans "to saddle the maintenance expense of a park on the city at this time." He said the city is not in a financial position to take on added costs.

Little Cost

Mayor Paul Witmer, in a statement made today, declared that maintenance of the park would cost the city little if anything. He pointed out that the government would furnish the shrubs, trees, materials and labor and that the regular city park crew, with perhaps the addition of one or two men transferred from other city departments, could do all the upkeep work on the park. "Now is the time to get a park for the city," he said. "It never could be obtained cheaper or under more favorable circumstances."

Several speakers stressed the desirability fo ra park in Santa Ana. The Rev. C. M. Aker, president of the Ministerial association, declared that a park would prove a great moral benefit to the city, pointing out that moral welfare of the city is essential to material welfare. "We think too much of suppression and elimination of vice," he said, "and too little of substitution."

Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, Santa Ana justice of the peace, offered strong support for the park program, declaring that it is of extreme importance to the community to teach children to play cleanly and fairly.

J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank, urged that Santa Ana, a city of 30,000 people, support a program to obtain a park.

M. B. Wellington offered his support if the program can be worked out satisfactorily.

Benefits Outlined

Chairman Smart outlined the program, pointing out that none of the money subscribed will be called for unless the movement is successful. Discussing the matter of sites for the park, he said several sites have been offered but the site would be determined by the group of 100 subscribers at a meeting in the near future if the program goes through. He stressed the moral and material benefits of keeping children off the streets and giving them opportunity for wholesome recreation, in the employment of hundreds of men and the excellent opportunity to secure a park at little cost.

O. E. Steward, Anaheim, gave facts and figures on the costs of the Anaheim City park, known as one of the finest in this section. He also stressed the value of the park to children and adults, declaring these benefits are hard to determine in dollars and cents.

Last year 100,000 attended ball games in the Anaheim park, he said, 150,000 used the picnic grounds and 40,000 atended city entertainments in the open air theater, in addition to those attending private or other events.

"The Anaheim city park," he asserted, is the outstanding attraction the city has to offer. It is the best thing we have in Anaheim, but it took long and hard work to get it."

With $99,600 as the original cost of the Anaheim 20-acre park site, he said, the total cost of development in a 13-year period has been $238,189. A total of 31,798 swimmers used the plunge during the year, he said, but as high as 50,000 have used it during a year.

S. A. One Of Pacific Coast Leaders

Santa Ana was included among the 25 leading cities on the Pacific Coast in volume of building permits issued during November, according to the Western Monthly Business Survey prepaed by the H. R. Baker and Co., announced today.

While permits from the 25 cities showed an 11 per cent increase in November over the preceding month in this year, a substantial decline was shown, however, from the totals of November, 1932. Santa Ana, with $14,381 for November this year, was one of eight cities which showed a gain over the same month last year, when the permits aggregated $9813.

Cities in the list included those in California, Washington, Oregon, British Columbia, Utah and Arizona.

STATE BROTHERHOOD OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR INITIATIVE ON LOCAL OPTION IN STATE

Representatives of California State Brotherhoods united in a program for consolidation of their forces in bringing to use the power of nitiative in restoration of local option in the state, at a rally held in Fullerton Saturday night.

This move for a united front on the liquor question was consumated at a meeting of directors and of representatives of the Brotherhoods at the Fullerton Baptist church, where Dr. A. M. Wilkinson, Beverly Hills physician, president of the Federated Brotherhoods, presented, and Eli R. Bush moved the adoption of a resolution restoring the right of local option.

This resolution is expected to be in churches of California by December 31, and the American Temperance Federation, formed, with the purpose in view of uniting all dry forces under one banner to give people the privilege of determining the question of whether certain communities may vote dry.

The initiative measure, originally sponsored by the Santa Ana Ministerial association, to be submitted to hte voters through the dry forces, it now in the hands of the attorney general, and provides that if a majority of qualified electors of any county, city and county, municipal corporation, assembly district, school district, supervisorial district or precinct desire local option, and so indicates with a ballot, it shall so be granted.

The whole board of the Federated Brotherhood united in backing the program as did the general assembly of representatives.

In the chief address of the evening, the Rev. Kelly O'Neall, pastor of the First Christian church of Huntington Park, urged the men to assume a standard of militant helpfulness, especially in this time of stress, and to make the church a friend of the working man.

"Men are in want and in confusion; men are next door to rebellious against the whole world, and it is simply terrible to find that they are thinking that the public press and the church are enemies of the working man," he said. "I am sorry conditions are existent that cause these men to have reason to so believe of the church, and I want the Brotherhood and the church to be a friend to these working peoples," he said, drawing attention to the need of realizing that Jesus Christ was a friend of the working man, and a sufferer with humanity.

"Militant helpfulness" was one of the phases of Brotherhood he drew forth, while other phases he dwelt on were "appreciation, a valuing of mankind;" "sympathy and understanding, a sharing of the sorrows of all" and "tolerance."

Backs President

Like J. F. Burke, Santa Ana, who introduced him and who also gave a short talk, he urged the backing of President Roosevelt in his program of "squaring life to the ideals of Christ."

The program opened with a dinner, served by women of the Baptist church. W. P. Willimott presided. After dinner, the Rev. Grover Ralston led in opening prayer, and Mayor William Hale welcomed the large assembly to the city, on behalf of the city, while the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the host church, welcomed the group on behalf of the churches. E. Y. Porter of Riverside, a director, responded.

A. W. Purdy, Albert Sitton and Ed Moore, members of the Baptist Brotherhood, were introduced as those in charge of the entertainment.

Burke spoke on the need of all church groups cooperating in forward movements, and of rallying behind a united leadership, declaring that the battle for prohibition was lost because of lack of single leadership. He said the presentation of his economic and social ideals makes President Roosevelt a leader of power, and presents a challenge that spells obligation and discrimination, a challenge difficult to follow.

Others introduced who gave short talks were Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam, who in a short talk drew attention to a "state and nation, trembling in the balance, and with such surrounding, needing as a cure such groups carrying out principles for which the Brotherhood stands."

W. J. Carmichael, the Rev. Dr. Frank Dowling, Hugh Gibson, organizer of Sunday school work in Southern California, the ministers and the directors present all were introduced. Under direction of P. C. Beach of La Habra, community singing was indulged, and a quartet from the La Habra Methodist church presented a group of numbers. E. E. Covert of Glendale, one of the originators of the plan of initiative measure, was present and spoke on the initiative petition.

St. John's Lutheran church through Fred H. Gerdes, president of the church board, made three alternate bids on a site at the corner of Almond avenue and Olive street. The site is that of the old Lutheran church school. The first bid calls for $5000 for lots 16, 17 and 18, the second for $6000 for lots 19 and 20, and the third lumps the entire property in a bid for $10,000.

Bids were sent to Washington following the opening.

RUSSIAN LAW SUBJECT FOR FORUM MEET

"The Legal System of the Soviets" is the subject announced by Dr. Frederick W. Roman for Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at his forum in the Temple theater. This subject is expected to be of especial interest since the recognition of Russia as the haziest of ideas exists in the United States in regard to Soviet law, according to Dr. Roman.

Dr. Roman's recent visit to Russia where he saw the system in operation and his association with men who have made a considerable study from the lawyer's viewpoint have fitted him to present a popular description of this subject, according to Harry Gerhart, Forum director.

"The Soviets do not hold that all citizens are equal before the law. Equality dose not exist either in theory or in practice," says Dr. Roman. "The justice practiced is class justice. The workers are given a preference over all others or professional men, these in turn are more favored than shopkeepers and 'non-toilers.' Members of the Communist party in Russia are the most severely judged of all and the penalties are the greater upon them."

The first hour of the evening will be devoted to a current event's discussion under the general heading of "Tomorrow." The public is invited to the lecture and forum for which there is no charge.

NINE BOOKED AT BASTILE ON BOOZE COUNTS

Three men charged with drunken driving and six with drunkenness were booked by county officers over the weekend with seven being book at the county jail and two in Anaheim.

Dewey Dreblow, 35, 1135 West Third street, was booked for drunk driving at 4:45 p. m. Sunday after his car and a machine driven by M. U. Martin, 115 East Chestnut street, collided at Fairview and Parton streets. Dreblow admitted drinking whiskey ,officers said, and was taken to the jail by Officer Harry Prichard. No one was hurt in the crash although the cars were damaged.

Jack Metzgar, 23, Los Angeles salesman, was arrested for drunk driving, and Roy Wilks, 25, his companion living at the same address, was charged with drunkenness after being stopped by Chief John Stanton of Tustin at 3:50 p. m. yesterday on the state highway. Metzgar was pronounced intoxicated by a physician, was released on $250 bail and will appear in the Tustin justice court tomorrow at 2 p. m. Wilks is being held in the county jail and will be arraigned this afternoon.

J. A. Gil Hatcher, 42, Los Angeles, was arrested for drunken driving in Anaheim yesterday morning and was scheduled to appear today before Judge Frank Tausch. He was taken in custody on South Lemon street after reports were made that he was driving from side to side of the road.

Louie Carisoza, 48, 311 Lacy street, Santa Ana, was booked Saturday afternoon by Santa Ana police after Fred Rowland, living near McClay street and the Santa Fe railroad, said that a drunken man was begging for food. Carisoza was released from the county jail Friday after serving a 7 1-2 day sentence on a bench warrant from Judge J. G. Mitchell for failing to pay a $15 fine for drunkenness. Before starting that sentence, he was committed to the jail on another drunk charge and has been confined many times for the same offense during recent months.

F. R. Clayton, 45, and Virlie Kelly, 27, both of Orange, were booked for intoxication by Officers A. H. Westermann and John Eltiste Saturday night.

S. A. Etchemol, 57, 1535 West First street, found by officers in a gutter on Daisy street between First and Second, was taken to the county jail at 5:15 a. m. yesterday by Officers F. L. Grouard and R. S. Elliott.

Arrested after reports had been made to police that a drunken man peering into windows near Edinger and Parton street, Charles Rodriguez, 23, 2237 South Olive street, was booked at the jail at 7 o'clock last night by Officers Harry Prichard and Roy Hartley. Rodriguez fought the officers, escaped from the police car and was finally recaptured after a chase. He was charged with intoxication and resisting an officer and may be accused as a "peeping Tom."

Louis Schaeffer, 45, transient, as arrested for intoxication in Anaheim Saturday night and held in jail until today, when he appeared in the Anaheim police court.

MOTION PICTURE INFLUENCES DISCUSSED BY S. A. PASTORS; CONDITION HELD A CHALLENGE

The effects of motion pictures on character, social problems and education were discussed from the pulpits of two Santa Ana churches yesterday, in sermons which referred to recent scientific studies of the effect of the movies on children, and which urged changes to create a more wholesome influence.

THE MOVIES ARE WITH US

By Harry Evan Owings, Minister

The movies are with us and are to stay as a permanent social force. They represent one of the mightiest and most deeply entrenched industries. To attempt to abolish them even if we wanted to do so is to put ourselves in the position of King Knute attempting to stay the advance of the ocean.

Likewise it is an inadequate way of dealing with the undesirable and harmful phases of the movies to engage in a wholesale and unqualified denunciation along with out-and-out withdrawal of all of our patronage from any and all performances. We may only then be trying Pilate-like to wash our hands of a situation that requires more positive action than that if we are to do our full duty.

Many people are trying to be painstakingly discriminating about the performances they attend, are recognizing and apreciating the wholesome and uplifting features of the movies, and are very much concerned about the objectionable features and productions of which there are plenty. Many have been distinctly helped by pictures like "The Man Who Played God," "So Big," Will Rogers' "Too Busy to Work" and "Dr. Bull."

At the same time the advertising and the pictures themselves disclose that there are far too many productions that are objectionable and decidedly unwholesome especially for children and adolescent young people. Nor do the elders escape the baneful effect. There is an excessive play upon and playing up of sex. Illicit love is portrayed with unrestrained freedom. Crime scenes and villainous characters are presented frequently and many times in alluring way.

And one feels that all too much of its is planned to please the low desire and taste on the vulgar level rather than to cultivate the higher tastes and to lift the level of our desires. Box office receipts and not good citizenship is frequently if not predominantly the major consideration.

What may we do about the situation that is constructive and purifying? Four lines of effort we may suggest:

1. We must inform ourselves fully and intelligently upon this important matter. We may read the informing articles in the magazines, such articles as Eastman's "Your Child and the Movies," and the study contained under the head of "Our Movie Made Children" by Henry James Forman. We may cooperate with the local managers and discuss the matter with them in friendly and sympathetic not antagonistic spirit.

3. We must aid in the creation of about this matter. We must be careful and discriminating in our tastes and selections. We must hold to a high standard for ourselves and for our children and cause our community to demand pictures on a consistently high level. Under the pressure of the vulgar and the sensual, the cheap and the harmful we must not allow our finer appreciations and demands to droop. We must be jealous for our homes and our community in this as in other respects.

We must aid in the creation of a strong public opinion on the matter, helping to educate the public as to the problems involved through the medium of churches, Sunday school classes, women's clubs, service clubs, Parent-Teacher associations, and such like. Serious and unprejudiced consideration of the subject should be engaged in by such bodies.

4. We must join in the support of larger movements that look to the social control of the industry at the source. Certain elements can be controlled and regulated only there. Three lines of activity are before us and are being promoted; one, to encourage and persuade producers to prepare pictures with good citizenship in mind rather than the making of money; second, to supplant the block-booking system with some other that is fairer both to exhibitors and to their clientele; and third, to secure the aid of the state department in checking films going from the country that may misrepresent our country or give other peoples an attitude other than good will toward us.

If the movies then are with us to stay we want to bend our every effort to use them for the building of our children, ourselves and society.

OUR CHILDREN AND THE MOVIES

By O. Scott McFarland, Minister First Presbyterian Cchurch

If we were to know the facts, we should be forced to admit that one of the great factors in the overthrow of prohibition can be traced to the moving picture. We have grown a group of young men and young women who know nothing about saloons. The impression given in the movie is that everybody drinks. We have taught in homes, school and churches, all the evils of intemperence. We have tried to say to youth, "Liquor is a destroyer of manhood and womanhood." Yet the movie presents a new standard of human values.

Remember this, more young people under the age of 21 years are exposed to the motion picture screen every week than are exposed to our religious influence in all our Sunday schools and churches in the nation, in a week. These figures are actual statistics compiled by unprejudiced representatives from seven of our greatest universities. Not by preachers, not by men with interests in the motion picture as an industry, but professors of sociology who look upon the subject as a problem of society.

The results of this survey is 12 volumes published by the MacMillan Publishing company. The last volume of this set, which summarizes the study of the influence of the movie, is called "Our Movie-Made Children." This book is a menace to the industry. When its contents became widely known to our thinking people, they will be more than ever incensed and fight against the evils of the impressions made by the average story on the screen. We have a right and an obligation to see what influence the movies have upon these millions of our youth.

The motion picture is here to stay. It is the fourth largest industry in the world today. It has brought the world its greatest opportunity for public education. Through the eye, and not the ear, are the most permanent impressions made upon the human mind. There have been some great moving pictures. What is the ideal of a good motion picture? The program in the past has amounted to profit only. A fellow churchman may have been elected to act upon the board of censors. His work, we find, has only been a further protection to the huge profits of the industry. The ideal picture should be a source of recreation, filled with poetry, art, literature, and science, so that we should procure from the movie, clean ideals, and the inspiration that we get from a good book, or play; an interpretation of real human values.

The impression of the motion picture is so vivid that the same care should be taken with its production as the most inspired teacher would take to convey a thought to the mind of a child. The motion picture has infinite possibilities for good.

Dr. Dale, of Ohio State university, who was one of the seven working on the survey, visited several institutions both for men and for delinquent girls. His questions brought him to these results: 50 per cent of our pictures produced, deal first with sex, second with crime, and third, with violence. The influence the imagination has upon personality, attitudes, conduct, and thinking, is a well known and acknowledged fact. It has much to do with the building of character.

Must the impressionable imaginations of youth find on the screen, pictures portraying immorality, crime, kidnaping, murder, drinking and violence? Yet we are constantly admonished in our religious education not to present our ideas with too much accent upon the emotional approach. Out of 122 heads of institutions for the delinquent, 48 per cent said that the movie certainly contributed to the crimes of many of their charges, and in a number of cases, the actual pattern of the execution of the crime could be traced to a screen crime story.

We are face to face with a situation that demands attention. It is a challenge to parents, educators, schools, parent teachers, associations, and youth itself. From this day on let them stand for what is clean and good and pure.

Hatless Fad Reported To Be Waning

Hatless fads for collegians and high school youths are rapidly disappearing, according to Santa Ana clothiers, who have noticed a distinct trend here for the young men to wear hats.

The hatless fad, said to have been started in 1925 by Abraham Vogel, a bald-headed little publicity seeker who said it would help to grow new hair, actually has been proved to be an active cause of much scalp trouble and premature baldness, it was stated.

Dr. Chales F. Pabst, chief dermatologist of Greenpoint hospital, said over-exposure of the head to the sun's rays often leads to complete loss of hari.

SCREEN THIEF RAIDS ORANGE OVER WEEK END

A number of burglaries were committed in Orange over the week end, and in each case the thief gained entrance by cutting window screens. Seven of the robberies occurred before 8:30 p. m. Saturday and one was at the hime of H. Wynecken, 427 North Orange street, Sunday afternoon between 2 and 9 p.m. At the latter home small change and a dress shirt were stolen.

Homes burglarized Saturday were those of W. H. Hall, 275 North Shaffer street, hand bag and purse taken; purse found at 235 North Shaffer street, with the contents, $5, missing; Ambrose Otte, 313 North Center street, purse, ring with green setting, value $15; one yellow gold bracelet, value, $10; one rosary, gold, value, $5, purse found on West Collins avenue; C. Fuerstenau, 262 North Orange street, house ransacked but nothing missing.

F. D. Batchelor, 339 North Olive street, purse taken containing 30 cents; purse found near J. F. Tibbets' home, 333 North Center street, where rear porch screen was cut out but home not entered.

Mrs. Clara Elliott, 262 North Olive street, house ransacked but nothing missing; Mrs. A. W. Chastain, 334 North Harwood street, brown purse with 11 cents missing; Mrs. Velma Sansted, 140 South Clark street, who was staying at 389 North Olive street, lost tooled black leather purse and its contents, one $20 bill, one $10 bill, two $5 bills, cashier's check for $60 or $70, two books of stamps, receipted bills and other minor articles.

Chief of Police B. F. Richards and Officers A. H. Westermann and John Eltiste are investigating the thefts. It is believed that the thief may be the one who visited a number of Fullerton homes Friday night. Entrance to five Fullerton homes was gained through windows after the screens had been cut.

Must the impressionable imaginations of youth find on the screen, pictures portraying immorality, crime, kidnaping, murder, drinking and violence? Yet we are constantly admonished in our religious education not to present our ideas with too much accent upon the emotional approach. Out of 122 heads of institutions for the delinquent, 48 per cent said that the movie certainly contributed to the crimes of many of their charges, and in a number of cases, the actual pattern of the execution of the crime could be traced to a screen crime story.

We are face to face with a situation that demands attention. It is a challenge to parents, educators, schools, parent teachers, associations, and youth itself. From this day on let them stand for what is clean and good and pure.

Hatless Fad Reported To Be Waning

Hatless fads for collegians and high school youths are rapidly disappearing, according to Santa Ana clothiers, who have noticed a distinct trend here for the young men to wear hats.

The hatless fad, said to have been started in 1925 by Abraham Vogel, a bald-headed little publicity seeker who said it would help to grow new hair, actually has been proved to be an active cause of much scalp trouble and premature baldness, it was stated.

Dr. Chales F. Pabst, chief dermatologist of Greenpoint hospital, said over-exposure of the head to the sun's rays often leads to complete loss of hari.

SCREEN THIEF RAIDS ORANGE OVER WEEK END

A number of burglaries were committed in Orange over the week end, and in each case the thief gained entrance by cutting window screens. Seven of the robberies occurred before 8:30 p. m. Saturday and one was at the hime of H. Wynecken, 427 North Orange street, Sunday afternoon between 2 and 9 p. m. At the latter home small change and a dress shirt were stolen.

Homes burglarized Saturday were those of W. H. Hall, 275 North Shaffer street, hand bag and purse taken; purse found at 235 North Shaffer street, with the contents, $5, missing; Ambrose Otte, 313 North Center street, purse, ring with green setting, value $15; one yellow gold bracelet, value, $10; one rosary, gold, value, $5, purse found on West Collins avenue; C. Fuerstenau, 262 North Orange street, house ransacked but nothing missing.

F. D. Batchelor, 339 North Olive street, purse taken containing 30 cents; purse found near J. F. Tibbets' home, 333 North Center street, where rear porch screen was cut out but home not entered.

Mrs. Clara Elliott, 262 North Olive street, house ransacked but nothing missing; Mrs. A. W. Chastain, 334 North Harwood street, brown purse with 11 cents missing; Mrs. Velma Sansted, 140 South Clark street, who was staying at 389 North Olive street, lost tooled black leather purse and its contents, one $20 bill, one $10 bill, two $5 bills, cashier's check for $60 or $70, two books of stamps, receipted bills and other minor articles.

Chief of Police B. F. Richards and Officers A. H. Westermann and John Eltiste are investigating the thefts. It is believed that the thief may be the one who visited a number of Fullerton homes Friday night. Entrance to five Fullerton homes was gained through windows after the screens had been cut.

SCHEDULES ON LIQUOR CASE BAIL REVEALED

When a Santa Monica judge announced recently that he was raising bail bond amounts for offenses involving liquor violations, a survey of the Santa Ana justice and police courts revealed that Judge Kenneth Morrison's schedule is far above the beach judge already and that Judge J. G. Mitchell's is below.

Police Judge W. Blair Gibbens of Santa Monica said that his new schedule is as follows: driving while intoxicated, $500 bail; reckless driving where liquor is involved, but no one injured, $200; where anyone is injured, $350, and drunk in auto, $50.

Judge Morrison reported his schedule as: $1000 on driving drunk; $500 for reckless driving where someone is hurt, $50 for drunkenness and $50 for reckless driving where liquor is involved. He pointed out that a driver cited for reckless driving where no one is hurt cannot be held in jail but is given five days to answer a court summons.

Judge Mitchell said that his drunk driving bail is $200 and drunkenness, $25. In reckless driving cases, a ticket is issued and no bail required.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT BAZAAR IN SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 11.—Home talent of San Clemente presented a program Friday evening at the Christmas bazaar held by the Solano club in the social clubhouse. The program was as follows:

Piano solo, "La Lison Jera," Chaminade, Mrs. Clara Berg; vocal solo, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Thurlow Lieurtence, Mrs. C. W. May; violin solo, "Cavellero Rusticano," Stanley Gajeski; piano solo, "Valse Caprice," Rowland, Jackie Virginia Robertson; saxophone solo, "Maritana," Wallace, Thierry Rogers; vocal solos, "Gianina Mia" and "The Old Spinning Wheel", Betty Hopkins; clarinet solo, "Simple Aveu," Francis Thome, Trixie Ferguson.

Piano solo, "Country Garden," Granger, Jackie Virginia Robertson; vocal solo, "My Lindy Lou," Strickland, Mrs. C W. May; readings, "Aux Italiens" and "Lessons With the Fan," Mrs. W. Ed. Edwards; clarinet solo, "Orange Blossoms," Arthur Brooke, Trixie Ferguson; piano solo, Mrs. Julia I. Chalk. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. Julia Dettmers and Jackie Virginia Robertson.

The bazaar was in charge of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Clara Berg, Mrs. E. L. Holloway and Mrs. T. C. Bowles. Mrs. E. R. Bartlett was in charge of the fancy work and Mrs. Hunter of the candy. W. Ed Edwards and E. L. Holoway served as auctioneers in disposing of leftovers.

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

MONETARY

Barring unexpected developments in the national arena you are going to wait for the much-wanted word of authority on administration monetary plans until President Roosevelt delivers his annual message to congress.

There is every indication the New Dealers have been committed to deepest silence on where we go from here. The President himself has no speaking engagements of consequence in the interim.

That shoves off disclosure of the next step to the first week in January.

* * *

Orders have gone out quietly from the White House to devote the next 20 days to more clearly defining the accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration to date.

Statisticians are burning the midnight oil producing figures on economic gains manufactured by NRA, PWA, CWA, AAA, FERA, FACA and so on through the alphabet.

* * *

BACK-PEDAL

General Johnson's recent change in tactics is an illustration.

If you recall he begged recently in a Philadelphia speech for criticism of NRA machinery, stating he was committed only to the general principle. A few weeks ago he'd have bitten the head off of anyone brash enough to suggest all was not running smoothly.

As the time aproaches for a formal report of stewardship the New Deal wants to know exactly what it's up against in the way of popular reaction.

* * *

COUZENS

Senator Couzens' opposition to Martin Conboy is NOT going to stop Senate confirmation of the former Roosevelt attorney as U. S. Attorney for New York.

The Michigan Senator has served notice he will oppose the man who acted as counsel for the President during the Jimmy Walker proceedings because Conboy more recently has been counsel for Albert H. Wiggin, deposed head of the Chase National Bank.

There are too many lawyers in the Senate who hold that one of their profession is entitled to represent any client within reason. So Couzens can't stage much of a fight.

* * *

Even though only a handful of Senators rally with Couzens to vote against Conboy for the New York job the little group of opponents hopes to focus attention on one growing evil.

That is the general practice in Washington of purchasing real of supposed influence. They will say Wiggin may have engaged Conboy to guide him through the painful disclosures before the Senate Banking committee esolely on his merits as an attorney. They'll add that Wiggin also may have retained him because he is a friend of the President.

SPEECH

A vice president of a national corporation timidly approached the Secretary of a midwestern Senator recently. Who, he inquired, were the Senator's closest friends. It finally developed he wanted to invite the Senator to make a speech somewhere. He had been assured the only way one may see a member of that august body was to work through some intimate.

The corporation official was aghast when the secretary ushered him in without cost or trouble.

* * *

SAVED

Another senatorial secretary was visited by a friend whose business had run afoul of an unfair trade practice ruling by the Federal Trade Commission.

The unfortunate's lawyer had advised him to stay away from Washington while the case went to court and then to appeal. The business man didn't want to go to court and come here on a forlorn hope.

His friend, the senatorial secretary, suggested if he were willing to open his books and work out a fair adjustment of conditions with the Trade Commissioners a hearing probably could be arranged.

It was expressly stipulated the secretary would attempt to use no influence other than to arrange a hearing for a constituent. It was held the next morning and the business man agreed to straighten out his operations to meet Commission requirements.

Later the manufacturer revealed he had budgeted $35,000 against legal expenses for the court proceedings he didn't want.

* * *

FEES

These are only two examples of the misapprehension big business men labor under in the matter of hiring Washington "influence" or being afraid to come here without such "influence."

Some mighty fat fees are being collected in this town daily. Maybe the collectors work while everybody else sleeps but no great display of energy is noticeable on their part in office hours.

Not even into the wee hours when they finally go home from their parties.

* * *

HOOK-UP

A plan is being cooked up to have an Administrator of Communications.

He would function for telegraph, telephone and radio companies much as Co-ordinator Eastman does for the railroads.

A committee under Secretary of Commerce Roper is working the problem out. Recommendations probably will be forthcoming to Congress.

Some fine points have to be decided first. Wireless men don't want the broadcasting end of radio included in the setup. The telephone already being a monopoly there is also considerable agitation to confine the co-ordinating to telegraph and wireless.

Unsuccessful efforts have been made in the past to get legislation permitting merging of the telegraph companies with at least one radio connection.

The telegraph companies aren't making money. The Co-ordinator idea may be the solution.

NOTES

The Department of Labor's cost-of-living report on government employes will be ready for President Roosevelt by December 20. . . . It is being predicted that on the strength of it Mr. Roosevelt will move to restore that 15 per cent pay cut as a sort of Christmas present. . . . The restoration probably will apply only to those making $2500 or $2000 and less . . . Charles Hart, retiring Minister to Persia, says he found a room full of applicants for his job in the State Department. . . . Each, according to Charles, offered as qualification the information they could swing the job if Hart could.

CONTROL

Stock Exchange authorities are making a last-ditch drive to steer forthcoming Congressional regulation into their own channel. That's why all the secret conferences with the committee appointed by Secretary Roper. The big hope is to work out a program which Congress will accept.

The question of pools run by non-members bothers the Exchange heads more than anything else. Every control measure they have tried in this direction has been so much water over the dam. There is reason to believe that the Exchange would not object if Congress did find a way of coping with this type of speculative manipulation and would cooperate by voluntarily opening its members' books.

A pool to be really successful must have inside knowledge from the book of the specialist handling the stock. Stricter control over specialists may furnish an answer satisfactory to everyone except the pool participants.

* * *

GOOD WILL

A large New York bank recently sent men out for personal solicitation of new accounts through Manhattan and Brooklyn. The real object was to find out whether there was as much hostility to Wall Street in its home town as was generally reported. The solicitors came back with quite a bit of new business and mostly recorded a friendly reception. The bank was delighted.

An observer comments they should have tried soliciting business in California or Alabama or Ohio.

* * *

INSURANCE

New York gets word that the deposit insurance situation is greatly improved among a number of small banks in the mid-West and South. Farmers who have received government loans and bonuses are using the money to pay their debts and their banks are much better qualified to pass an insurance examination than they were a few weeks ago.

It looks as if all banks now open will be made eligible for insurance in January with modifications of the system to come before July.

* * *

SUBWAYS

Mayor-elect LaGuardia will find New York subway finances riding his neck harder than any other problem. Rigid economies in Police, Fire and Health Departments might save seven million dollars—which would be grass seed as long as the subway deficit drains the budget. He hasn't a prayer of making both ends meet while the situation persists.

The seven-cent fare is the only way out. Assuming the same number of riders, this is estimated to yield forty million a year in additional revenue. This relief to the budget would in turn make refinancing of city obligations possible on easier terms with the prospect of saving another sixty million a year in interest charges because of improved credit. That would put Fusion on easy street.

Watch for action on this line within the first six months of LaGuardia's administration. The sooner it is done the more chance for hard feelings to evaporate before the 1937 election.

* * *

MEXICO

Local Latin-American experts rate Puig Casauranc's cooperative gestures at Montevideo as so much polite appiesauce. Mexico's ambitions to dominate Central America are moving ahead behind the scenes. For the first time in history Mexican syndicates are offering loans to Guatemala and other countries in exchange for concessions in developing natural resources.

Mexican diplomacy aims at appeasing Argentina and Brazil. They may not like the Yankee colossus but Mexican imperial dreams rile them still more because they rate Mexico inferior to themselves. They may enter strenuous objections if the Mexicans get too overt about it.

* * *

NAZIS

The church revolt in Germany has much graver aspects than appear from news dispatches. With the struggle of the Protestants occupying the front pages a determined opposition has been quietly organized by the Catholics. The Nazis are trying to stamp it out before it gets too far. More than 150 priests have been arrested as secretly as possible during the last few weeks.

Munich ecclesiasts have already agreed on a possible temporary substitute for Cardinal von Faulhaber because his arrest is feared daily.

The new membership blank of the German Bar association contains the folowing passage: "I solemnly affirm that I have read Adolf Hitler's 'My Battle' and that I am familiar with its contents."

* * *

NEWS

The OFFICIAL German government newspaper recently published this: "American universities . . . are populated by the sons of wealthy farmers who with a Colt strapped to their hip and a lasso dangling from the shoulder loaf around the campus while their horses are being fed. After four semesters they buy themselves a doctor's degree for five hundred dollars and receive an exquisitely engraved sheepskin diploma."

GAS

The German Chemical Trust has taken up the wholesale manufacture of Germany's latest poison gas—Military Chemical W. The gas was invented by the chemist Waener and is the deadliest yet. It is produced in highly concentrated form and effective even if diluted in the ratio of 1 to 10,000,000. Gas masks afford no protection.

NEWPORT VISIT SCHEDULED BY ASTOR YACHT

Of more than ordinary interest in connection with the proposed harbor improvement project which, if brought to realization, it is said, will bring an influx of wealthy yachtsmen, was a report today in the harbor district to the effect that Vincent Astor, New York millionaire and clubman, owner of the palatial seagoing yacht Nourmahal, is expected to bring his ship to Orange county harbor next spring.

On his arrival here, Astor will be joined by Captain Fred Lewis, another millionaire, owner of the Diamond Bar ranch located in Brea canyon, who also owns and sails his own yacht, the Stranger. Both ships will be outfitted at the local harbor for an expeditionary trip to Arctic waters, the purpose of which is a scientific nature, it is reported.

President Franklin Roosevelt has been a guest on the Nourmahal several times for ocean trips.

Captain Lewis has been wintering in Honolulu, and is now returning to Orange county harbor via San Diego, it was learned.

THREE REQUEST SEVERANCE OF MARITAL TIES

Asserting that in November, 1932, a person, unknown to her, telephoned and advised her to go to the corner of Ross and Camille streets where she saw her husband drive up and let another woman alight from his automobile, Mrs. Stella R. Hamond has filed suit for divorce from George Hamond, alleging cruelty.

In her complaint she charged that shortly after their marriage on November 22, 1931, her husband started staying away from home evenings and associating with other women. She recited several occasions when she alleges she found Hamond parked in his automobile with another woman. When she accused him of these acts, the complaint alleges her husband, on one occasion threatened to shoot her with a revolver in his possession. On another occasion he tried to force her to take poison, saying that he intended to "end it for both of us." The Hamonds separated May 21, last. She is asking for an interlocutory decree o fdivorce, $100 monthly temporary allimony, $100 attorney fees and $20 costs.

H. Ralph Rice is suing Mrs. Frances E. Rice for divorce accusing her of cruelty. He alleged, in his complaint, that his wife accused him of associating with other women and quarrelled with him so continuously that they were evicted from their apartment. He also accused his wife of comparing him unfavorably with a former husband, and with the excessive use of intoxicants. They were married September 7, 1931, and separated November 5, last.

Mrs. Julia A. Stagg, of La Habra, is seeking a divorce from Hoyt Stagg, a professional baseball umpire, on the grounds of non-support. She also is asking custody of the couple's two children and $50 monthly for their support. The Staggs were married April 27, 1915, in Oklahoma and separated August 27, 1931.

GOOD WILL

A large New York bank recently sent men out for personal solicitation of new accounts through Manhattan and Brooklyn. The real object was to find out whether there was as much hostility to Wall Street in its home town as was generally reported. The solicitors came back with quite a bit of new business and mostly recorded a friendly reception. The bank was delighted.

An observer comments they should have tried soliciting business in California or Alabama or Ohio.

INSURANCE

New York gets word that the deposit insurance situation is greatly improved among a number of small banks in the mid-West and South. Farmers who have received government loans and bonuses are using the money to pay their debts and their banks are much better qualified to pass an insurance examination than they were a few weeks ago.

It looks as if all banks now open will be made eligible for insurance in January with modifications of the system to come before July.

SUBWAYS

Mayor-elect LaGuardia will find New York subway finances riding his neck harder than any other problem. Rigid economies in Police, Fire and Health Departments might save seven million dollars—which would be grass seed as long as the subway deficit drains the budget. He hasn't a prayer of making both ends meet while the situation persists.

The seven-cent fare is the only way out. Assuming the same number of riders, this is estimated to yield forty million a year in additional revenue. This relief to the budget would in turn make refinancing of city obligations possible on easier terms with the prospect of saving another sixty million a year in interest charges because of improved credit. That would put Fusion on easy street.

Watch for action on this line within the first six months of LaGuardia's administration. The sooner it is done the more chance for hard feelings to evaporate before the 1937 election.

MEXICO

Local Latin-American experts rate Puig Casaurano's cooperative gestures at Montevideo as so much polite applesauce. Mexico's ambitions to dominate Central America are moving ahead behind the scenes. For the first time in history Mexican syndicates are offering loans to Guatemala and other countries in exchange for concessions in developing natural resources.

Mexican diplomacy aims at appeasing Argentina and Brazil. They may not like the Yankee colossus but Mexican imperial dreams rile them still more because they rate Mexico inferior to themselves. They may enter strenuous objections if the Mexicans get too overt about it.

NAZIS

The church revolt in Germany has much graver aspects than appear from news dispatches. With the struggle of the Protestants occupying the front pages a determined opposition has been quietly organized by the Catholics. The Nazis are trying to stamp it out before it gets too far. More than 150 priests have been arrested as secretly as possible during the last few weeks.

Munich ecclesiasts have already agreed on a possible temporary substitute for Cardinal von Faulhaber because his arrest is feared daily.

The new membership blank of the German Bar association contains the folowing passage: "I solemnly affirm that I have read Adolf Hitler's 'My Battle' and that I am familiar with its contents."

NEWS

The OFFICIAL German government newspaper recently published this: "American universities . . . are populated by the sons of wealthy farmers who with a Colt strapped to their hip and a lasso dangling from the shoulder loaf around the campus while their horses are being fed. After four semesters they buy themselves a doctor's degree for five hundred dollars and receive an exquisitely engraved sheepskin diploma."

GAS

The German Chemical Trust has taken up the wholesale manufacture of Germany's latest poison gas—Military Chemical W. The gas was invented by the chemist Wasner and is the deadliest yet. It is produced in highly concentrated form and effective even if diluted in the ratio of 1 to 10,000,000. Gas masks afford no protection.

Water District Board To Meet

Directors of the Orange County Water District will meet in regular monthly session Wednesday in headquarters established in the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce offices. The meeting will start at 2 p. m.

Discussion at the meeting is expected to center on spreading operations planned for Santa Ana river channel in Orange county.

NEWPORT VISIT SCHEDULED BY ASTOR YACHT

Of more than ordinary interest in connection with the proposed harbor improvement project, which, if brought to realization, it is said, will bring an influx of wealthy yachtsmen, was a report today in the harbor district to the effect that Vincent Astor, New York millionaire and clubman, owner of the palatial seagoing yacht Nourmahal, is expected to bring his ship to Orange county harbor next spring.

On his arrival here, Astor will be joined by Captain Fred Lewis, another millionaire, owner of the Diamond Bar ranch located in Brea canyon, who also owns and sails his own yacht, the Stranger. Both ships will be outfitted at the local harbor for an expeditionary trip to Arctic waters, the purpose of which is a scientific nature, it is reported.

President Franklin Roosevelt has been a guest on the Nourmahal several times for ocean trips.

Captain Lewis has been wintering in Honolulu, and is now returning to Orange county harbor via San Diego, it was learned.

THREE REQUEST SEVERANCE OF MARITAL TIES

Asserting that in November, 1932, a person, unknown to her, telephoned and advised her to go to the corner of Ross and Camille streets where she saw her husband drive up and let another woman alight from his automobile, Mrs. Stella R. Hamond has filed suit for divorce from George Hamond, alleging cruelty.

In her complaint she charged that shortly after their marriage on November 22, 1931, her husband started staying away from home evenings and associating with other women. She recited several occasions when she alleges she found Hamond parked in his automobile with another woman. When she accused him of these acts, the complaint alleges her husband, on one occasion threatened to shoot her with a revolver in his possession. On another occasion he tried to force her to take poison, saying that he intended to "end it for both of us." The Hamonds separated May 21, last. She is asking for an interlocutory decree o fdivorce, $100 monthly temporary alimony, $100 attorney fees and $20 costs.

H. Ralph Rice is suing Mrs. Frances E. Rice for divorce accusing her of cruelty. He alleged, in his complaint, that his wife accused him of associating with other women and quarrelled with him so continuously that they were evicted from their apartment. He also accused his wife of comparing him unfavorably with a former husband, and with the excessive use of intoxicants. They were married September 7, 1931, and separated November 5, last.

Mrs. Julia A. Stagg, of La Habra, is seeking a divorce from Hoyt Stagg, a professional baseball umpire, on the grounds of non-support. She also is asking custody of the couple's two children and $50 monthly for their support. The Staggs were married April 27, 1915, in Oklahoma and separated August 27, 1931.

OPEN TRIAL IN 16 YEAR OLD MURDER CASE

Defense attorneys' tactics indicated this morning that an effort would be made to have women for the majority of the jurors chosen to hear evidence against Joe Sanchez, accused of the murder 16 years ago of Leon Eckles. Sanchez's trial started this morning with M. C Spicer representing the accused man. When court recessed briefly at 11:15 a. m. there were nine women and three men in the box as tentative jurors.

Sanchez was arrested several months ago at a sanitarium in the San Fernando Valley and charged with the 16-year-old murder of Eckles, who was shot to death during a free-for-all fight at a dance hall in El Toro. The accused man, a youth of 17 years when Eckles was shot, disappeared immediately after the shooting and all trace of him was lost until a few weeks ago when he was located by sheriff's officers during investigation of the murder of Francisco Mendoza.

Upon his arrest Sanchez was charged with second degree murder which carries a long term in prison rather than the death penalty for first degree murder. District Attorney S. B. Kaufman said that the lesser crime was charged to Sanchez because the fact that at the time of the slaying the accused man was only 17 years old and this would preclude infliction of the death penalty.

Another unique angle to the prosecution is the fact that should the jury fail to find him guilty of second degree murder they cannot bring in a manslaughter verdict as all other charges that might have arisen from the case have been outlawed by the statute of limitations. Murder and the falsification of public records are the only crimes that are never outlawed by the statute of limitations, it was pointed out by attorneys.

VANDALS TAKE OIL, GAS FROM GARAGE

Vandals who broke into the garage on the grounds of the Katella school Saturday night stole 10 gallons of oil, 10 gallons of gasoline and drained liquid soap and fly spray on the ground, it was reported to sheriff's officers yesterday.

Windows were broken on the garage to gain entrance and a lock was broken to the door of the pumphouse. Five gallons each of soap and spray was dumped on the ground while the gasoline and oil was taken away.

Tracks indicated that three persons had broken into the building, all wearing corduroy trousers. One was barefoot and the other two were believed to be wearing tennis shoes.

INFLUENCE OF MOVIES CITED BY DR. HUNTER

FULLERTON, Dec. 11.—Following the suggestion of the Better Films Association of Orange county, Dr. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, spoke Sunday on "The Movies and Imagination." He said in part:

"One of the best received of recent short pictures showed the big bad wolf, and a whole pack of them are waiting for the child. Sometimes our current paganism with its idea of 'profits first' teaches him by movie and book and word and example, take things easy and don't get caught; no need to discipline yourself, or work hard or be thrifty.

"Or it says, 'Be a good little conformist and do what the politicians in power tell you to do and we'll call you patriotic. No government has ever been known to be wrong in calling a war.' Or it says, 'Express yourself at all costs; never block an instinct.' Or it says, particularly by the suggestion of expensive surroundings which are almost invariable in the movies, 'Live is luxuriously as you can. Get all you can, and it's only your own business how you spend it. Drink and be a spendthrift; everybody else is a wowser.'

"Three things the home can do. It can guide its own young people to choose better films, not easy because the National Film estimate is quoted as recommending only eight per cent of the films which came out in the first three months of 1933. Second, it can give children suggestions to prevent the carry-over into real life of the picture-world. Third, it can help them find substitutes in indoor and outdoor sport, music and drama."

ORGANIZATION FORMED TO GET FEDERAL LOANS

Organization of the Orange County National Farm Loan association, under the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley, was completed Saturday during a series of meetings held in the auditorium of the Frances Willard Junior High school. Directors of the new association were named as follows: Dr. J. W. Harpster, Anaheim; H. T. Brewer, Orange, Hugh Plumb, Tustin; H. H. Hale, Placentia, and Vernon C. Heil of Midway City. In the afternoon the directors met and elected Dr. Harpster president; Hale, vice president, and C. A. Palmer, secretary and treasurer.

There were 166 legal incorporators present at the morning session and signed the articles of incorporation. These incorporators are, as required by law, applicants for loans from the Federal Land Bank.

W. S. Guilford, assistant secretary of the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley was present and spoke briefly before the organization saying that the bank will do everything possible to speed up loans. During the organization meeting A. W. Rutan acted as temporary chairman and Palmer was temporary secretary.

Following the organization Guilford assured members of the new group that the organization work will be rushed and that the Association's charter will be forwarded as soon as possible. Until the charter has been returned and the Association can start functioning appraisal and approving of applications for loans will proceed the same as under the direct loan system.

WOMAN BURNED IN GASOLINE BLAST

Suffering severe burns when gasoline caught fire, Mrs. Mary Strader, 21, was given emergency treatment by firemen shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon for burns received in a fire at her home at 225 East Pomona street.

The fire started when the pilot light on a hot water heater ignited fumes of gasoline being used to clean clothes on the back porch and caused an explosion. Mrs. Strader was standing near the heater and her clothing was set afire. She suffered second degree burns on the hands and first degree burns on the legs, arms and face. She was given treatment by firemen and later treated by a physician.

Damage to the house was light and the flames were extinguished before making much headway.

SEARS TO HOLD COOKING CLASS

With F. C. Hathaway, noted dietician and specialist in home economics, conducting classes, the Sears Roebuck and company store will hold its annual free cooking school this week at 505 North Main street.

Hathaway will demonstrate the use of pressure cookers, showing the housewives the varied uses and time-saving features of the cooker. He will prepare actual dinners at the school, lecturing on menus and steps in cooking. The food, when cooked, will be served to the classes. Hathaway will also conduct a question period, answering queries on cooking and the use of the pressure cookers.

The classes will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday and at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, according to H. S. Silver, manager.

Injuries Confine Dentist To Home

Dr. Robert S. Currie, denlist with offices at 215 South Main street, will be confined to his home for two or three weeks with injuries received in an accident Saturday night, it was learned today. Although details of the affair were not available, it was believed that it occured in Tustin.

ELECTROCUTION HELD CAUSE OF SUDDEN DEATH

Funeral services for Hugh Jackson Henry, 46, well-known Doheny Palisades man who was electrocuted in his home Saturday afternoon, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Harrell and Brown funeral home.

Henry came to his death while preparing to shave and bathe, it was indicated by an investigation into his death. The body was found by his wife, Mrs. Sue Henry, sprawled in a pool of water in the bathroom caused by the overflow of the washbasin. It was believed that Henry had started to connect an electric heater and was electrocuted. An autopsy was conducted this morning to determine the cause of death.

Coroner Earl Abbey announced that no inquest would be held and the body was removed to the Divel Funeral home. The Rev. Hugh McNinch of Capistrano will officiate at the services from the Santa Ana mortuary and interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery under the auspices of Jubilee lodge, No. 604, F. and A. M.

Henry is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sue Henry, two sons, William and Spencer; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Parker of Tennessee and Mrs. Davis of Arkansas; two brothers, Carl Henry of Fullerton and Sam Henry of Santa Ana.

Meeting Tonight On Bond Issues

Interest of civic-minded citizens today was centered on a session sponsored by the League of Women Voters, open to the public, to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. building when various matters which will appear on the December 19 ballot will be discussed.

Three bond issues on the ballot here, for the construction of a new city hall, for the development of Newport Harbor and for the proposed Central Valley Water project will be discussed by speakers.

PASTOR SAYS PEOPLE OF U. S. REALIZE NEED OF NEW LEADERS; 500 AT ANNUAL C. E. INSTITUTE

FULLERTON, Dec. 11.—About 200 Christian Endeavor delegates from Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego county unions attended the leadership training institute for the county officers, local society officers and others interested in leadership, at the First Christian church here, over the week end. The theme of the convention was "Meeting the Challenge."

Howard L. Brown, general secretary of the state union of Christian Endeavor, was the institute director; Clarence Kelly, local chairman; Roy Creighton, Los Angeles county field secretary, song leader, and Miss Bertha Palmer, pianist.

The principal speakers for the convention were the Rev. Aldis Webb, East Side Christian church, Long Beach, who spoke on "Meeting the Leadership Challenge," Saturday evening; and the Rev. Thomas Halmes Walker, Anaheim Presbyterian church, who spoke on "Meeting the Challenge 'I Will Be a Christian'," Sunday afternoon.

In his address the Rev. Webb said, "apparently the American people have looked in vain for leaders, for the present condition in America shows that the leaders have been undisciplined and grasping. A true leader is one who has vision, direction, an energy surplus, and is self-disciplined.

"Not intellectual brilliancy, which our education systems give us, is alone needed for leadership that will stand through difficulty but a leadership built on religion is necessary.

"We are moving rapidly toward the next war and it is time that some new thought be brought from outside of the world by great leaders to keep the world sane. In this country especially we need leaders to break up the conditions now existing in which the basic resources are controlled by only a few people and the rest of the generation work for the pleasure of the few and are subject to the beck and call of them. They are threatening to throw the nation into serfdom."

The conference opened Saturday afternoon with an address of welcome given by the local pastor, the Rev. George Tinsley, and Clarence Kelly. Conferences were held during the rest of the afternoon. At 6:30 o'clock a "fellowship and fun" banquet was held, with 75 people present and Howard Brown presiding as toastmaster.

Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock a breakfast was given in the Christian church and after the breakfast forums were held Miss May Visick and Roy Creighton.

The Rev. Paul Brown and Howard Brown conducted the services in the Christian church Sunday morning.

The convention adjourned Sunday afternoon after hearing an adress on "The Challenge Program for Unions" by H. Lewis Mathewson, state president, and a talk by the Rev. Mr. Walker.

7000 LOSE JOBS AS CANNERIES CLOSED

LONG BEACH, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Approximately 7000 cannery workers and fishermen were thrown out of employment today as tuna canneries in Long Beach and San Diego closed with the explanation from operators they could not compete against the importation of Japanese tuna.

The shutdown order went into effect at midnight. Canners said it would remain in force until some guarantee was received from Washington, protecting them from Japanese shipments.

Canners said 600,000 cases of canned tuna have been imported into the United States and despite a 30 per cent duty can still be sold under the costs of producing American tuna.

Thief Gets Purse Through Window

Cutting a hole in a bedroom screen, a thief succeeded in stealing a purse from a bed in the home of V. L. Motry, 802 South Garnsey street, Saturday night.

Police believe that the theft was committed by the same person who opened a window and stole a purse from the home of Mrs. F. B. Cleeland, 814 South Garnsey, on December 2. Motry reported that the bedspread had been pulled toward the window to allow the purse to be reached. It contained only 75 cents in change and papers.

PIONEER USES GAS FUMES TO END HIS LIFE

Samuel Q. Conkle, 87, resident of Orange county since 1888 and well-known in Southern California, ended his life Saturday at his home on Pine avenue by inhaling gas fumes from a gas jet tube. No inquest will be held Coroner Earl Abbey announced today.

The county pioneer had placed a blanket over his head and turned on the gas. The body was found by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Juanita Conkle, when she brought his lunch Saturday noon. He had been dead only a short time, it was believed.

Conkle came to California from Ohio in 1885 and moved to Orange county three years later. His wife died in 1910 and he has made his home in Garden Grove near his son Lemuel Conkle, since that time.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home with the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the Garden Grove Methodist church officiating. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery. Pallbearers, all sons of county pioneers will be Roy Head, John M. Mitchell, Jack Jentges, Charles B. Henry, Alfred Nearing and Sterling Price.

Conkle is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ura B. Mills, Garden Grove, Mrs. Hazel McKee, Los Angeles and Mrs. Nellie Biedebach, Pasadena; two sons, Lemuel L. Conkle, Garden Grove and Roscoe Conkle, Huntington Park.

Chaffee College Winner Of Debate

The next debate will be after the Christmas vacations.

Defense attorneys' tactics indicated this morning that an effort would be made to have women for the majority of the jurors chosen to hear evidence against Joe Sanchez, accused of the murder 16 years ago of Leon Eckles. Sanchez's trial started this morning with M. C. Spicer representing the accused man. When court recessed briefly at 11:15 a. m. there were nine women and three men in the box as tentative jurors.

Sanchez was arrested several months ago at a sanitarium in the San Fernando Valley and charged with the 16-year-old murder of Eckles, who was shot to death during a free-for-all fight at a dance hall in El Toro. The accused man, a youth of 17 years when Eckles was shot, disappeared immediately after the shooting and all trace of him was lost until a few weeks ago when he was located by sheriff's officers during investigation of the murder of Francisco Mendoza.

Upon his arrest Sanchez was charged with second degree murder which carries a long term in prison rather than the death penalty for first degree murder. District Attorney S. B. Kaufman said that the lesser crime was charged to Sanchez because the fact that at the time of the slaying the accused man was only 17 years old and this would preclude infliction of the death penalty.

Another unique angle to the prosecution is the fact that should the jury fail to find him guilty of second degree murder they cannot bring in a manslaughter verdict as all other charges that might have arisen from the case have been outlawer by the statute of limitations. Murder and the falsification of public records are the only crimes that are never outlawed by the statute of limitations, it was pointed out by attorneys.

BROCKTON, Mass. (UP)—Someone stole an antique purple glass doorknob from the front door of Harry C. Kelley's home. The thief left a $5 bill, but Kelley said this was far less than the value of the knob as an antique.

VANDALS TAKE OIL, GAS FROM GARAGE

Vandals who broke into the garage on the grounds of the Katella school Saturday night stole 10 gallons of oil, 10 gallons of gasoline and drained liquid soap and fly spray on the ground, it was reported to sheriff's officers yesterday.

Windows were broken on the garage to gain entrance and a lock was broken to the door of the pumphouse. Five gallons each of soap and spray was dumped on the ground while the gasoline and oil was taken away.

Tracks indicated that three persons had broken into the building, all wearing corduroy trousers. One was barefoot and the other two were believed to be wearing tennis shoes.

INFLUENCE OF MOVIES CITED BY DR. HUNTER

FULLERTON, Dec. 11.—Following the suggestion of the Better Films Association of Orange county, Dr. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, spoke Sunday on "The Movies and Imagination." He said in part:

"One of the best received of recent short pictures showed the big bad wolf, and a whole pack of them are waiting for the child. Sometimes our current paganism with its idea of 'profits first' teaches him by movie and book and word and example, take things easy and don't get caught; no need to discipline yourself, or work hard or be thrifty.

"Or it says, 'Be a good little conformist and do what the politicians in power tell you to do and we'll call you patriotic. No government has ever been known to be wrong in calling a war.' Or it says, 'Express yourself at all costs; never block an instinct.' Or it says, particularly by the suggestion of expensive surroundings which are almost invariable in the movies, 'Live is luxuriously as you can. Get all you can, and it's only your own business how you spend it. Drink and be a spendthrift; everybody else is a wowser.'

"Three things the home can do. It can guide its own young people to choose better films, not easy because the National Film estimate is quoted as recommending only eight per cent of the films which came out in the first three months of 1933. Second, it can give children suggestions to prevent the carry-over into real life of the picture-world. Third, it can help them find substitutes in indoor and outdoor sport, music and drama."

ORGANIZATION FORMED TO GET FEDERAL LOANS

Organization of the Orange County National Farm Loan association, under the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley, was completed Saturday during a series of meetings held in the auditorium of the Frances Willard Junior High school. Directors of the new association were named as follows: Dr. J. W. Harpster, Anaheim; H. T. Brewer, Orange, Hugh Plumb, Tustin; H. H. Hale, Placentia, and Vernon C. Heil of Midway City. In the afternoon the directors met and elected Dr. Harpster president; Hale, vice president, and C. A. Palmer, secretary and treasurer.

There were 166 legal incorporators present at the morning session and signed the articles of incorporation. These incorporators are, as required by law, applicants for loans from the Federal Land Bank.

W. S. Guilford, assistant secretary of the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley was present and spoke briefly before the organization saying that the bank will do everything possible to speed up loans. During the organization meeting A. W. Rutan acted as temporary chairman and Palmer was temporary secretary.

Following the organization Guilford assured members of the new group that the organization work will be rushed and that the Association's charter will be forwarded as soon as possible. Until the charter has been returned and the Association can start functioning appraisal and approving of applications for loans will proceed the same as under the direct loan system.

WOMAN BURNED IN GASOLINE BLAST

Suffering severe burns when gasoline caught fire, Mrs. Mary Strader, 21, was given emergency treatment by firemen shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon for burns received in a fire at her home at 225 East Pomona street.

The fire started when the pilot light on a hot water heater ignited fumes of gasoline being used to clean clothes on the back porch and caused an explosion. Mrs. Strader was standing near the heater and her clothing was set afire. She suffered second degree burns on the hands and first degree burns on the legs, arms and face. She was given treatment by firemen and later treated by a physician.

Damage to the house was light and the flames were extinguished before making much headway.

SEARS TO HOLD COOKING CLASS

With F. C. Hathaway, noted dietician and specialist in home economics, conducting classes, the Sears Roebuck and company store will hold its annual free cooking school this week at 505 North Main street.

Hathaway will demonstrate the use of pressure cookers, showing the housewives the varied uses and time-saving features of the cooker. He will prepare actual dinners at the school, lecturing on menus and steps in cooking. The food, when cooked, will be served to the classes. Hathaway will also conduct a question period, answering queries on cooking and the use of the pressure cookers.

The classes will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday and at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, according to H. S. Silver, manager.

Injuries Confine Dentist To Home

Dr. Robert S. Currie, dentist with offices at 215 South Main street, will be confined to his home for two or three weeks with injuries received in an accident Saturday night, it was learned today. Although details of the affair were not available, it was believed that it occured in Tustin.

PURSE STOLEN

FULLERTON, Dec. 11.—Charles Smith of 409 West Commonwealth reported at the police station Sunday that his wife's purse had been stolen Saturday and $20 taken from it. He reported also a tan polo coat stolen from his home.

ELECTROCUTION HELD CAUSE OF SUDDEN DEATH

Funeral services for Hugh Jackson Henry, 46, well-known Doheny Palisades man who was electrocuted in his home Saturday afternoon, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Harrell and Brown funeral home.

Henry came to his death while preparing to shave and bathe, it was indicated by an investigation into his death. The body was found by his wife, Mrs. Sue Henry, sprawled in a pool of water in the bathroom caused by the overflow of the washbasin. It was believed that Henry had started to connect an electric heater and was electrocuted. An autopsy was conducted this morning to determine the cause of death.

Coroner Earl Abbey announced that no inquest would be held and the body was removed to the Divel Funeral home. The Rev. Hugh McNinch of Capistrano will officiate at the services from the Santa Ana mortuary and interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery under the auspices of Jubilee lodge, No. 604, F. and A. M.

Henry is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sue Henry, two sons, William and Spencer; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Parker of Tennessee and Mrs. Davis of Arkansas; two brothers, Carl Henry of Fullerton and Sam Henry of Santa Ana.

Meeting Tonight On Bond Issues

Interest of civic-minded citizens today was centered on a session sponsored by the League of Women Voters, open to the public, to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. building when various matters which will appear on the December 19 ballot will be discussed.

Three bond issues on the ballot here, for the construction of a new city hall, for the development of Newport Harbor and for the proposed Central Valley Water project will be discussed by speakers.

PASTOR SAYS PEOPLE OF U. S. REALIZE NEED OF NEW LEADERS; 500 AT ANNUAL C. E. INSTITUTE

FULLERTON, Dec. 11.—About 200 Christian Endeavor delegates from Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego county unions attended the leadership training institute for the county officers, local society officers and others interested in leadership, at the First Christian church here, over the week end. The theme of the convention was "Meeting the Challenge."

Howard L. Brown, general secretary of the state union of Christian Endeavor, was the institute director; Clarence Kelly, local chairman; Roy Creighton, Los Angeles county field secretary, song leader, and Miss Bertha Palmer, pianist.

The principal speakers for the convention were the Rev. Aldis Webb, East Side Christian church, Long Beach, who spoke on "Meeting the Leadership Challenge," Saturday evening; and the Rev. Thomas Halmes Walker, Anaheim Presbyterian church, who spoke on "Meeting the Challenge 'I Will Be a Christian'," Sunday afternoon.

In his address the Rev. Webb said, "apparently the American people have looked in vain for leaders, for the present condition in America shows that the leaders have been undisciplined and grasping. A true leader is one who has vision, direction, an energy surplus, and is self-disciplined.

"Not intellectual brilliancy, which our education systems give us, is alone needed for leadership that will stand through difficulty but a leadership built on religion is necessary.

"We are moving rapidly toward the next war and it is time that some new thought be brought from outside of the world by great leaders to keep the world sane. In this country especially we need leaders to break up the conditions now existing in which the basic resources are controlled by only a few people and the rest of the generation work for the pleasure of the few and are subject to the beck and call of them. They are threatening to throw the nation into serfdom."

The conference opened Saturday afternoon with an address of welcome given by the local pastor, the Rev. George Tinsley, and Clarence Kelly. Conferences were held during the rest of the afternoon. At 6:30 o'clock a "fellowship and fun" banquet was held, with 75 people present and Howard Brown presiding as toastmaster.

Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock a breakfast was given in the Christian church and after the breakfast forums were held Miss May Visick and Roy Creighton.

The Rev. Paul Brown and Howard Brown conducted the services in the Christian church Sunday morning.

The convention adjourned Sunday afternoon after hearing an adress on "The Challenge Program for Unions" by H. Lewis Mathewson, state president, and a talk by the Rev. Mr. Walker.

7000 LOSE JOBS AS CANNERIES CLOSED

LONG BEACH, Cal., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Approximately 7000 cannery workers and fishermen were thrown out of employment today as tuna canneries in Long Beach and San Diego closed with the explanation from operators they could not compete against the importation of Japanese tuna.

The shutdown order went into effect at midnight. Canners said it would remain in force until some guarantee was received from Washington, protecting them from Japanese shipments.

Canners said 600,000 cases of canned tuna have been imported into the United States and despite a 30 per cent duty can still be sold under the costs of producing American tuna.

Thief Gets Purse Through Window

Cutting a hole in a bedroom screen, a thief succeeded in stealing a purse from a bed in the home of V. L. Motry, 802 South Garnsey street, Saturday night.

Police believe that the theft was committed by the same person who opened a window and stole a purse from the home of Mrs. F. B. Cleeland, 814 South Garnsey, on December 2. Motry reported that the bedspread had been pulled toward the window to allow the purse to be reached. It contained only 75 cents in change and papers.

PIONEER USES GAS FUMES TO END HIS LIFE

Samuel Q. Conkle, 87, resident of Orange county since 1888 and well-known in Southern California, ended his life Saturday at his home on Pine avenue by inhaling gas fumes from a gas jet tube. No inquest will be held Coroner Earl Abbey announced today.

The county pioneer had placed a blanket over his head and turned on the gas. The body was found by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Juanita Conkle, when she brought his lunch Saturday noon. He had been dead only a short time, it was believed.

Conkle came to California from Ohio in 1885 and moved to Orange county three years later. His wife died in 1910 and he has made his home in Garden Grove near his son Lemuel Conkle, since that time.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home with the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the Garden Grove Methodist church officiating. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery. Pallbearers, all sons of county pioneers will be Roy Head, John M. Mitchell, Jack Jentges, Charles B. Henry, Alfred Nearing and Sterling Price.

Conkle is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ura B. Mills, Garden Grove, Mrs. Hazel McKee, Los Angeles and Mrs. Nellie Biedebach, Pasadena; two sons, Lemuel L. Conkle, Garden Grove and Roscoe Conkle, Huntington Park.

Chaffee College Winner Of Debate

The next debate will be after the Christmas vacations.

AVERS BIBLE, SPIRITUALISM ANTAGONISTIC

An expectant audience that taxed the building to capacity, listened intently to Evangelist B. R. Spear last night, as he graphically presented the lecture "Spiritualism. Do the Dead Actually Appear?" "The belief of Spiritualism," Mr. Spear said, "and the teachings of the Bible are antagonistic. The claims of Spiritualism are the very opposite to the simple statements of the Bible. It is impossible for both to be true for they contradict one another on each point they hold to be fundamental." The speaker traced the rise and origin of modern Spiritualism from the Fox sisters of Hydesville, New York, where on March 1, 1848 they received communications by rappings which come to be known as the "Rochester knockings." The lecture follows in part:

"The Fox family having ascertained that the rappings were not some defect in the house, despaired to remove them, when one night a daughter exclaimed in anger, 'Do as I do, Old Split Hoof,' clapping her hands together. Immediately the rappings responded louder than ever. The two daughters then refrained for fear but the mother soon learned by this method that the rappings claimed to be the spirit of Charles B. Rosma who had been murdered in the house, and directed them to dig in the cellar for his body. This they did and found the rappings to have told the truth. From this moment people came from all directions to ask questions of the Fox family. From that time Spiritualism in its modern form has spread over the earth like a prairie fire.

Stand On Bible

"'The Progressive Thinker', spiritualists official paper, states that they do not accept God as the Bible reveals Him, 'Such,' they say 'is not worthy of our worship.' As to the Bible the same paper says, 'We see it as it is, and not as Christians, a book full of mistakes, written by a crude people' and that salvation by 'proxy' is impossible.

"Sir Oliver Lodge writes, 'We could not go out of existence if we wanted to. They preserve their memories, their characters, and their affections. Their love continues. Don't think of them as not existing.' With these statements from that source I now wish to present the claims of the Bible which I believe to be true regardless of the most spectacular demonstrations from supposed spirits of the dead.

"I read for you Ecclesiastes 9:5, 6, 10. 'For the living know that they shall die but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun. Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.'

"Again I read, Psalm 6:5, 'For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks?' Also from Psalm 146:3,4, 'Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help. His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.'

"It is evident to every person that believes the Bible that it is impossible to communicate with the dead when their thoughts, love, hatred memory and hope of future reward all perish with them at death. What is Spiritualism then? The Bible answers.

Refutes Arguments

"A man also or a woman that hath a familiar spirit shall surely be put to death. Lev. 20:27. Just before Christ's return to earth again, Satan will work 'With all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceivableness of unrighteousness.' 2 Thess. 2:8 to 12. Christ says in Revelation 16:14 that it is 'Spirits of Devils' gathering the nations for the battle of Armageddon. With no common ground between them we are on one side or the other. Our belief in the literal meaning of these texts together with many other of a like nature will largely settle the entire question in each life."

Mr. Spear then closed by relating some unusual experiences he had had before becoming a Christian, and taking the Bible literally in this respect, in connection with spirit manifestations. He speaks this week on the following subjects: Tonight, "Mussolini. Will He Bring Europe to His Feet, and Make Italy Supreme?" Tuesday, "What Is The Soul?" Wednesday, "Baptism. Can a Person be saved that has not been Baptized?" Thursday, "Digging Mineral With Your Teeth." Friday, "An Army of Billions that Threatens the Existence of Mankind."

REV. PERRY F. SCHROCK LISTS MOTION PICTURES AS AMONG OUR "DANGEROUS BLESSINGS"

"Blessings are dangerous," said Perry Frederick Schrock in his sermon at the First Congregational church yesterday morning. He cited water and fire and electricity as examples of blessings that could be very dangerous. "Water is an absolute necessity," said Mr. Schrock. "It quenches our thirst, keeps us clean, irrigates our fields and makes possible a sanitary city. Yet it may cause a flood that destroys life and property and cause untold suffering. Pure water is a blessing but contaminated water spreads suffering and death.

"The moving picture is one of these dangerous blessings. As an instrument of education and as provider of wholesome amusement it has almost unlimited possibilities. It can be, and often is, an equally great curse. It can be like the water of a great city that is contaminated—a source of sorrow and destruction. St. Paul says that whatsoever things are true and honorable and just and pure and lovely and of good report—'think on these things.' That is good advice. But when we send our children to the movies they are apt to see what is false and dishonorable and unjust and impure and unlovely and of evil report.

Statistics On Attendance

"Seventy-seven million people attend the movie theaters each week in our country. Children from five to eight years of age attend on an average 22 times per year. The ages from eight to nineteen attend more frequently. The average for girls is 46 times per year and that for boys is 57 times. Of the 77,000,000 who attend each week 28,000,000 are under 21 years of age and 11,000,000 are under 13 years of age.

"What do these young folks see? They see some excellent pictures—enough to show their great possibilities. But the other kind is more numerous. 400 out of 500 pictures deal with love, sex and crime. 40 to 50 percent deal with sex and crime. In an analysis of 115 pictures we find 59 pictures in which murder is attempted or committed. In these 115 pictures there are 71 violent deaths, 21 kidnappings and 36 holdups. Bed room scenes figure in 49 of the 115 pictures. The bed room is the most popular set. 43 percent is the rating of the bedroom set.

"Shootin' and Kissin'"

"A farm hand, almost a moron, was asked what he liked to see in pictures. He replied, "Shootin' and kissin'." Evidently the producers are catering to the moronic type of patron. But 28,000,000 young people have this sewage poured into their minds every week.

"Children have been tested as to the effect of pictures on their heart beat. With just ordinary pictures a child's heart beat will increase from normal to 125-140. One 16-year-old boy, whose normal pulse was 80, ran up to 154. This with an ordinary picture. What would it have been with a harrowing picture. One investigator found that an extremely emotional picture will leave a physical imprint lasting 70 hours. 'Three days to recover normal composure!'

"Movies have a tremendous influence on conduct. A high school girl says: 'The movies have given me some ideas about freedom we should have. In the pictures the wildest girl always tames down and gets the man she loves. Why not in real life?' The movies seem to be a school in crime for young criminals. That the lessons are effective is proven by the testimony of many young criminals.

"Investigators for The Motion Picture Research Council list 32 distinct items in criminal technique that were learned in the movies by young criminals who were in penal institutions. These range from jimmying a door to conducting a 'stick up' and carrying a machine gun in a violin case. Not only was the technique taught but the desire to be a criminal was aroused. 49 percent of 110 criminals testified that movies gave them the desire to carry a gun.

"Sex delinquency is also promoted by movies. 43 percent of the delinquent girls examined attributed their downfall to movie influence.

"What shall we do about it? There are two things to do. Encourage the development of the movie along the lines of its possibilities for good. Forbid the use of the movie as a channel for filth and crime promotion. We must have national control of production. Local control is ineffective. We must stop the block-booking system whereby the local exhibitor is powerless to select the pictures he would like to show.

"Why should we devote a Sunday morning to this sort of discussion? Because we are concerned with youth and character development. The gross time spent by the children of almost any Sunday school at the movies is probably more than that spent in Sunday school classes. What can we accomplish against such a tide? The movies [illegible] be a great aid in the things we are trying to do. And they would have just as great amusement value. I believe that the time will come when Sunday school lessons will be taught from the screen. It would be a most effective way to teach. In the mean time, however, we must protect our children, our homes and society from the influence of the filthy and vicious picture."

ANNUAL BUDGET OF BREA CHURCH SET AT $2723

BREA, Dec. 11.—"And Jesus sat over against the treasury and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury." This was the text of the sermon which the Rev. Donald Gaylord preached at the Congregational church Sunday morning. The every member canvass of the church was started yesterday, the annual budget being placed at $2723.

"Believing that the matter of giving for the doing of God's business ought not to be one of grudging or necessity," said the pastor, "but an act of worship, a joyous deed, the receiving of pledges is being included as a part of our worship service. The belief that the mention of money should be entirely disassociated from the church service is used by many as an evasion, an excuse for not giving. The measure of our faith in the church is determined by what we are willing to pay for it. Our faith is measured by giving and our giving is measured by the sacrifice we make therein."

Following the sermon, C. O. Harvey, a member of the board of trustees, outlined the budget, which shows an increase of $40 over that of last year. The budget has been passed by the board and will be recommended at the annual meeting in January for adoption.

INSPIRATIONAL SERMON TOPIC BY EVANGELIST

"One of the most beautiful and clear-cut pictures in the Scriptures is the description of 'The Way' from earth to heaven," so declared Evangelist J. W. Bates yesterday at the Broadway and Walnut Church of Christ.

"About 750 years before the coming of Christ, Isaiah prophesied of His advent and further said, 'And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for the redeemed: the wayfaring men, tho' fools, shall not err therein.' In striking figurative language he foretold the Christ. Isa. 35.

"In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus compared the way and the highway of old Isaiah to the narrow way and the broad way, and warned that few would enter in the former.

"If there be no way from earth to glory, no revealed course for man to follow, then the blatant threats o fthe infidel are well-founded, and man can follow the haphazard course of his own inclination. But Jesus said, 'I am the way, the truth, the light.' In Jno. 6:44, 45. He said, 'No man can come to Me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day.'

"In the next verse He explains what that drawing power is. 'It is written in the prophets, 'And they shall all be taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.' Christianity is an intelligent affair—entirely sane and rational. Man comes to Christ by hearing, learning, and obeying, for 'Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God.' Rom. 10:17. In a verse above this one we read 'for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.'

"These are steps unto Christ, the way. I walk down the walk unto my neighbor's house, knock, and he calls, 'Step into the house.' 'For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.' Gal. 3:27.

"Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.' Rom. 6:4.

"The high soul climbs the high-way
The low soul walks the low
And in between—on the misty flats
The rest drift, to and fro—
But every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."

FATHERS, SONS HOLD BANQUET IN YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, Dec. 11.—One hundred and forty attended the father and son banquet at the social hall of the Friends church Friday night, sponsored by the brotherhood of Yorba Linda, where Dr. Marcus Scarstedt of Whittier college was principal speaker of the occasion.

Dr. Scarstedt said the chief and worst result of this depression is that men have lost faith in themselves and the universe, and urged a close alliance of friendship and understanding between fathers and sons that the faith of sons may be kept intact until the problems are solved in part. He took as his subject, "As Ye Sow, so Shall Ye Reap."

Donald Walker was master of ceremonies. Billy Burchit led in Y. M. C. A. yells. Archie Raitt, leader of Northern Orange county Y. M. C. A. work, led in community singing, accompanying on a guitar. Contests were won by Don Cochran and H. A. Caspari.

Russell Stanbro gave a toast to the fathers and Hurliss Barton talked on the duty of fathers to sons. Archie Raitt introduced the men in charge of Y. M. C. A. work, Fred Johnson, Barton, the Rev. Joseph Reese, E. R. Walker, Frank Day, B. J. Foss and A. P. Yerington.

A quartet, Francis Hart, Bob Cromwell, Walter Beard and Free Boege, with Mrs. Francis Addy directing, sang a group of numbers. The speaker was introduced by Fred Johnson.

AVERS BIBLE, SPIRITUALISM ANTAGONISTIC

An expectant audience that taxed the building to capacity, listened intently to Evangelist B. R. Spear last night, as he graphically presented the lecture "Spiritualism. Do the Dead Actually Appear?" "The belief of Spiritualism," Mr. Spear said, "and the teachings of the Bible are antagonistic. The claims of Spiritualism are the very opposite to the simple statements of the Bible. It is impossible for both to be true for they contradict one another on each point they hold to be fundamental." The speaker traced the rise and origin of modern Spiritualism from the Fox sisters of Hydesville, New York, where on March 1, 1848 they received communications by rappings which come to be known as the "Rochester knockings." The lecture follows in part:

"The Fox family having ascertained that the rappings were not some defect in the house, despaired to remove them, when one night a daughter exclaimed in anger, 'Do as I do, Old Split Hoof,' clapping her hands together. Immediately the rappings responded louder than ever. The two daughters then refrained for fear but the mother soon learned by this method that the rappings claimed to be the spirit of Charles B. Rosma who had been murdered in the house, and directed them to dig in the cellar for his body. This they did and found the rappings to have told the truth. From this moment people came from all directions to ask questions of the Fox family. From that time Spiritualism in its modern form has spread over the earth like a prairie fire.

Stand On Bible

"'The Progressive Thinker', spiritualists official paper, states that they do not accept God as the Bible reveals Him, 'Such,' they say 'is not worthy of our worship.' As to the Bible the same paper says, 'We see it as it is, and not as Christians, a book full of mistakes, written by a crude people' and that salvation by 'proxy' is impossible.

"Sir Oliver Lodge writes, 'We could not go out of existence if we wanted to. They preserve their memories, their characters, and their affections. Their love continues. Don't think of them as not existing.' With these statements from that source I now wish to present the claims of the Bible which I believe to be true regardless of the most spectacular demonstrations from supposed spirits of the dead.

"I read for you Ecclesiastes 9:5, 6, 10. 'For the living know that they shall die but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun. Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.'

"Again I read, Psalm 6:5, 'For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks?' Also from Psalm 146:3,4, 'Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help. His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.'

"It is evident to every person that believes the Bible that it is impossible to communicate with the dead when their thoughts, love, hatred memory and hope of future reward all perish with them at death. What is Spiritualism then? The Bible answers.

Refutes Arguments

"A man also or a woman that hath a familiar spirit shall surely be put to death. Lev. 20:27. Just before Christ's return to earth again, Satan will work 'With all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceivableness of unrighteousness.' 2 Thess. 2:8 to 12. Christ says in Revelation 16:14 that it is 'Spirits of Devils' gathering the nations for the battle of Armageddon. With no common ground between them we are on one side or the other. Our belief in the literal meaning of these texts together with many other of a like nature will largely settle the entire question in each life."

Mr. Spear then closed by relating some unusual experiences he had had before becoming a Christian, and taking the Bible literally in this respect, in connection with spirit manifestations. He speaks this week on the following subjects: Tonight, "Mussolini. Will He Bring Europe to His Feet, and Make Italy Supreme?" Tuesday, "What Is The Soul?" Wednesday, "Baptism. Can a Person be saved that has not been Baptized?" Thursday, "Digging Mineral With Your Teeth." Friday, "An Army of Billions that Threatens the Existence of Mankind."

REV. PERRY F. SCHROCK LISTS MOTION PICTURES AS AMONG OUR "DANGEROUS BLESSINGS"

"Blessings are dangerous," said Perry Frederick Schrock in his sermon at the First Congregational church yesterday morning. He cited water and fire and electricity as examples of blessings that could be very dangerous. "Water is an absolute necessity," said Mr. Schrock. "It quenches our thirst, keeps us clean, irrigates our fields and makes possible a sanitary city. Yet it may cause a flood that destroys life and property and cause untold suffering. Pure water is a blessing but contaminated water spreads suffering and death.

"The moving picture is one of these dangerous blessings. As an instrument of education and as provider of wholesome amusement it has almost unlimited possibilities. It can be, and often is, an equally great curse. It can be like the water of a great city that is contaminated—a source of sorrow and destruction. St. Paul says that whatsoever things are true and honorable and just and pure and lovely and of good report—'think on these things.' That is good advice. But when we send our children to the movies they are apt to see what is false and dishonorable and unjust and impure and unlovely and of evil report.

TRADE RUMORS FLY AS MAJOR LEAGUES MEET

By DAVIS J. WALSH

CHICAGO, Dec. 11—They've call-d in the Salvation Army to make n estimate on the furniture. The irl at the cigar counter is all set o tell them how she's working ight and day to send her father nd mother through Harvard. hey've taken up the rugs, they've aken down the pictures. In fact, hey've moved everything except he marble on the floor.

In other words, everything is in adiness for the annual major eague meetings, starting tomor-ow and ending with the joint eeting Thursday. This is known s the joint meeting because, by hat time, the joint is in terrible hape.

Right now, the air is rife, as they ay, with rumors of many trades, ot the least of which is the one hat is about to send Mickey Coch-ne to Detroit as player-manager. hat one, however, has gotten past he rumor stage, inasmuch as ev-ybody seems to assume that it's , including Owner Navin, of De-oit.

Connie Mack Mum

Mr. Mack, of Philadelphia, so far as said nothing in a very few, ell chosen words but, neverthe-ss, the rumorists have already aded half his ball club. At that, 's largely the half he wound up ith last year, so if Mr. Mack goes hrough he'll be forced to use J. orace Blemish, the left handed inochle player, in right field next eason.

Among other projects attributed o him is the plan to send George arnshaw to Chicago for Charley erry and cash. He'll play Berry ehind the plate and the cash be-nd the door of the office safe. Tube" Walberg and Max Bishop so are supposed to be on their ay to the Boston Red Sox.

The Giants are said to be after Babe" Herman and "Kiki" Cuyler. he Reds, it seems, are willing to sten to anything and this must e true, because I heard today that ey wanted Burt Shotton to man-ge the club. Mr. Shotton is under ontract to manage the Phillies, so here must be a catch in it some-here. Meantime, the Cubs, having ecided to dispense with comedy elief, are in the market for Hafey nd may outbid all others, the ubs having the Wrigley millions s a working margin.

Yanks Want Earl Averill

There has been some talk about he Yanks wanting Earl Averill rom Cleveland but there's no dis-tinction in that. The club doesn't ive that doesn't want Averill, in-cluding Cleveland. At that, it was understood the Indians had started something with the Browns on the basis of Averill for Burns and Mel-lio. If so, they didn't finish it.

I mean that, all told, nothing came of this and I might add that same for those splendid transac-tions that were to take "Lefty" Grove away from the Athletics and Dick Bartell from the Phillies. As far as Mack's price was concerned, the only difference between Grove and an ounce of radium is that the ounce of radium lasts longer.

Joe Stripp is a possibility, in fact, it'd say that he is a distinct probability, owing to the fact that he and Mr. Carey, his mana-ger, bow formally and pass by with averted gaze.

Dickinson Picks Michigan As National Champ

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Neither Columbia nor Stanford, the teams which meet in the National collegiate football classic in the Pasadena Rose Bowl game New Year's day, was rated among the first ten teams of the country by Prof. Frank G. Dickinson, whose system of rating foot-ball teams has been nation-ally recognized for years.

The first 10 teams as ranker by Dickinson were: Michigan, 28.52 points; Ne-braska, 24.61 points; Minne-sota, 23.87; Pittsburgh, 23.01; Ohio State, 22.79; Southern California, 22.61; Princeton, 22.50; Oregon, 22.36; Army, 22.16; Purdue, 21.88.

M'MANUS MAY MANAGE CINCY REDS, REPORT

MacPhail denied that he is con-sidering either Jim Bottomley or Burt Shotton.

He also declared that "Chick" Hafey will definitely remain with the Reds, the Cincinnati official having assured himself of Hafey's excellent health. MacPhail is just returned from an airplane trip to the coast to see the bespectacled outfielder.

HARBORITES SPANK WESTERN GAS, 7-4

..Collecting 13 hits off three op-posing hurlers, Newport Harbor trimmed Santa Ana Western Gas, 7-4, in an inter-city baseball game at Costa Mesa yesterday. Santa Ana led until the fourth in-ning, when the Harborites pushed across three runs, and then scored three more in the sixth. Santa Ana scored in the fourth and seventh.

IMPORT RACE HORSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Capt. Cuthbert Morse of New Zealand today revealed plans for bringing Arch Ruler, crack race horse, from the Antipodes for an invasion of American tracks. Other Antipodean equine visitors, including Winooka, Pillow Flight and Tea Trader, did not fare well in their invesions.

ALL-AMERICA MOANS

Plaintive moans and shrill shrieks resound through the land . . . because the All-America se-lectors ignored so many splendid football players . . . today's mail brings squawks from New Eng-land, the middle west and the Pacific Coast.

New England asks firmly but gently why no Holy Cross, Yale, Fordham, Harvard, Dartmouth or Princeton player was named on the first team . . . pointing with pride to the Holy Cross line and Princeton's fine backfield led by Garry LeVan.

Indiana operatives want to know if the coaches who helped to pick the all-star teams really are blind . . . and why was Purvis of Pur-due left off? . . . and did you ever hear of a gent named Everhardus who played in the Michigan back-field? . . . Is it the policy of pickers to refuse to pick two men from the same team even if the players are superior in every de-partment to others chosen?

* * *

STEPPING ON IT

Billy Stepp, Portland sports scribe, dips his pen into vitriol and recounts the wrongs of other years somewhat as follows:

'Didn't Norman Franklin (Ore-gon State back) spread his name in bold enough type for the pick-ers from all parts of the universe to see? One year they passed up the 'Flying Dutchman,' Johnny Kitzmiller. The next year they for-got Hal Moe. And this year with a player like Franklin standing out like Durante's schnozzle they overlook him entirely.

"It makes my blood boil and I'm in favor of staging a San Jose tea party.

"Did you know that Franklin re-turned two kickoffs for touch-downs? . . . one against Ford-ham, the other against San Fran-cisco? . . . How many all-what-nots are doing that this year? . . . Did you know that he kicked 1765 yards in four standout games . . . against Southern California, Fordham, Oregon and Washington State? . . . that he advanced the ball 288 yards and lost 51 yards in 78 tries against the same teams? . . . and completed nine of 25 at-tempted passes against the same crowd?

"Red returned 19 punts for an average of 11.5 yards per return . . . and these figures are against BALL CLUBS . . . ask your coach-ing friends how they'd like to have Oregon, U. S. C., Washing-ton State and Fordham on their schedules next year.

AND MIKULAK

"It's no skin off my ears but a team without Franklin is a joke . . . don't think I'm plugging for him because he's an Oregon man . . . he really hails from Californ-nia and played on the same high school team with 'Cotton' War-burton . . . Franklin was the first string man and Warburton the understudy.

"This All-America stuff has got me all worked up, and instead of laughing it off I have to sit and bark . . . I've done it for the last 10 years . . . and we've had no Oregon man on your coaches' team since the Pilgrims landed."

After a letter like that, com-ment seems unnecessary.

PROPOSE COAST GRID SCHEDULE LIKE BIG TEN'S

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Closer intra-conference foot-ball competition in the manner of the mid-western "Big Ten" was recommended today for the Pacific Coast conference which met here in its annual two-day session.

Al Masters, graduate manager of Stanford university, co-champ-ions with Oregon in the 1933 con-ference standings, brought forward the proposal to eliminate "breath-er" contests and arrange sched-ules in which "every game means something."

"Obviously Stanford cannot stand alone in this position, but Stan-ford has declared itself and hopes that an agreement can be reached with other major teams," Masters said.

"Because of the necessity of scheduling easy games between hard ones under the present policy, Stanford has found it impossible to play teams that should be natural rivals. Stanford has never played Washington State and has not met Oregon in many years."

The principal business of the meeting here was to arrange 1934 schedules. Representatives of St. Mary's, Santa Clara and Univer-sity of San Francisco, strong non-conference elevens, sought games to fill their schedules.

A representative of Southern California announced that Amos Alonzo Stagg's College of the Pa-cific team may get the place on the S. C. schedule the other coast teams are seeking.

The report of Herb Dana, di-rector of officials working confer-ence games, was expected to recommend employment of more "outside" officials in important con-tests. A discussion of radio broadcasting also was to come be-fore the conference members dur-ing their sessions.

One of the first announcements to come from the meeting was that Washington State and University of Washington will play their an-nual game on a home-and-home basis. Next year's game, which was scheduled at Pullman, will be moved to Seattle.

TROJANS DROP LOYOLA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Both Loyola and St. Mary's probably will be dropped by Southern Cali-fornia from its 1934 foot-ball schedule, it was learn-ed today.

Prof. Hugh C. Willett of the general athletic commit-tee said the Trojans' sched-ule will consist of six coast conference games, two inter-sectional battles and a game with a non-conference Cali-fornia college, probably A. A. Stagg's College of the Paci-fic eleven.

Washington State, Oregon or Oregon State may be dropped in favor of some other conference member, Willett added. He said San-ta Clara was not being con-sidered.

TROJANS TIE FOR TITLE BY BEATING HUSKIES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(INS)—By defeating Coach James Phe-lan's Washington football team in the last conference game of the season, 13-7, the University of Southern California tied with Stan-ford and Oregon for the Pacific Coast conference championship each with four victories and one defeat. U. S. C. was tied once, but tie games are not figured in the standings.

The Trojans trailed 017 at the half Saturday but "Cotton" War-burton went into action in the third period and scored the two touchdowns that gave his team a hard earned victory in a brilliant football game.

St. Mary's defeated Southern Methodist university 18 to 6 in an intersectional game at San Fran-cisco.

Post-season games will find Santa Clara leaving soon for Ha-waii to play two Honolulu team during the Christmas holidays.

Team	W	L	T
Stanford	4	1	0
Oregon	4	1	0
U. S. C.	4	1	1
Oregon State	2	1	1

SAINT CAGERS WIN FIRST START, 39-25

Warming up for the Huntington Beach Invitational basketball tour-nament Thursday, Friday and Sat-urday of this week, Santa Ana high school's court team, under the new direction of Coach Reese Greene, inaugurated its '33 season with a 30-25 victory over Coach Bill Cole's Tustin varsity at Tus-tin. Hendrie and Lacy starred for the Saints, Francis for the Farm-ers.

The lineups:

Santa Ana (39)	Pos.	(25) Tustin
Hendrie (12)	F	(2) Forbes
Levens (2)	F	(12) Francis
Weimer (1)	C	(7) Spangler
Newton (2)	G	(2) Seacord
Lacy (14)	G	Teter

Substitutions: Santa Ana—Detriech, Youel Erdhaus (4), Mann, South-worth. Tustin— Bronner (1), Lim-baugh (1), Richards.

THEY MAKE THE LIONS ROAR

Here are three reasons why Columbia was chosen to represent the east in the Rose Bowl classic against Stanford, New Year's Day. Upper left is Coach Lou Little; catching a pass is Tony Matal, sensational end, and lower right is Joe Ferrara, tackle.

Three years ago Lou Little, of the Leominster, Mass., Littles, took over the job of eradicating the fleas from the mangy football hide of Columbia University's Lions. At that time he made a remark that now takes its place alongside "Have one on the house," or "Don't give up the ship."

Lou's classic statement was, "I did not come here to fail."

Then, to the astonishment of skeptical alumni, Mister Little, with the aid of lots of lateral passes, turned out a rejuvenated beast at Morningside Heights that has gone through three seasons with only three defeats, and cli-maxed his career by receiving the unexpected invitation to play Stanford in the Rose Bowl classic New Year's Day.

* * *

Lou and the Lion are hailed as a wonder combination in the east. It didn't take the man long to get started on his new job in 1930. He didn't demand a year in which to install his system at Columbia. He stepped right out and, with only 32 men in the squad, put over an attack that was probably the most deceptive in the east.

Little's career previous to his Columbia appointment was as spectacular as his tenure at the Morningside institution. He was an All-America tackle at Penn in 1916 and, after dodging shells in France, turned the trick again in 1919.

Pro football lured him for a while, but Georgetown university called him back to collegiate cir-cles, and it was at that school that he made a coaching name for himself.

In five campaigns his teams won 37, lost 8 and tied 3 games, scor-ing 1427 points against 172 for opponents. This shows that he devoted as much attention to at-tack as to defense.

To take the job at Columbia, Lou had to turn down an offer to pilot the football ship of his alma mater, Penn. But this wasn't so hard to do, for he received a three year contract at $18,000 a year to handle the fortunes of the Lion.

* * *

This year he was blessed with good material. He lost only a couple of last season's regulars, and had, as a nucleus, brilliant Cliff Montgomery, quarterback; Tony Matal, end; Ferrara, tackle, and Brominski, back.

His only problem was to re-place Frank Chippendale, fullback, who was out with an ailing stom-ach. So he unearthed a gent by the name of Nevel, and that per-sonage fitted in right well.

Having played on the line in college, Lou knew his backs could not get anywhere without a line. So he brought in Sam Cordovano, former college star who spends his spare time in adding college col-or to the mat game. And from Sam the boys in the forward wall have picked up a lot on the fine points of taking care of their men.

The only other newcomer to flash for Lou is Al Barabas, a 190-pound sophomore back who is the heaviest backfield ace to play for Little. Lou once asserted that a heavy backfield man was no good on earth if he couldn't go places in a hurry. That Al is playing regularly behind Columbia's line is a testimony to his worth.

* * *

Cliff Montgomery is probably the best player Lou has had at Columbia. This diminutive quar-terback will in some way resem-ble another star Stanford has faced this season—"Cotton" War-burton of Southern California. There is no doubt that "Tiny" Thornhill's boys will have to stop Cliff to stop the Lions. He is a triple-threater who ranks as the best quarterback in the east.

Cliff's handling of Little's in-tricate system of laterals and re-verses run from a single wing-back formation is flawless. In ad-dition to his generalship, he for-mer Kiski Prep star is the team's kicker, forward pass star, ball-totin' fool, and captain of the team

"Y" BASKETBALL

The Mormons defeated United Presbyterians, 18-14, in a Senior league game, and United Brethren earned a 22-7 victory over M. E. South in a Junior league contest in "Y" basketball Saturday night. Failure of the First Christians to report resulted in a 2-0 victory for the United Brethren in a scheduled Senior league game.

The lineups:

L. D. Saints (18)	(14) United Presby.
Padias (7)	F J. Webb
Sears (4)	F (2) Barnhart

United Brethren (22)	(7) M. E. South
Curnutt (4)	F Wicks
Miller (9)	F (7) Duffel
Bement (2)	C Cook
Bates (2)	G Barrett
Kadowaki (5)	G Hunter

Substitutions: United Brethren—McBride for Bates.

HUNTINGTON BEACH SET FOR CAGE PLAY

This meet was originated by the Huntington Beach Union High school and has attracted increas-ing interest each year. This year the following cities will send teams to the tournament: Pasadena, Whittier, San Diego, Oceanside, Capistrano, Santa Ana, Newport Beach, Tustin, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea-Olinda, Garden Grove, Excelsior, Chino, Ontario.

Games will be played afternoon and evening Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The schedule is arranged according to classes so that schools of the same rating wil play against each other down to the elimina-tion finals, when the titles will be decided.

Texas, Auburn, Kentucky After 'Hunk' Anderson

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Heartly ("Hunk") Anderson, who has been succeeded by Elmer Lay-den as football coach at Notre Dame, expects to continue coaching collegiate football, he said here today.

Texas university, Auburn university and the University of Kentucky were reported af-ter his services. Anderson would not comment on the re-ports.

VAN POMEROY WINS PROVISIONAL TITLE

Van Pomeroy today was hailed as the provisional-member golf champion o fthe Santa Ana Coun-try club, having defeated Paul ("Doc") Wallace, 7 and 6, in a 36-hole final yesterday.

Poemroy piled up a lead of five holes on the first nine, and Wal-lace wa sunable to overcome this "spot" on the subsequent 27.

Dee Whitney, winner over J. K.

Neumon, two up, this week faces Ernest Byrne, who eliminated Bob Spurgeon, 2 and 1, in th efinal round of the second flight.

Best ball—R. A. Emison and W. H. Spurgeon, 73-9-64; C. R. Furr and H. Overmyer, 76-11-65.

Mixer foursomes—Miss Lolita Mead and Dick Ewert, 84-10-74, low gross; Miss Nan Mead and T. B. Talbert, 94-22-72, low net.

BY GRIDDER

Los Angeles pride or Los An-geles obstinacy, call it whichever you will, made a financial flop of the Southern California jaysee championship game.

Not more than 1500 cash cus-tomers sat in on Santa Ana's sur-prising 7-6 victory at the Cub plant on North Vermont avenue, an ancient dirt field totally lacking accommodations that go hand-in-hand with modern football.

Los Angeles' park, once deserted by the old L. A. Normal school and later by U. C. L. A., has permanent bleachers that seat only about 700. Circus seats were spread clear around the field, but nobody oc-cupied them. The attendance was confined largely to students, admit-ted at cut-rates.

Santa Ana officials wanted to switch the game to the Municipal Bowl here, anticipating a crowd approximately as large as that which attended the Don-Fullerton tussle Thanksgiving Day. But Los Angeles executives said bigger and better business would accrue in the big town.

So L. A. lost not only its cham-pionship, but likewise about $1000 in cold cash, big dough in these times.

* * *

Possibly on the look-see for something besides a good football game, Coaches "Prink" Callison of Oregon and Leo Calland of Idaho headed the delegation of celebri-ties. Burt Heiser of Chaffey, Al Clayes of Citrus, "Deacon" Pine of Compton, Art Schaeffer of San Fernando, Bill Cole of Tustin, Stewart White of Orange and Johnny Ward of Garden Grove were there too.

* * *

Few really realized just how close Los Angeles came to kicking goal after its touchdown, and thereby getting a tie with the Cookmen.

Arnold Spragia's try for the ex-tra point actually grazed the left upright as it passed the wrong side of the post. With the bar still wiggling from the slight impact, nobody actually knew whether the kick was good or bad until Referee Jim Tunney signalled that it was wide.

* * *

Santa Ana has done right well by itself in football these past few years. The Dons were South-ern California champions in '29. The Saints won the prep title in '31 and were runners-up in '32. Now the Dons carry Santa Ana colors into the playoffs for the fourth time in five years.

* * *

Played here, the Don-Cub con-test probably would have done a land-office business. The Register's editorial department was swamp-ed with telephone calls all after-noon Saturday. They started be-fore the tussle got under way at 2 and continued far, far into the night.

* * *

Your humble correspondent thinks the real Santa Ana standouts were to couple of unsung linemen, Ben Slavin, a hustling left end, and Horace Ritner, a second string right tackle. The whole Don line performed adequately, even sensa-tionally against the giants in the Los Angeles forward wall, but Slavin and Ritner were especially strong.

If Slavin isn't an all conference end there just ain't no justice, thassall. During the Dons' drive to a touchdown, he made a remark-able catch of a forward pass. The throw was yards short, but Slavin stopped in his tracks, took two strides backward and leaped through the air for the ball. He fell heavily but held the sphere, on the 10-yard line, and the Dons scored a minute later.

* * *

Don loyalists got a thrill at the start of the second half. Quarter-back Berry caught Santa Ana's kickoff and ran through the whole Santa Ana team. He had a man there to run interference for him, too, but Berry ran right past him and Safety Harold Welty, com-ing up to meet the play nicely, timed his tackle just right and brought Berry down on the 45-yard stripe.

TENNIS

The second team from the Golden Gate Tennis club of Monte-bello defeated the second team from the Santa Ana Tennis club on the Frances Williard junior high school courts Sunday, 10 matches to 9.

Results:

Men's singles—Davis (SA) defeated Smith (M), 2-6, 6-1, 7-5; Viggars (SA) defeated Broadus (M), 6-4, 2-6, 6-3; Alden (SA) defeated Koogle (M), 6-3, 6-2; Frye (M) defeated Smalley (SA), 6-4, 6-2; Sample (M) defeated Bettis (SA), 6-2, 4-6, 6-1; Dain (M) defeated Moore (SA), 6-3, 6-2; Kuehl (M) de-feated Crawford (SA), 6-4, 7-5; Dam-erel (SA) defeated Ritter (M), 6-4, 7-5; Weber (M) defeated Lewis (SA), 6-2, 6-1; Johnson (M) defeated Coul-son, (SA) 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

Mixed dobules—Davis-Heath (SA) d. Smith-Moore (M), 6-3, 6-4; Viggars-Pennington (SA) d. Broadus-Payne (M), 6-3, 0-6, 7-5.

SAN MATEO CONTEST MAY FOLLOW 7-6 WIN AT L. A.

Southern California Junior college football champions, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons today anxiously awaited a challenge from San Mateo, Northern California titleholders, to a contest for state-wide recognition, following a breath-taking 7-6 victory which the Dons earned over a heavily favored Los Angeles eleven, Western division finalist, in the Southland's annual playoff in Los Angeles Saturday.

"San Mateo will be allowed to make the first move," Cook told The Register today in discussing the state titular game. "Unless we hear from it within the next 48 hours, however, it is probable we shall issue our own challenge by telegraph." It was understood here than San Mateo already had opened negotiations with Los An-geles, believing the Cubs certain to win from Santa Ana.

Not since 1927, when San Ber-nardino won the coveted title, had an Eastern division team been able to conquer its Western league opponent, which made Santa Ana's unexpected triumph over Los An-geles all the more striking. Riv-erside almost turned the trick in '31 and '32, the Tigers finishing one and five points, respectively, behind Compton and Pasadena in two bitterly-fought contests. San-ta Ana won the Southern Cali-fornia title in '29, but the Dons were members of the Western division that season.

Welty's Extra Point Wins

The same aerial combination—Harold Welty, fullback, to Walt Gunther, end—that came to their rescue against Fullerton Thanks-giving Day brought a touchdown to the Dons late in the first half, and Welty added the precious con-version point on a placekick.

Los Angeles scored in the mid-dle of the final quarter when Ed Battistessa, halfback, plunged a yard over right guard after a brilliant 50-yard drive. Arnold Spragia, substitute quarterback, was rushed into the game to at-tempt the conversion, but his kick was inches wide and left Santa Ana with the one-point margin that was to decide the spirited struggle.

Decisively outweighed both on the line and in the backfield, San-ta Ana nevertheless outplayed Los Angeles decisively during the first two quarters, rolled up five first downs—all that were made in the opening half—and 106 yards to Los Angeles' 54 from scrimmage.

It was a typical playoff contest, filled with exciting episodes, a thrilling drama between a small but fast Santa Ana team employ-ing the Howard Jones system and a bruising, heavyweight Los An-geles delegation operating under the baffling Notre Dame system. Both team shared the many "breaks" which occurred—costly fumbles and interceptions.

Teams Share Breaks

Los Angeles received the first opportunity to score, but passed it by in the opening quarter. After several exchanges of punts, the Cubs found themselves with the ball on their 40, and Fullback Don Williams got off a beautiful punt to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where End Schutz downed the ball. Weltny's punt sailed out of bounds on Santa Ana's 15. Three bone-crushing plunges by Williams brought the ball to the 6-yard line, but on fourth down Halfback Battistessa lost 12 yards on a bad pass from center and the Dons took possession on their 18. Santa Ana advanced to the 40, then punted to the Los Angeles 20.

The Dons received the second "break" when Welty intercepted a pass from Spragia to Santa Ana's 35 and returned to midfield. Welty tossed a pass to Ben Slavin, end, for a first down on the Los An-geles 35. Running plays brought the ball to the 26, and a clipping penalty on fourth down set the Cubs back to their 5 yard line. Los Angeles immediately punted Clair Preininger returning the kick from the Cub 28 to the 28. Ray Hapes, Don Safety, fumbled on the first play, however, and Wash-ington, alert Los Angeles guard, recovered on the 20. The Cubs finally were forced to put again, Welty returning the ball to the Los Angeles 43, from where Santa Ana's touchdown drive bagin.

Don Passes Effectve

Welty unleashed two brilliant passes—the first to Stoddard on the Cub 22, and the second to Slavin on the 10—and Santa Ana

First Quarter

Captain Hall of Los Angeles kicked off to Bell, who returned to Santa Ana's 28-yard line, fumbled, but Acting Captain Norton of the Dons recovered.

The Dons advanced two yards in two plays, threw an incomplete pass, and then Welty punted to Kraft on the Los Angeles 39.

Williams hit center for 4 yards, made 4 more off tackle, but fumbled on third down, Welty recovering for the Dons on Santa Ana's 43.

Welty went through center for 2 yards. Two incomplete passes to Bell were thrown by Welty, who then punted to Berry on the Cub 25.

Battistessa hit right tackle for 2 yards, and Williams made a long quick-kick to Santa Ana's 22. Hapes skirted left end for 3 yards, then was held for no gain off-tackle. Welty punted to Berry, who returned from his 41 to the Cub 47.

Battistessa passed incomplete to Berry. Kraft made 4 yards on a spinner. Williams circled right end for 5. Battistessa punted over the goal. Santa Ana took possession on its 20.

Welty earned 5, 1, lost 2 and then punted to Berry on the Los Angeles 46.

Kraft circled left end for 2 yards. Berry was thrown for a 6-yard loss on an attempted pass, and from his 40 Williams punted to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where End Schutz downed the ball. Welty's kick be-hind his goal went out of bounds on the Don 15.

Williams made 3 through the cen-ter, hit right tackle for 2, and went through center again for 4½ yards, but Battistessa lost 12 on a bad pass from center, Santa Ana taking the ball on downs on its own 18-yard line.

Hapes made 1 off tackle. Welty pierced center for 8½ yards, and then made a first down through the same hole. Welty earned 7½ yards on two line plunges as the first quarter ended. Santa Ana 0, Los Angeles 0.

Second Quarter

Third down and 2½ yards to go, Anderson made a first down to San-ta Ana's 39. Hapes made 1, Welty lost 1, Welty passed incomplete to Bell, and then punted to Quarter-back Spragia, who returned from the Cub 20 to the 29. Spragia failed to gain around end, and Williams kick-ed to Santa Ana's 27. Bell and Welty failed to gain, Welty punting out of bounds on the Los Angeles 48.

Welty intercepted Spragia's pass on the Don 35 and returned to the Cub 49.

Anderson made 2 yards at center, and a pass from Welty to Slavin netted a first down on the Los An-geles 35.

Welty was held for no gain. Mitch-ell earned 5 off-tackle. Welty passed incomplete to Slavin. Santa Ana was penalized 5 yards for offsides on Welty's kick. Mitchell punted out of bounds, but a 15-yard pen-alty for clipping on Los Angeles placed the ball on the Cub 5.

Battistessa punted to Preininger, who returned from the Los Angeles 28 to the 23. Washington recovered a fumble by Hapes on the Cub 20. Battistessa made 1, lost 1, and then kicked to Welty, who returned from his 45 to the Cub 43.

Welty made a yard around right end, and then passed to Stoddard for a first down on the Los Angeles 22. Mitchell earned 2 at center, Welty 5 off right tackle. The Dons were penalized 5 yards for offside. Welty hit left tackle for 2, then passed for a first down to Slavin on the 10-yard line.

Mitchell was held for no gain at left tackle. Welty made 2 off right tackle. Gunther barely missed Wel-ty's pass on the Cub 2-yard line. On fourth down Welty passed sharp-ly over center, Washington partially blocking the ball as it fell into the arms of Gunther. Santa Ana end, for a touchdown. Welty kicked goal and Santa Ana led, 7-0.

Tackle McSheffrey returned Sla-vin's kickoff to the Los Angeles 39. Spragia's first two passes were knocked down by Preininger and Ritner, but his third was completed to End Olson on the Cub 46. On fourth down Spragia passed incom-plete to Battistessa. A 5-yard pen-alty for two incomplete passes was inflicted, and Santa Ana took pos-session on the Cub 41.

Third Quarter

Slavin kicked off to Berry, who made a sensational return from his 3-yard line to the Los Angeles 45, where he was brought down by Welty, playing safety.

Williams made 3, Kraft 2. Battis-tessa's pass was incomplete. Wil-liams punted to the Don 25.

Williams made 4. Santa Ana was penalized 5 yards for offside and Battistessa earned a first down on the Don 21.

Battistessa earned 2, Williams 1, Kraft 1 to the Don 5, and a pass from Battistessa to Kraft on fourth down was good on Santa Ana's 1-foot line, but the Dons took the ball on downs. Mitchell kicked out of danger to Berry on the Don 41, Berry returning to the 34.

Battistessa passed to Perrin for a first down on Santa Ana's 23.

Williams made 3. Perrin failed to gain on an end-around play. Bat-tistessa passed incomplete to Perrin. Berry was thrown for a 6-yard loss by Bell on Santa Ana's 26, the Dons taking the ball on downs there.

Welty made 4, 1, 3 and then punt-ed to Kraft on the Cub 34.

Battistessa skirted right end for 8 yards, Kraft made 1 off tackle, Williams ½ through center, and Wil-liams a first down to the Cub 45.

Kraft earned a yard around end, Battistessa passed incomplete, and Battistessa pierced right tackle for 4 yards as the third quarter ended. Santa Ana 7, Los Angeles 0.

Fourth Quarter

On fourth down Williams punted to Preininger on Santa Ana's 15.

Mitchell earned 1. Hapes failed to gain. Mitchell made 2 and Mitchell punted to Waxman, who returned from his 45 to Santa Ana's 17.

Williams fumbled but Maxman re-covered on the Don 16. Kraft earned 4 around left end, Battistessa 1 off tackle, and Bell intercepted Battis-tessa's pass on the Don 10. Welty punted, but an offside penalty on Los Angeles gave the Dons the ball on the 15. Mitchell made 1 yard through center, and Welty quick-kicked to the Cub 38, Waxman re-turning to midfield.

Williams gained 8½ yards through center. Williams earned another yard, and Battistessa made it a first down on Santa Ana's 6.

Williams made 1. Battistessa failed to gain. Williams earned 4 to San-ta Ana's 1-yard line. Battistessa went off right guard for a touch-down. Spragia was sent in to make the conversion on a place kick but failed by inches and the Dons led, 7-6.

Hall kicked off to Welty, who re-turned to Santa Ana's 27.

Mitchell was held for no gain. Hapes lost 3 yards on 2 plays, and Welty punted to Waxman, who re-turned from his 32 to the 38.

Battistessa passed to Waxman for a first down on Santa Ana's 49.

Spragia and Battistessa threw in-complete passes, and Spragia at-tempted a third pass which Center Handy intercepted for the Dons on the 45, returned to Santa Ana's 48.

Hapes lost 3, Welty lost 1, Welty gained 2, and Welty punted to Waxman, who was downed by Slavin on the Los Angeles 29.

With less than a minute of play remaining, the Cubs unleashed three incomplete passes, were set back to their 19 on two 5-yard penalties, and on fourth down attempted an-other pass which Tucker, Don guard, intercepted as the game ended. Santa Ana 7, Los Angeles 6.

STATE TITLE GAME LOOMS FOR DONS

By DAVIS J. WALSH

CHICAGO, Dec. 11—They've call-d in the Salvation Army to make n estimate on the furniture. The irl at the cigar counter is all set o tell them how she's working ight and day to send her father nd mother through Harvard. hey've taken up the rugs, they've aken down the pictures. In fact, hey've moved everything except he marble on the floor.

In other words, everything is in eadiness for the annual major eague meetings, starting tomor-ow and ending with the joint eeting Thursday. This is known s the joint meeting because, by hat time, the joint is in terrible hape.

Right now, the air is rife, as they ay, with rumors of many trades, ot the least of which is the one hat is about to send Mickey Coch-ane to Detroit as player-manager. hat one, however, has gotten past he rumor stage, inasmuch as ev-rybody seems to assume that it's n, including Owner Navin, of De-oit.

Connie Mack Mum

Mr. Mack, of Philadelphia, so far as said nothing in a very few, ell chosen words but, neverthe-ss, the rumorists have already aded half his ball club. At that, 's largely the half he wound up ith last year, so if Mr. Mack goes hrough he'll be forced to use J. orace Biemish, the left handed noehle player, in right field next eason.

Among other projects attributed o him is the plan to send George arnshaw to Chicago for Charley erry and cash. He'll play Berry ehind the plate and the cash be-ind the door of the office safe. Rube" Walberg and Max Bishop lso are supposed to be on their ay to the Boston Red Sox.

The Giants are said to be after Babe" Herman and "Kiki" Cuyler. he Reds, it seems, are willing to isten to anything and this must e true, because I heard today that hey wanted Burt Shotton to man-ge the club. Mr. Shotton is under ontract to manage the Phillies, so here must be a catch in it some-here. Meantime, the Cubs, having ecided to dispense with comedy elief, are in the market for Hafey nd may outbid all others, the ubs having the Wrigley millions s a working margin.

Yanks Want Earl Averill

There has been some talk about the Yanks wanting Earl Averill rom Cleveland but there's no dis-inction in that. The club doesn't ive that doesn't want Averill, in-luding Cleveland. At that, it was understood the Indians had started something with the Browns on the basis of Averill for Burns and Mel-illo. If so, they didn't finish it.

I mean that, all told, nothing came of this and I might add that same for those splendid transac-tions that were to take "Lefty" Grove away from the Athletics and Dick Bartell from the Phillies. As far as Mack's price was concerned, the only difference between Grove and an ounce of radium is that the ounce of radium lasts longer.

Joe Stripp is a possibility, in fact, it'd say that he is a distinct probability, owing to the fact that he and Mr. Carey, his mana-ger, bow formally and pass by with averted gaze.

Dickinson Picks Michigan As National Champ

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Neither Columbia nor Stanford, the teams which meet in the National collegiate football classic in the Pasadena Rose Bowl game New Year's day, was rated among the first ten teams of the country by Prof. Frank G. Dickinson, whose system of rating foot-ball teams has been nation-ally recognized for years.

The first 10 teams as ranker by Dickinson were: Michigan, 28.52 points; Ne-braska, 24.61 points; Minne-sota, 23.87; Pittsburgh, 23.01; Ohio State, 22.79; Southern California, 22.61; Princeton, 22.50; Oregon, 22.36; Army, 22.16; Purdue, 21.88.

M'MANUS MAY MANAGE CINCY REDS, REPORT

He also declared that "Chick" Hafey will definitely remain with the Reds, the Cincinnati official having assured himself of Hafey's excellent health. MacPhail is just returned from an airplane trip to the coast to see the bespectacled outfielder.

HARBORITES SPANK WESTERN GAS, 7-4

..Collecting 13 hits off three op-posing hurlers, Newport Harbor trimmed Santa Ana Western Gas, 7-4, in an inter-city baseball game at Costa Mesa yesterday. Santa Ana led until the fourth in-ning, when the Harborites pushed across three runs, and then scored three more in the sixth. Santa Ana scored in the fourth and seventh.

IMPORT RACE HORSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Capt. Cuthbert Morse of New Zealand today revealed plans for bringing Arch Ruler, crack race horse, from the Antipodes for an invasion of American tracks. Other Antipodean equine visitors, including Winooka, Pillow Flight and Tea Trader, did not fare well in their invesions.

ALL-AMERICA MOANS

Plaintive moans and shrill shrieks resound through the land . . . because the All-America se-lectors ignored so many splendid football players . . . today's mail brings squawks from New Eng-land, the middle west and the Pacific Coast.

New England asks firmly but gently why no Holy Cross, Yale, Fordham, Harvard, Dartmouth or Princeton player was named on the first team . . . pointing with pride to the Holy Cross line and Princeton's fine backfield led by Garry LeVan.

Indiana operatives want to know if the coaches who helped to pick the all-star teams really are blind . . . and why was Purvis of Pur-due left off? . . . and did you ever hear of a gent named Everhardus who played in the Michigan back-field? . . . Is it the policy of pickers to refuse to pick two men from the same team even if the players are superior in every de-partment to others chosen?

* * *

STEPPING ON IT

Billy Stepp, Portland sports scribe, dips his pen into vitriol and recounts the wrongs of other years somewhat as follows:

'Didn't Norman Franklin (Ore-gon State back) spread his name in bold enough type for the pick-ers from all parts of the universe to see? One year they passed up the 'Flying Dutchman,' Johnny Kitzmiller. The next year they for-got Hal Moe. And this year with a player like Franklin standing out like Durante's schnozzle they overlook him entirely.

"It makes my blood boil and I'm in favor of staging a San Jose tea party.

"Did you know that Franklin re-turned two kickoffs for touch-downs? . . . one against Ford-ham, the other against San Fran-cisco? . . . How many all-what-nots are doing that this year? . . . Did you know that he kicked 1765 yards in four standout games . . . against Southern California, Fordham, Oregon and Washington State? . . . that he advanced the ball 288 yards and lost 51 yards in 78 tries against the same teams? . . . and completed nine of 25 at-tempted passes against the same crowd?

"Red returned 19 punts for an average of 11.5 yards per return . . . and these figures are against BALL CLUBS . . . ask your coach-ing friends how they'd like to have Oregon, U. S. C., Washing-ton State and Fordham on their schedules next year.

AND MIKULAK

"It's no skin off my ears but a team without Franklin is a joke . . . don't think I'm plugging for him because he's an Oregon man . . . he really hails from Californ-nia and played on the same high school team with 'Cotton' War-burton . . . Franklin was the first string man and Warburton the understudy.

"This All-America stuff has got me all worked up, and instead of laughing it off I have to sit and bark . . . I've done it for the last 10 years . . . and we've had no Oregon man on your coaches' team since the Pilgrims landed."

After a letter like that, com-ment seems unnecessary.

PROPOSE COAST GRID SCHEDULE LIKE B I G TEN'S

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Closer intra-conference foot-ball competition in the manner of the mid-western "Big Ten" was recommended today for the Pacific Coast conference which met here in its annual two-day session.

Al Masters, graduate manager of Stanford university, co-cham-pions with Oregon in the 1933 con-ference standings, brought forward the proposal to eliminate "breath-er" contests and arrange sched-ules in which "every game means something."

"Obviously Stanford cannot stand alone in this position, but Stan-ford has declared itself and hopes that an agreement can be reached with other major teams," Masters said.

"Because of the necessity of scheduling easy games between hard ones under the present policy, Stanford has found it impossible to play teams that should be natural rivals. Stanford has never played Washington State and has not met Oregon in many years."

The principal business of the meeting here was to arrange 1934 schedules. Representatives of St. Mary's, Santa Clara and Univer-sity of San Francisco, strong non-conference elevens, sought games to fill their schedules.

A representative of Southern California announced that Amos Alonzo Stagg's College of the Pa-cific team may get the place on the S. C. schedule the other coast teams are seeking.

The report of Herb Dana, di-rector of officials working confer-ence games, was expected to recommend employment of more "outside" officials in important con-tests. A discussion of radio broadcasting also was to come be-fore the conference members dur-ing their sessions.

One of the first announcements to come from the meeting was that Washington State and University of Washington will play their an-nual game on a home-and-home basis. Next year's game, which was scheduled at Pullman, will be moved to Seattle.

TROJANS DROP LOYOLA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Both Loyola and St. Mary's probably will be dropped by Southern Cali-fornia from its 1934 foot-ball schedule, it was learn-ed today.

Prof. Hugh C. Willett of the general athletic commit-tee said the Trojans' sched-ule will consist of six coast conference games, two inter-sectional battles and a game with a non-conference Cali-fornia college, probably A. A. Stagg's College of the Paci-fic eleven.

Washington State, Oregon or Oregon State may be dropped in favor of some other conference member, Willett added. He said San-ta Clara was not being con-sidered.

TROJANS TIE FOR TITLE BY BEATING HUSKIES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(INS)—By defeating Coach James Phe-lan's Washington football team in the last conference game of the season, 13-7, the University of Southern California tied with Stan-ford and Oregon for the Pacific Coast conference championship each with four victories and one defeat. U. S. C. was tied once, but tie games are not figured in the standings.

The Trojans trailed 017 at the half Saturday but "Cotton" War-burton went into action in the third period and scored the two touchdowns that gave his team a hard earned victory in a brilliant football game.

St. Mary's defeated Southern Methodist university 18 to 6 in an intersectional game at San Fran-cisco.

Post-season games will find Santa Clara leaving soon for Ha-wail to play two Honolulu team during the Christmas holidays.

Team	W	L	T
Oregon	4	1	0
U. S. C.	4	1	1
Oregon State	2	1	1
Washington	3	4	0
California	2	2	2
Washington State	3	3	1
U. C. L. A.	1	3	1
Idaho	1	4	0

SAINT CAGERS WIN FIRST START, 39-25

Warming up for the Huntington Beach Invitational basketball tour-nament Thursday, Friday and Sat-urday of this week, Santa Ana high school's court team, under the new direction of Coach Reese Greene, inagurated its '33 season with a 30-25 victory over Coach Bill Cole's Tustin varsity at Tus-tin. Hendrie and Lacy starred for the Saints, Francis for the Farm-ers.

The lineups:

Santa Ana (39)	Pos.	(25) Tustin
Hendrie (12)	F	(2) Forbes
Levens (2)	F	(12) Francis
Weimer (1)	C	(7) Spangler
Newton (2)	G	(2) Seacord
Lacy (14)	G	Teter

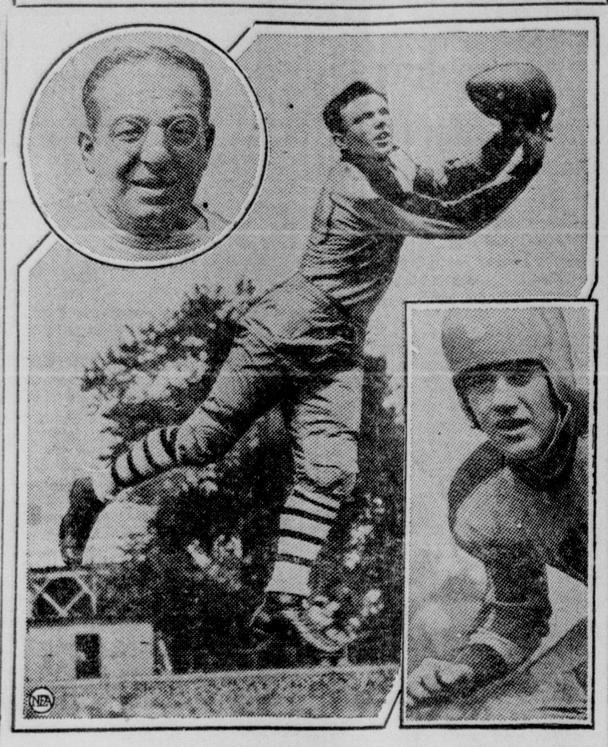
THEY MAKE THE LIONS ROAR

Here are three reasons why Columbia was chosen to represent the east in the Rose Bowl classic against Stanford, New Year's Day. Upper left is Coach Lou Little; catching a pass is Tony Matal, sensational end, and lower right is Joe Ferrara, tackle.



Three years ago Lou Little, of the Leominster, Mass., Littles, took over the job of eradicating the fleas from the mangy football hide of Columbia University's Lions. At that time he made a remark that now takes its place alongside "Have one on the house," or "Don't give up the ship."

Lou's classic statement was, "I did not come here to fail."

Then, to the astonishment of skeptical alumni, Mister Little, with the aid of lots of lateral passes, turned out a rejuvenated beast at Morningside Heights that has gone through three seasons with only three defeats, and cli-maxed his career by receiving the unexpected invitation to play Stanford in the Rose Bowl classic New Year's Day.

* * *

Lou and the Lion are hailed as a wonder combination in the east. It didn't take the man long to get started on his new job in 1930. He didn't demand a year in which to install his system at Columbia. He stepped right out and, with only 32 men in the squad, put over an attack that was probably the most deceptive in the east.

Little's career previous to his Columbia appointment was as spectacular as his tenure at the Morningside institution. He was an All-America tackle at Penn in 1916 and, after dodging shells in France, turned the trick again in 1919.

Pro football lured him for a while, but Georgetown university called him back to collegiate cir-cles, and it was at that school that he made a coaching name for himself.

In five campaigns his teams won 37, lost 8 and tied 3 games, scor-ing 1427 points against 172 for opponents. This shows that he devoted as much attention to at-tack as to defense.

To take the job at Columbia, Lou had to turn down an offer to pilot the football ship of his alma mater, Penn. But this wasn't so hard to do, for he received a three year contract at $18,000 a year to handle the fortunes of the Lion.

* * *

This year he was blessed with good material. He lost only a couple of last season's regulars, and had, as a nucleus, brilliant Cliff Montgomery, quarterback; Tony Matal, end; Ferrara, tackle, and Brominski, back.

His only problem was to re-place Frank Chippendale, fullback, who was out with an ailing stom-ach. So he unearthed a gent by the name of Nevel, and that per-sonage fitted in right well.

Having played on the line in college, Lou knew his backs could not get anywhere without a line. So he brought in Sam Cordovano, former college star who spends his spare time in adding college col-or to the mat game. And from Sam the boys in the forward wall have picked up a lot on the fine points of taking care of their men.

The only other newcomer to flash for Lou is Al Barabas, a 190-pound sophomore back who is the heaviest backfield ace to play for Little. Lou once asserted that a heavy backfield man was no good on earth if he couldn't go places in a hurry. That Al is playing regularly behind Columbia's line is a testimony to his worth.

* * *

Cliff Montgomery is probably the best player Lou has had at Columbia. This diminutive quar-terback will in some way resem-ble another star Stanford has faced this season—"Cotton" War-burton of Southern California. There is no doubt that "Tiny" Thornhill's boys will have to stop Cliff to stop the Lions. He is a triple-threater who ranks as the best quarterback in the east.

Cliff's handling of Little's in-tricate system of laterals and re-verses run from a single wing-back formation is flawless. In ad-dition to his generalship, he for-mer Kiski Prep star is the team's kicker, forward pass star, ball-totin' fool, and captain of the team

"Y" BASKETBALL

The Mormons defeated United Presbyterians, 18-14, in a Senior league game, and United Brethren earned a 22-7 victory over M. E. South in a Junior league contest in "Y" basketball Saturday night. Failure of the First Christians to report resulted in a 2-0 victory for the United Brethren in a scheduled Senior league game.

The lineups:

L. D. Saints (18)	(14) United Presby.
Padias (7)	F J. Webb
Sears (4)	F (2) Barnhart
Wetzel (7)	C (6) Beall
Gardner	G Boyle
	G (6) Lockhart

United Brethren (22)	(7) M. E. South
Curnutt (4)	F Wicks
Miller (9)	F (7) Duffel
Bement (2)	C Cook
Bates (2)	G Barrett
Kadowaki (5)	G Hunter

Substitutions: United Brethren—McBride for Bates.

HUNTINGTON BEACH SET FOR CAGE PLAY

This meet was originated by the Huntington Beach Union High school and has attracted increas-ing interest each year. This year the following cities will send teams to the tournament: Pasadena, Whittier, San Diego, Oceanside, Capistrano, Santa Ana, Newport Beach, Tustin, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea-Olinda, Garden Grove, Excelsior, Chino, Ontario.

Games will be played afternoon and evening Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The schedule is arranged according to classes so that schools of the same rating wil play against each other down to the elimina-tion finals, when the titles will be decided.

Texas, Auburn, Kentucky After 'Hunk' Anderson

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Heartly ("Hunk") Anderson, who has been succeeded by Elmer Lay-den as football coach at Notre Dame, expects to continue coaching collegiate football, he said here today.

Texas university, Auburn university and the University of Kentucky were reported af-ter his services. Anderson would not comment on the re-ports.

VAN POMEROY WINS PROVISIONAL TITLE

Van Pomeroy today was hailed as the provisional-member golf champion o fthe Santa Ana Coun-try club, having defeated Paul ("Doc") Wallace, 7 and 6, in a 36-hole final yesterday.

Poemroy piled up a lead of five holes on the first nine, and Wal-lace wa sunable to overcome this "spot" on the subsequent 27.

Dee Whitney, winner over J. K.

Neumon, two up, this week faces Ernest Byrne, who eliminated Bob Spurgeon, 2 and 1, in th efinal round of the second flight.

Sweepstakes winners:

Best ball—R. A. Emison and W. H. Spurgeon, 73-9-64; C. R. Furr and H. Overmyer, 76-11-65.

Mixer foursomes—Miss Lolita Mead and Dick Ewert, 84-10-74, low gross; Miss Nan Mead and T. B. Talbert, 94-22-72, low net.

BY GRIDDER

Los Angeles pride or Los An-geles obstinacy, call it whichever you will, made a financial flop of the Southern California jaysee championship game.

Not more than 1500 cash cus-tomers sat in on Santa Ana's sur-prising 7-6 victory at the Cub plant on North Vermont avenue, an ancient dirt field totally lacking accommodations that go hand-in-hand with modern football.

Los Angeles' park, once deserted by the old L. A. Normal school and later by U. C. L. A., has perman-ent bleachers that seat only about 700. Circus seats were spread clear around the field, but nobody oc-cupied them. The attendance was confined largely to students, admit-ted at cut-rates.

Santa Ana officials wanted to switch the game to the Municipal Bowl here, anticipating a crowd approximately as large as that which attended the Don-Fullerton tussle Thanksgiving Day. But Los Angeles executives said bigger and better business would accrue in the big town.

So L. A. lost not only its cham-pionship, but likewise about $1000 in cold cash, big dough in these times.

* * *

Possibly on the look-see for something besides a good football game, Coaches "Prink" Callison of Oregon and Leo Calland of Idaho headed the delegation of celebri-ties. Burt Heiser of Chaffey, Al Clayes of Citrus, "Deacon" Pine of Compton, Art Schaeffer of San Fernando, Bill Cole of Tustin, Stewart White of Orange and Johnny Ward of Garden Grove were there too.

* * *

Few really realized just how close Los Angeles came to kicking goal after its touchdown, and thereby getting a tie with the Cookmen.

Arnold Spragia's try for the ex-tra point actually grazed the left upright as it passed the wrong side of the post. With the bar still wiggling from the slight impact, nobody actually knew whether the kick was good or bad until Referee Jim Tunney signalled that it was wide.

* * *

Santa Ana has done right well by itself in football these past few years. The Dons were South-ern California champions in '29. The Saints won the prep title in '31 and were runners-up in '32. Now the Dons carry Santa Ana colors into the playoffs for the fourth time in five years.

* * *

Played here, the Don-Cub con-test probably would have done a land-office business. The Register's editorial department was swamped with telephone calls all after-noon Saturday. They started be-fore the tussle got under way at 2 and continued far, far into the night.

* * *

Your humble correspondent thinks the real Santa Ana standouts were to couple of unsung linemen, Ben Slavin, a hustling left end, and Horace Ritner, a second string right tackle. The whole Don line performed adequately, even sensa-tionally against the giants in the Los Angeles forward wall, but Slavin and Ritner were especially strong.

If Slavin isn't an all conference end there just ain't no justice, thassall. During the Dons' drive to a touchdown, he made a remark-able catch of a forward pass. The throw was yards short, but Slavin stopped in his tracks, took two strides backward and leaped through the air for the ball. He fell heavily but held the sphere, on the 10-yard line, and the Dons scored a minute later.

* * *

Don loyalists got a thrill at the start of the second half. Quarter-back Berry caught Santa Ana's kickoff and ran through the whole Santa Ana team. He had a man there to run interference for him, too, but Berry ran right past him and Safety Harold Welty, com-ing up to meet the play nicely, timed his tackle just right and brought Berry down on the 45-yard stripe.

SAN MATEO CONTEST MAY FOLLOW 7-6 WIN AT L. A.

Southern California Junior college football champions, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons today anxiously awaited a challenge from San Mateo, Northern California titleholders, to a contest for state-wide recognition, following a breath-taking 7-6 victory which the Dons earned over a heavily favored Los Angeles eleven, Western division finalist, in the Southland's annual playoff in Los Angeles Saturday.

"San Mateo will be allowed to make the first move," Cook told The Register today in discussing the state titular game. "Unless we hear from it within the next 48 hours, however, it is probable we shall issue our own challenge by telegraph." It was understood here than San Mateo already had opened negotiations with Los An-geles, believing the Cubs certain to win from Santa Ana.

Not since 1927, when San Ber-nardino won the coveted title, had an Eastern division team been able to conquer its Western league opponent, which made Santa Ana's unexpected triumph over Los An-geles all the more striking. Riv-erside almost turned the trick in '31 and '32, the Tigers finishing one and five points, respectively, behind Compton and Pasadena in two bitterly-fought contests. San-ta Ana won the Southern Cali-fornia title in '29, but the Dons were members of the Western division that season.

Welty's Extra Point Wins

The same aerial combination—Harold Welty, fullback, to Walt Gunther, end—that came to their rescue against Fullerton Thanks-giving Day brought a touchdown to the Dons late in the first half, and Welty added the precious con-version point on a placekick.

Los Angeles scored in the mid-dle of the final quarter when Ed Battistessa, halfback, plunged a yard over right guard after a brilliant 50-yard drive. Arnold Spragia, substitute quarterback, was rushed into the game to at-tempt the conversion, but his kick was inches wide and left Santa Ana with the one-point margin that was to decide the spirited struggle.

Decisively outweighed both on the line and in the backfield, San-ta Ana nevertheless outplayed Los Angeles decisively during the first two quarters, rolled up five first downs—all that were made in the opening half—and 106 yards to Los Angeles' 54 from scrimmage.

It was a typical playoff contest, filled with exciting episodes, a thrilling drama between a small but fast Santa Ana team employ-ing the Howard Jones system and a bruising, heavyweight Los An-geles delegation operating under the baffling Notre Dame system. Both team shared the many "breaks" which occurred—costly fumbles and interceptions.

Teams Share Breaks

Los Angeles received the first opportunity to score, but passed it by in the opening quarter. After several exchanges of punts, the Cubs found themselves with the ball on their 40, and Fullback Don Williams got off a beautiful punt to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where End Schutx downed the ball. Weltny's punt sailed out of bounds on Santa Ana's 15. Three bone-crushing plunges by Williams brought the ball to the 6-yard line, but on fourth down Halfback Battistessa lost 12 yards on a bad pass from center and the Dons took possession on their 18. Santa Ana advanced to the 40, then punted to the Los Angeles 20.

The Dons received the second "break" when Welty intercepted a pass from Spragia to Santa Ana's 35 and returned to midfield. Welty tossed a pass to Ben Slavin, end, for a first down on the Los An-geles 35. Running plays brought the ball to the 26, and a clipping penalty on fourth down set the Cubs back to their 5 yard line. Los Angeles immediately punted Clair Preininger returning the kick from the Cub 28 to the 28. Ray Hapes, Don Safety, fumbled on the first play, however, and Wash-ington, alert Los Angeles guard, recovered on the 20. The Cubs finally were forced to put again, Welty returning the ball to the Los Angeles 43, from where Santa Ana's touchdown drive bagin.

Don Passes Effectve

Welty unleashed two brilliant passes—the first to Stoddard on the Cub 22, and the second to Slavin on the 10—and Santa Ana

ON TO SAN MATEO!

First Quarter

Captain Hall of Los Angeles kicked off to Bell, who returned to Santa Ana's 28-yard line, fumbled, but Acting Captain Norton of the Dons recovered.

The Dons advanced two yards in two plays, threw an incomplete pass, and then Welty punted to Kraft on the Los Angeles 39.

Williams hit center for 4 yards, made 4 more off tackle, but fumbled on third down, Welty recovering for the Dons on Santa Ana's 43.

Welty went through center for 2 yards. Two incomplete passes to Bell were thrown by Welty, who then punted to Berry on the Cub 25.

Battistessa hit right tackle for 2 yards, and Williams made a long quick-kick to Santa Ana's 22. Hapes skirted left end for 3 yards, then was held for no gain off-tackle. Welty punted to Berry, who returned from his 41 to the Cub 47.

Battistessa passed incomplete to Berry. Kraft made 4 yards on a spinner. Williams circled right end for 5. Battistessa punted over the goal. Santa Ana took possession on its 20.

Welty earned 5, 1, lost 2 and then punted to Berry on the Los Angeles 46.

Kraft circled left end for 2 yards. Berry was thrown for a 6-yard loss on an attempted pass, and from his 40 Williams punted to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where End Schutz downed the ball. Welty's kick be-hind his goal went out of bounds on the Don 15.

Williams made 3 through the cen-ter, hit right tackle for 2, and went through center again for 4½ yards, but Battistessa lost 12 on a bad pass from center, Santa Ana taking the ball on downs on its own 18-yard line.

Hapes made 1 off tackle. Welty pierced center for 8½ yards, and then made a first down through the same hole. Welty earned 7½ yards on two line plunges as the first quarter ended. Santa Ana 0, Los Angeles 0.

Second Quarter

Third down and 2½ yards to go, Anderson made a first down to San-ta Ana's 39. Hapes made 1, Welty lost 1, Welty passed incomplete to Bell, and then punted to Quarter-back Spragia, who returned from the Cub 20 to the 29. Spragia failed to gain around end, and Williams kick-ed to Santa Ana's 27. Bell and Welty failed to gain, Welty punting out of bounds on the Los Angeles 48.

Welty intercepted Spragia's pass on the Don 35 and returned to the Cub 49.

Anderson made 2 yards at center, and a pass from Welty to Slavin netted a first down on the Los An-geles 35.

Welty was held for no gain. Mitch-ell earned 5 off-tackle. Welty passed incomplete to Slavin. Santa Ana was penalized 5 yards for offside on Welty's kick. Mitchell punted out of bounds, but a 15-yard pen-alty for clipping on Los Angeles placed the ball on the Cub 5.

Battistessa punted to Preininger, who returned from the Los Angeles 28 to the 23. Washington recovered a fumble by Hapes on the Cub 20. Battistessa made 1, lost 1, and then kicked to Welty, who returned from his 45 to the Cub 43.

Welty made a yard around right end, and then passed to Stoddard for a first down on the Los Angeles 22. Mitchell earned 2 at center, Welty 5 off right tackle. The Dons were penalized 5 yards for offside. Welty hit left tackle for 2, then passed for a first down to Slavin on the 10-yard line.

Mitchell was held for no gain at left tackle. Welty made 2 off right tackle. Gunther barely missed Wel-ty's pass on the Cub 2-yard line. On fourth down Welty passed sharp-ly over center, Washington partially blocking the ball as it fell into the arms of Gunther, Santa Ana end, for a touchdown. Welty kicked goal and Santa Ana led, 7-0.

Tackle McSheffrey returned Sla-vin's kickoff to the Los Angeles 39. Spragia's first two passes were knocked down by Preininger and Ritner, but his third was completed to End Olson on the Cub 46. On fourth down Spragia passed incom-plete to Battistessa. A 5-yard pen-alty for two incomplete passes was inflicted, and Santa Ana took pos-session on the Cub 41.

Third Quarter

Slavin kicked off to Berry, who made a sensational return from his 3-yard line to the Los Angeles 45, where he was brought down by Welty, playing safety.

Williams made 3, Kraft 2. Battis-tessa's pass was incomplete. Wil-liams punted to the Don 25.

Mitchell made a yard through cen-ter, Welty 2 off tackle, and Mitchell punted out of bounds on Santa Ana's 36.

Williams made 4. Santa Ana was penalized 5 yards for offside and Battistessa earned a first down on the Don 21.

Battistessa earned 2, Williams 1, Kraft 1 to the Don 5, and a pass from Battistessa to Kraft on fourth down was good on Santa Ana's 1-foot line, but the Dons took the ball on downs. Mitchell kicked out of danger to Berry on the Don 41, Berry returning to the 34.

Battistessa passed to Perrin for a first down on Santa Ana's 23.

Williams made 3. Perrin failed to gain on an end-around play. Bat-tistessa passed incomplete to Perrin. Berry was thrown for a 6-yard loss by Bell on Santa Ana's 26, the Dons taking the ball on downs there.

Welty made 4, 1, 3 and then punt-ed to Kraft on the Cub 34.

Battistessa skirted right end for 8 yards, Kraft made 1 off tackle, Williams ½ through center, and Wil-liams a first down to the Cub 45.

Kraft earned a yard around end, Battistessa passed incomplete, and Battistessa pierced right tackle for 4 yards as the third quarter ended. Santa Ana 7, Los Angeles 0.

Fourth Quarter

On fourth down Williams punted to Preininger on Santa Ana's 15.

Mitchell earned 1. Hapes failed to gain. Mitchell made 2 and Mitchell punted to Waxman, who returned from his 45 to Santa Ana's 17.

Williams fumbled but Maxman re-covered on the Don 16. Kraft earned 4 around left end, Battistessa 1 off tackle, and Bell intercepted Battis-tessa's pass on the Don 10. Welty punted, but an offside penalty on Los Angeles gave the Dons the ball on the 15. Mitchell made 1 yard through center, and Welty quick-kicked to the Cub 38, Waxman re-turning to midfield.

Williams gained 8½ yards through center. Williams earned another yard, and Battistessa made it a first down on Santa Ana's 6.

Williams made 1. Battistessa failed to gain. Williams earned 4 to San-ta Ana's 1-yard line. Battistessa went off right guard for a touch-down. Spragia was sent in to make the conversion on a place kick but failed by inches and the Dons led, 7-6.

Hall kicked off to Welty, who re-turned to Santa Ana's 27.

Mitchell was held for no gain. Hapes lost 3 yards on 2 plays, and Welty punted to Waxman, who re-turned from his 32 to the 38.

Battistessa passed to Waxman for a first down on Santa Ana's 49.

Spragia and Battistessa threw in-complete passes, and Spragia at-tempted a third pass which Center Handy intercepted for the Dons on the 45, returned to Santa Ana's 48.

Hapes lost 3, Welty lost 1, Welty gained 2, and Welty punted to Waxman, who was downed by Slavin on the Los Angeles 29.

With less than a minute of play remaining, the Cubs unleashed three incomplete passes, were set back to their 19 on two 5-yard penalties, and on fourth down attempted an-other pass which Tucker, Don guard, intercepted as the game ended. Santa Ana 7, Los Angeles 6.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

ANNUAL DINNER IS ENJOYED BY SCHOOL GROUP

The school cafeteria, where the banquet was held, was colorfully decorated in orange and yellow. The long tables were decorated with tissue paper horns of plenty and colorful baskets, which were filled with various autumn fruits. Of unusual interest were the several candle holders made out of bottles in many shapes.

Miss Elsie Kokx, president of the G. A. A., delivered the welcome, which was responded to by Bob Goodwin, captain of the football team. Miss Helen Volberding, program chairman, presided over the banquet.

Misses Martha Stanfield, Wilma Stanfield, Mildred Moore and Helen Mollica, delightfully presented several numbers including, "I Want You, I Need You," "You Gotta Be a Football Hero," "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore," and "By a Waterfall." They were accompanied by Miss Leona Sheil at the piano.

Short talks were given by A. Haven Smith, principal of the high school, and W. O. Hart, a representative of the community, after which members of the school board were introduced.

Miss Dorothy Flintham, accompanied by Miss Miriam Powell, sang "Carissima," by Penn, which was followed by a dance by Miss Louise Goble.

A tribute to the team and Coach White was given by Mason Fishback. White then introduced Elgin Black, captain-elect.

Miss Luberta Morgan presented two readings, "A Visit to the Butcher Shop," and "Suggestions for Men." Howard Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Christine Lambert, sang, "Thanks" and "The Day You Came Along." The evening's entertainment was closed by selections on the marimba by Miss Esther Thomas.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

ANNUAL DINNER IS ENJOYED BY SCHOOL GROUP

The school cafeteria, where the banquet was held, was colorfully decorated in orange and yellow. The long tables were decorated with tissue paper horns of plenty and colorful baskets, which were filled with various autumn fruits. Of unusual interest were the several candle holders made out of bottles in many shapes.

Miss Elsie Kokx, president of the G. A. A., delivered the welcome, which was responded to by Bob Goodwin, captain of the football team. Miss Helen Volberding, program chairman, presided over the banquet.

Misses Martha Stanfield, Wilma Stanfield, Mildred Moore and Helen Mollica, delightfully presented several numbers including, "I Want You, I Need You," "You Gotta Be a Football Hero," "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore," and "By a Waterfall." They were accompanied by Miss Leona Shell at the piano.

Short talks were given by A. Haven Smith, principal of the high school, and W. O. Hart, a representative of the community, after which members of the school board were introduced.

Miss Dorothy Flintham, accompanied by Miss Miriam Powell, sang "Carissima," by Penn, which was followed by a dance by Miss Louise Goble.

Miss Luberta Morgan presented two readings, "A Visit to the Butcher Shop," and "Suggestions for Men." Howard Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Christine Lambert, sang, "Thanks" and "The Day You Came Along." The evening's entertainment was closed by selections on the marimba by Miss Esther Thomas.

School Students' Programs Dec. 14

EL MODENA, Dec. 11.—"The Nativity" will be presented by pupils of the Roosevelt school Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. "A Christmas Story" will be given by the pupils of the Lincoln building on the same evening.

Minister Speaks On U. S. Conditions

ORANGE, Dec. 11.—The Rev. Welles Mortimer Partridge, traveling minister of the Episcopal church, was the speaker at the Sunday morning services at the Orange Trinity Episcopal church, telling of conditions throughout the United States. The Rev. Mr. Partridge recently concluded a trip accross the country, covering 6000 miles, during which time he preached in various chapels and cathedrals, besides visiting prisons and slums.

HOLD WALTHER LEAGUE RALLY DECEMBER 16

ORANGE, Dec. 11.—Winners in a recent membership contest will be the guests of the losers at a party to be held in the social hall of the Immanuel Lutheran church New Year's eve by members of the Walther league. The committee in charge is composed of Eldo Sprecher, Arnold Sprecher and Edith Koelong.

Plans for the party were made at a recent meting of the league when a talk was given by the pastor, the Rev. A. G. Webbeking. A rally will be held December 16, it was announced.

Christmas Club In Gift Exchange

ORANGE, Dec. 11.—A party was given for members of the Christmas club at the home of Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock Friday. Gifts were exchanged and the home was appropriately decorated. Refreshments were served on individual trays and favors were miniature frosted Christmas trees and candy canes.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Mrs. J. L. Knesel. Present were Mesdames Hattie Davis, Thomas Morin, E. J. Browne, Clara Browne, Handley, Meier, C. W. Coffey, Olivia Holt, Elizabeth Braisher, Miss Flora Yoeman, Willard Newkirk Handley and two guests, Mrs. Lottoe Dwyer, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Josephine Browne, of Orange.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

EL MODENA, Dec. 11.—Mrs. L. W. Evans will open her home on North Alameda street Wednesday afternoon to members of the El Modena W. C. T. U. and their friends.

CHURCHES IN ARRANGEMENTS FOR YULE WEEK PROGRAMS

ORANGE, Dec. 11. — Varied Christmas programs are planned by churches of this city. The members of the First Methodist church will give on the evening of December 22, "The Bird's Christmas Carol," with Miss Pauline Ivens heading the committee on arrangements. The "white" Christmas of this church will be observed next Sunday, with R. C. Patton in general charge. Dr. J. E. Dunning will deliver a short address.

St. John's Lutheran church will present a program of readings and music at the church Christmas eve. The program will relate the story of the Christ Child and is an original arrangement made by the principal of St. John's school. Several musical numbers will be interspersed with readings and recitations. Two songs at the opening and closing of the exercises will be sung by the congregation. E. E Wunderlick will be the accompanist. A Christmas tree and gifts to each child present will be features of the program.

The First Christian church will observe "white" Christmas next Sunday. A program December 22 will be in charge of the Bertha Epley guild, with Mrs. Dorothy Ferrin at the head. An old fashioned program of Christmas recitations and songs will be given. There is to be a tree and a treat for the children.

The Immanuel Lutheran church will present a varied and interesting program of readings and songs on Christmas eve. The children of the Immanuel parochial school will be directed by the principal of the school, E. T. Pingle. A tree and gifts are a part of the program planned.

The First Baptist church will give a pageant based on the Christmas story and Henry Miller, general superintendent; Thomas Huffman, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Tod Brown, intermediate superintendent, and Mrs. Horace Newman, junior superintendent, will be in charge.

At the First Presbyterian church Mrs. Earl Smith will direct a play, "The First Christmas", by Reta Benson. The children of the lower departments are to furnish the music.

PASTOR TO SPEAK AT P.-T. A. MEET

EL MODENA, Dec. 11.—The El Modena P.-T. A. will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the library room of the Roosevelt building. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Christian church of Orange, will speak on "Religion and Character." Mrs. Joseph Bricke, Mrs. Donald Smiley, Mrs. Douglas Marshburn and Mrs. Joseph Hancock will serve as hostesses.

The executive board and chairman of the P.-T. A. met Friday in the home of Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert on North Alameda street. Present were Mrs. Marion Flippen, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Mrs. Owen Smith, Mrs. Ted Stanley, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. Elmer Koenig, Mrs. Douglas Noble, and Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert.

Bridge Enjoyed In Olive Home

OLIVE, Dec. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. D. Burdg entertained the "500" club at their home on Oceanview avenue Friday evening. High score was held by Mrs. August Heinemann and Fred Klaner. Consolation prize went to Mrs. Fred Klaner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Boehner, Mr. and Mrs. August Heinemann, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klaner and Mr. and Mrs. O. Burdg.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Dec. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Edwards and daughters, June Lavon and Barbara Lee, of Fullerton, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Huscroft Sunday.

Miss Ferne Hein, Joe Weaver, Miss Francis Hein, of Anaheim, were Orange visitors Sunday.

Bob Lance, Gerry Lance and Vivian Rodgers, of Fullerton, spent Sunday visiting in Orange.

A card party will be given tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the parish hall of the Trinity Episcopal church under the auspices of the Literary and Social guild of that church. All members of the church and their friends are invited to attend.

The regular meeting of the Trinity Episcopal guild will be held in the parish hall Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place.

The meeting of the Orange Ministerial union will take place at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters on the afternoon of December 15.

Mrs. M. J. Ripley had as guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ripley and twin sons, Harold and Harry.

The mid-week meeting of the First Christian church will be in charge of the Loyal Men's class, with W. H. Winters as the leader.

VISIT IN NORTH

OLIVE, Dec. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Luchau, son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus, Roland Lee Brelje and Harold Paulus motored to Bakersfield Saturday to spend the week end with Miss Josephine Luchau, Miss Meta Paulus, Robert Paulus jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brelje, who are employed in the naval orange harvest at that place.

Business Women Arrange Program

ORANGE, Dec. 11.—The Business and Professional Women's club meeting this evening promises to be one of unusual interest as the program is to be centered around the emblem of the organization.

For the LOVE of EVE

by Lucy Walling

© 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Earle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in the Adirondacks. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to give up her work and go with him.

Mona Allen, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is constantly causing trouble at the office. She is responsible for several mistakes for which Eve is blamed. Mona is friendly with Theron Reece who continues to force unwelcome attentions on Eve.

Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market, borrowing money from her mother and sister. She loses this, as well as her own savings and $400 Dick left in the bank.

Mona invites Eve to dinner and then contrives to take her to a roadhouse where Theron Reece appears. Eve dislikes Reece. She leaves the others, becomes lost and spends the night at a farm house. Next day Reece telephones and frightens Eve by declaring he is in love with her and insinuating that Dick has been carrying on flirtations.

Eve is lonely and misses Dick. She begins to wonder if she should not give up her work and go to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XL

The night before Thanksgiving day Eve ate dinner in a down town restaurant and then went to the library where she selected two of the newest books to read over the holiday. It was one of the evenings when she missed Dick dreadfully and wanted to put off going home. But when she finally arrived at the apartment she found a letter from Dick waiting for her on the hall table.

He wrote that he and some of the others had driven to Old Forge for the Thanksgiving turkeys for Mrs. Williams who kept the boarding house. They had attended a movie, the first Dick had seen since he left Lake City. He added that there would be 20 at the boarding house for Thanksgiving dinner—the men from the construction camp and a number of school teachers who took their meals there.

Was it jealousy that Eve felt when she read that sentence? She had pictured Dick as living in a man's world entirely. This was his first reference to the school teachers. Eve hoped fervently that all of them were middle-aged and unattractive, and not in any way like Dorothy McElhinney.

Eve spent Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Penney. They attended services at the Little Stone church together and then boarded a trolley which took them to the artist's home. Mrs. Penney had rented the second floor of a two-family house near the college her daughter attended. Eve could not refrain from complimenting her on the attractiveness of the rooms.

"Jean made those hooked rugs," Mrs. Penney said proudly. "And she made the draperies for the windows, too. Those pictures are some of my work, done before my marriage."

"Jean has a great deal of artistic talent," Eve commented.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Penney. "Her father was an artist, too, but he died when Jean was a baby."

Eve refrained from asking questions and busied herself preparing salad for the dinner. Jean and a young man who was a classmate joined them after the football game and Mrs. Penney set the boy to work mashing the potatoes. Another girl and boy soon arrived and Mrs. Penney assigned them tasks. It was a merry dinner and the young people were so amusing that not once did Eve feel a pang of homesickness.

The boys washed the dishes. Apparently they were quite at home in Mrs. Penney's flat.

"They are all from out of town," she explained to Eve. "And I mother them a bit. But they understand I must give most of my energy to my job and if they want to play here they must help with the work."

"It must be a great satisfaction for you to have Jean!" began Eve.

"I don't know what I would have done without her!" nodded Mrs. Penney. "She is all I have lived for these last 17 years. And she looks so much like her father. That is my greatest joy. I believe she has inherited his ability too. If he had lived I am sure he would have become one of our finest artists. His work at the time of his death was beginning to attract wide attention."

Eve was interested. She had wondered about the little woman with the brave, smiling face and gentle manners. Eve had always thought there must be an interesting story concerning Mrs. Penney. She encouraged her to go on.

"Jean's father studied in Paris and when he returned to this country he taught art classes in Chicago. I had gone there to study, and was one of his pupils. Perhaps we would never have been more than acquaintances if we had not attended an artist's ball where fate or chance sent us together in an old-time circle two-step. We danced in perfect harmony and my heart as well as my soul took wings. Jean comes naturally by her love for dancing.

"After our marriage I continued to study art, but in private. We were extremely happy and when little Jean was born it seemed life could hold no greater happiness. Jean was just learning to watch for him in the window at the close of day when he became ill. It was pneumonia and he was gone within the week."

Mrs. Penney's voice broke. Then she raised her chin in the manner Eve had noticed was characteristic of her and said calmly, "This is no subject for a holiday, Mrs. Rader. Shall I turn on the radio?"

* * *

It was twilight and the room was lighted only by the flickering glow from the fireplace. Eve, nestling among the pillows on the comfortable, davenport, begged her to go on with her story.

Mrs. Penney continued. "That is life, Mrs. Rader. Cometimes we get our greatest jolts when the skies seem brightest. But sometimes, too, when it seems we can not go on things suddenly make a right-about turn and the path is cleared ahead. Always there is something left to make it worthwhile for us ot go on. Usually it is some other person.

"Little Jean and I have known some hard times. For more than eight years I met [illegible]at at every turn. It was not so bad while I had my health. But when my health broke it was extremely hard to earn enough [illegible] us to live on. I let myself believe only the encouraging reports of those who had suffered similorly and determined I had not yet reached bottom. Each night I prayed that I would be able to get up next morning and to do the housework and take care of Jean. It seems a small boon to ask but it was a very important one. My recovery was complete and I shall try never to complain about anything again so long as I have health and the opportunity to earn a living."

Mrs. Penney smiled cheerfully and added, "I have some friends who seem to disapprove of my attitude, which they say is too cheerful, and my active sense of humor. A crushed and mournful appearance would seem to them more becoming. But I have had to be both father and mother to little Jean and I want her to have a happy life. So you see I can't think of myself alone!"

* * *

What was it the minister had said that morning in church? "You ask for some living manifestation of God in our midst. Can you not see for yourself the sacrificing mother who forgets self in the interest of her [illegible]"

There had been more, of course, but that one sentence of the Thanksgiving sermon stood out in Eve's memories, coupled with Mrs. Penney's story. What an infinitesimal thing the loss of dollars and cents seemed compared to the ob[illegible] little woman had had to battle alone! What a triumph over adversity was hers. Eve felt her own aims trivial after Mrs. Penney had finished her story.

When Eve reached home that night she wrote a long letter to her husband.

"And so," she wrote in conclusion, "after my talk with Mrs Penney I've decided to give up work here and come to Pine Forest if you want me to and if there is a house available. I don't suppose there is such a thing as an apartment to be had there."

Slowly, with unsteady fingers, she folded the pages and placed them in an envelope. Tomorrow she would tell Earle Barnes that she was through at Bixby's. She would sacrifice the dream that had been hers so long—the dream of seeing her name on the door of a private office above the words, "Advertising Manager." She would sacrifice all that for Dick.

Yes, Eve told herself, she was willing to forget her ambitions if Dick wanted her. "If he wanted her!" The words seemed to form themselves into a litany which sang itself over and over again in her mind.

For the LOVE of EVE

by Lucy Walling

© 1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Earle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in the Adirondacks. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to give up her work and go with him.

Mona Allen, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is constantly causing trouble at the office. She is responsible for several mistakes for which Eve is blamed. Mona is friendly with Theron Reece who continues to force unwelcome attentions on Eve.

Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market, borrowing money from her mother and sister. She loses this, as well as her own savings and $400 Dick left in the bank.

Mona invites Eve to dinner and then contrives to take her to a roadhouse where Theron Reece appears. Eve dislikes Reece. She leaves the others, becomes lost and spends the night at a farm house. Next day Reece telephones and frightens Eve by declaring he is in love with her and insinuating that Dick has been carrying on flirtations.

Eve is lonely and misses Dick. She begins to wonder if she should not give up her work and go to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XL

The night before Thanksgiving day Eve ate dinner in a down town restaurant and then went to the library where she selected two of the newest books to read over the holiday. It was one of the evenings when she missed Dick dreadfully and wanted to put off going home. But when she finally arrived at the apartment she found a letter from Dick waiting for her on the hall table.

He wrote that he and some of the others had driven to Old Forge for the Thanksgiving turkeys for Mrs. Williams who kept the boarding house. They had attended a movie, the first Dick had seen since he left Lake City. He added that there would be 20 at the boarding house for Thanksgiving dinner—the men from the construction camp and a number of school teachers who took their meals there.

Was it jealousy that Eve felt when she read that sentence? She had pictured Dick as living in a man's world entirely. This was his first reference to the school teachers. Eve hoped fervently that all of them were middle-aged and unattractive, and not in any way like Dorothy McElhinney.

Eve spent Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Penney. They attended services at the Little Stone church together and then boarded a trolley which took them to the artist's home. Mrs. Penney had rented the second floor of a two-family house near the college her daughter attended. Eve could not refrain from complimenting her on the attractiveness of the rooms.

"Jean made those hooked rugs," Mrs. Penney said proudly. "And she made the draperies for the windows, too. Those pictures are some of my work, done before my marriage."

"Jean has a great deal of artistic talent," Eve commented.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Penney. "Her father was an artist, too, but he died when Jean was a baby."

Eve refrained from asking questions and busied herself preparing salad for the dinner. Jean and a young man who was a classmate joined them after the football game and Mrs. Penney set the boy to work mashing the potatoes. Another girl and boy soon arrived and Mrs. Penney assigned them tasks. It was a merry dinner and the young people were so amusing that not once did Eve feel a pang of homesickness.

The boys washed the dishes. Apparently they were quite at home in Mrs. Penney's flat.

"They are all from out of town," she explained to Eve. "And I mother them a bit. But they understand I must give most of my energy to my job and if they want to play here they must help with the work."

"It must be a great satisfaction for you to have Jean!" began Eve.

"I don't know what I would have done without her!" nodded Mrs. Penney. "She is all I have lived for these last 17 years. And she looks so much like her father. That is my greatest joy. I believe she has inherited his ability too. If he had lived I am sure he would have become one of our finest artists. His work at the time of his death was beginning to attract wide attention."

Eve was interested. She had wondered about the little woman with the brave, smiling face and gentle manners. Eve had always thought there must be an interesting story concerning Mrs. Penney. She encouraged her to go on.

"Jean's father studied in Paris and when he returned to this country he taught art classes in Chicago. I had gone there to study, and was one of his pupils. Perhaps we would never have been more than acquaintances if we had not attended an artists' ball where fate or chance sent us together in an old-time circle two-step. We danced in perfect harmony and my heart as well as my soul took wings. Jean comes naturally by her love for dancing.

"After our marriage I continued to study art, but in private. We were extremely happy and when little Jean was born it seemed life could hold no greater happiness. Jean was just learning to watch for him in the window at the close of day when he became ill. It was pneumonia and he was gone within the week."

Mrs. Penney's voice broke. Then she raised her chin in the manner Eve had noticed was characteristic of her and said calmly, "This is no subject for a holiday, Mrs. Rader. Shall I turn on the radio?"

* * *

It was twilight and the room was lighted only by the flickering glow from the fireplace. Eve, nestling among the pillows on the comfortable davenport, begged her to go on with her story.

Mrs. Penney continued. "That is life, Mrs. Rader. Cometimes we get our greatest jolts when the skies seem brightest. But sometimes, too, when it seems we can not go on things suddenly make a right-about turn and the path is cleared ahead. Always there is something left to make it worthwhile for us ot go on. Usually it is some other person.

"Little Jean and I have known some hard times. For more than eight years I met cat at every turn. It was not so bad while I had my health. But when my health broke it was extremely hard to earn enough for us to live on. I let myself believe only the encouraging reports of those who had suffered similorly and determined I had not yet reached bottom. Each night I prayed that I would be able to get up next morning and to do the housework and take care of Jean. It seems a small boon to ask but it was a very important one. My recovery was complete and I shall try never to complain about anything again so long as I have health and the opportunity to earn a living."

Mrs. Penney smiled cheerfully and added, "I have some friends who seem to disapprove of my attitude, which they say is too cheerful, and my active sense of humor. A crushed and mournful appearance would seem to them more becoming. But I have had to be both father and mother to little Jean and I want her to have a happy life. So you see I can't think of myself alone!"

* * *

What was it the minister had said that morning in church? "You ask for some living manifestation of God in our midst. Can you not see for yourself the sacrificing mother who forgets self in the interest of her ...?"

There had been more, of course, but that one sentence of the Thanksgiving sermon stood out in Eve's memories, coupled with Mrs. Penney's story. What an infinitesimal thing the loss of dollars and cents seemed compared to the obstacles the little woman had had to battle alone! What a triumph over adversity was hers. HALE OPPOSES $170,000,000 WATER PROJECT

H. H. Hale, of Placentia, veteran citrus grower of Orange County and president of the Anaheim Union Water company, a cooperative organization, today went on record against the $170,000,000 Central Valley Water project, which will be up for referendum vote December 19. Hale said:

"I have the greatest sympathy for any rancher who is in need of water, but in the matter of the Central Valley Water Project, I cannot permit my sympathy to override my good judgment. However badly the ranchers of the San Joaquin Valley require water, I am satisfied that under the plan outlined in this Central Valley Project they can never pay out. I know the San Joequin Valley, particularly the southern end, exceptionally well. I have been a property owner there; I am familiar with conditions and I am positive that the revenue is not there to pay off this tremendous proposed bond issue.

"For these reasons I have viewed the Central Valley project with suspicion from the day I first heard of it. My suspicion is that if it should by any chance receive the approval of the voters of the state, it would eventually be thrown back on the state as a whole in the form of a tremendous liability.

"I cannot help but ask myself the question that if bonds for this project are issued bearing the label of 'bonds of the state of California', would the state as a whole not be morally obligated to meet these bonds and their interest payments should the revenues of the project fail to liquidate; and I am certain those revenues would fail to do so.

"Furthermore, I feel that at the present we should not take on any further bonded indebtedness and in that belief I am going to vote 'No' on Proposition No. 1, the Central Valley Water Project, on December 19."

SHOTS FIRED FROM FLEEING VEHICLE

Firing rifle shots from the rear of a speeding car, two mysterious men outdistanced pursuers about 11 a. m. yesterday after being seen in an orange orchard on Carolina avenue in Placentia.

J. T. Johnson, 201 Alta avenue, Placentia, said he saw the men get into a car from the orchard. When he tried to stop them, they speeded away and fired at his car twice without hitting it. M. R. Robertson, R.D. 1, Box 37, said he heard the shots but did not realize they were coming from the automobile. Nothing was found missing from the orchard or nearby homes by investigating officers from the sheriff's office.

DELEGATES NAMED

Miss Doris Rockwell, social chairman of the Junior college Y. W. C. A., and Miss Eleanor Bowyer, treasurer, have been appointed to represent the association at the annual Asilomar conference to be held for college Y. M. and Y. W. organizations the week beginning December 26. The representatives expect to return January 2 on the special train for delegates.

"Stamping" Out Tuberculosis

OUTSTANDING DAY OBSERVED AT SANTA ANA CHURCH AS YOUTH ORDAINED TO PREACH

Climaxing an outstanding day in the history of the Santa Ana First Christian church yesterday came the sermon at the service last night by the Rev. George W. Haskell, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue, who had been ordained to the ministry at the morning service.

The day also was marked with the addition of 38 new members at the morning service; the rededication of the congregation to the work of the church; a fellowship basket dinner at noon in the educational building; and signing of pledges for support of the work of the church during the coming year.

The occasion marked the entrance of the first member of the congregation to the ministry in its history of more than 50 years in Santa Ana.

Participating in the ordination service yesterday morning were the pastor, Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, who gave the "Charge to the Candidate"; Dr. C. F. Cheverton, president of California Christian college, who gave the "Charge to the Church"; Dr. Edgar Lloyd Smith, of California Christian college, who gave the ordination prayer; and Elders M. D. Haskell, A. W. Gerrard, Fleetwood Bell, L. Crasher, T. D. Knights and John J. Mills, taking part in the traditional "laying on of hands."

Large Crowd

The church was filled to overflowing for the morning service, with many of the former classmates of the new minister filling a special section.

For his subject last night, the Rev. Mr. Haskell had, "Why I Chose the Ministry."

"The first reason," he said, "is because the love of Jesus has become mine, His words, 'Follow me' throb in my veins. I want to proclaim to the world the teachings and program of Jesus. Another reason is that I may help plant God in the hearts of men. The principal reason for which Christ came to the world, I believe, is that man might have God. Man without God is not living. Go so created man that when he is not living with God he is living an abnormal life.

"Another reason is that I may help spread the brotherhood of man. Jesus said 'Love one another as I love you.' Yet today there is a rising tide of nationalism in various lands destroying brotherhood and it is up to the church to meet it. No Christian is saved unless his blood boils at the condition in slums, at injustice, at war and at the maldistribution of material things.

Stresses World Peace

"Jesus taught the world peace, goodwill, brotherhood. It is not a church of Christ that does not work for world peace. Huge sums are being spent preparing for war, very little for peace.

"One of the things that is crushing the individual is the present system of doing business, under which man consults his own selfish interests always. He buys cheap, sells dear and pays the least he possibly can to his workers. His motive is economic profit for self interest. The continuance of this system means destruction. Bargain hunting is part of it, for then we are seeking our own selfish interest."

The pastor concluded his sermon by declaring he was entering the ministry to aid the downtrodden and oppressed and that he was happy to be a minister because that work deals with the most precious things, human souls. He also asserted that Jesus' teachings are ideals that are feasible and practical.

Many of those in the congregation yesterday were from the Baldwin Park Christian church where he has been a student pastor.

SCOUT LEADERS OPEN COUNTY DRIVE TODAY

With E. T. McFadden as chairman, the "flying squadron" of the Orange County Council, Boy Scouts of America, today started work in connection with the intensive effort of the organization's 10-year program to bring about a better understanding of the needs for and methods of the Boy Scouts in building character.

In starting this special group of workers, McFadden said, "President Roosevelt, in his statement concerning Scouting's place in the present crisis, has definitely made this movement a part of the National Recovery program.

"President Roosevelt said 'The Boy Scout movement represents a new era of moral force in America. Its future growth will depend upon the realization of our manhood that it must assume the responsibility of leadership, as Washington and Lincoln accepted that responsibility for our forefathers. It will depend upon the generosity, the willingness and the enthusiasm of American leaders to guide the millions of American boys, by ways that are full of the best joys of life, health, happiness, loyalty and reverence'."

McFadden pointed out that Orange county now has 50 troops of Boy Scouts, with an active enrollment of 1265 boys. These groups are led by volunteer leaders, 92 men who give their time in training for and guidance of boys in the character building activities.

Others working with the "flying squadron" include W. K. Hillyard, Alex Brownridge, Felton Browning, A. J. Cruickshank, Earl Morrow, M. B. Wellington, Fred G. Merker, J. B. Tucker and C. L. Pritchard.

"BARTERED BRIDE" AT 11

An ex-wife at 11 years. That's Dorothy Holsel whom you see back at her first grade studies in Oklahoma City after a judge annulled her marriage to T. J. Holsel, her 67-year-old husband. Probation officers said Dorothy's father "traded" her for Holsel's daughter of 15.

GRIM OLD PRE-CIVIL WAR CANNON TRANSFERRED FROM ARMORY TO NEW CITY PARK

Years before the Civil War, a grim cannon stood sentinel on the shores of the Pacific at Fort Winfield Scott in the San Francisco presidio. It defied any enemy warships which would attempt attack on the soil of these United States and stood always ready to deal death and destruction.

When more peaceful times settled down on California, the old cannon was shipped to Santa Ana as a memorial for the new Santa Armory being built on Birch street between Third and Fourth streets. It watched the tramping veterans march in and out of the building, it stood silent vigil through the World war, and later was a friendly leaning post before and after meetings at the Armory.

Last week, the march of time doomed the old Armory and the work of building the new veterans' hall began. The sidewalks were roped off, scaffolds built, wreckers hired and hammering started. What to do with the old cannon?

City and American Legion officials finally decided that the most fitting place for the historical old relic was in Jack Fisher park on North Flower street, that new city park dedicated to the memory of Santa Ana's war hero and the other patriotic sons of Orange county who gave their lives in the last world conflict.

Moved to Park

The cannon was moved to its new location late last week and will be placed near the old city hall flag pole which will be erected soon. Together, they will greet picnickers and visitors to the park near the southwest corner of the new development.

The historic cannon is probably one of the first installed at the San Francisco fort and is patterned after those that preceded the Civil war. Ten feet long and 22 inches in diameter at the breech, it narrows down to 13 inches at the muzzle, has a bore of six inches and weighs four and one-half tons. Unlike many cannon, the barrel is unrifled and perfectly smooth. Another unusual characteristic is a three inch ring at the breech, the purpose of which is to be attached to a three-inch hawser running under the cannon and tied to a tree or other solid object to prevent an excessive recoil.

The gun was originally secured by N. A. Ulm, captain of the National Guard, Company L, in Santa Ana in 1910. A stock company was organized to build the Armory and successful negotiations were made for the gun to be installed by the door.

Up until recently, a small mortar and pile of cannon balls kept company with the big cannon but the American Legion appropriated the small weapon and it now graces the front lawn of each succeeding member who celebrates an addition to his family.

No longer will the big cannon guard the Armory. And no longer will Mayor Paul Witmer, sitting in his store directly across the street from the Armory, have to be discomfited by looking into the mouth of a cannon. No longer will prospective clients enter the door, happen to look across the street and lose their composure when they see the huge weapon trained on them.

INTENTIONAL DEFAULTS TO BE UNAVAILING

Home owners who deliberately default on their mortgage payments in an effort to become eligible for a loan from the Home Owner's Loan corporation will be refused loans, according to word received here today from Monroe Butler, state manager of the corporation.

Butler said that many complaints have reached his office that home owners have discontinued their payments on their mortgage indebtedness on account of the operations of the Home Owners' Loan corporation.

"It is the desire of the corporation to prevent this situation as much as possible," Butler said. "To make it plain, the Home Owners' Loan corporation was created for one purpose only—to aid distressed home owners.

"We have no desire to take a loan which may be continued by an established mortgage-loaning concern. If any person is not actually in distress, the Home Owners' Loan corporation is asking that person to aid us by refraining from appealing to our office for aid in order that the actually distressed people may get the attention that we are so anxious to give."

DISPLAY WILL SHOW LINDBERGH TRAVELS

Inquiries of Orange county residents regarding the current whereabouts of Colonel Charles Lindbergh and his wife, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, on their aerial peregrination of the globe will be satisfied pictorially as a result of a display composition which has just been arranged through the joint efforts of the Santa Ana Register and Miss Constance Cruickshank, manager of the World Travel Bureau. The effect will be on exhibit, beginning tomorrow in the bureau's Main street display window at the First National Bank.

In addition to a world map on which the Lindbergh's air course will be charted, together with dates and figures relative to the mileage and period of time consumed on each flight, a silver model of one of the newest planes constructed is being sent from Los Angeles by the United Air Lines as a courtesy display.

Current news shots of the Lindberghs and their plans and of some of the principal points visited by them in the course of their present cruise; a world globe and explanatory charts will complete the exhibit, which will be available throughout next week.

JAYCEE WOMEN OF 4 SCHOOLS IN PLAY EVENT

Approximately 125 women from Glendale, Chaffey and Pomona Junior colleges were guests of the Women's Athletic association of Santa Ana Junior college at the sectional play day held Saturday on the college campus.

Basketball, volleyball and tennis were played followed by recreational swimming. Luncheon was served in the college cafeteria. Programs for the event in Christmas color were designed by Miss Mary Louise Wallace. Corsages were presented coaches and honored guests. During the luncheon a short program was presented by Miss Dorothy Randall who gave a whistling solo, and Miss Anne Pierce giving a reading "How Come Christmas."

At a short assembly preceding sports Miss Ruth Crowl, president of the local W. A. A., welcomed the women and Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women, addressing the group compared the athletic dress of former eras with that of today.

Miss Crowl was general chairman for the day and had the assistance of the Misses Barbara Copeland, decorations; Natalie Neff, Alta Fisher, Susanna Alexander, Katherine Barker, Arden Murray, luncheon; Margaret Hoefner, program; Evelyn Furtsch, printing; and Doris Rockwell, reception. U. C. L. A. women acted as referees for the games.

WILL FILE CHARGE ON BABY'S DEATH

Still held in jail on an investigation of murder charge, Mrs. Rosa Ruiz, 26-year-old Indian mother, was expected to be charged with either manslaughter or failure to provide medical attention for a minor this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, assigned to handle the case this morning, said at noon he had not decided which charge to prefer but indicated that manslaughter was the least feasible. She was arrested Friday after sheriff's officers had heard that she had killed her newborn child Thanksgiving night. She gave officers the dead child and said it had died a few moments after birth. She was unattended at the time of birth, she said.

An autopsy conducted by Coroner Earl Abbey showed that the child died from asphyxiation. An inquest will be held later.

HALE OPPOSES $170,000,000 WATER PROJECT

H. H. Hale, of Placentia, veteran citrus grower of Orange County and president of the Anaheim Union Water company, a cooperative organization, today went on record against the $170,000,000 Central Valley Water project, which will be up for referendum vote December 19. Hale said:

"I have the greatest sympathy for any rancher who is in need of water, but in the matter of the Central Valley Water Project, I cannot permit my sympathy to override my good judgment. However badly the ranchers of the San Joaquin Valley require water, I am satisfied that under the plan outlined in this Central Valley Project they can never pay out. I know the San Joequin Valley, particularly the southern end, exceptionally well. I have been a property owner there; I am familiar with conditions and I am positive that the revenue is not there to pay off this tremendous proposed bond issue.

"For these reasons I have viewed the Central Valley project with suspicion from the day I first heard of it. My suspicion is that if it should by any chance receive the approval of the voters of the state, it would eventually be thrown back on the state as a whole in the form of a tremendous liability.

"I cannot help but ask myself the question that if bonds for this project are issued bearing the label of 'bonds of the state of California', would the state as a whole not be morally obligated to meet these bonds and their interest payments should the revenues of the project fail to liquidate; and I am certain those revenues would fail to do so.

"Furthermore, I feel that at the present we should not take on any further bonded indebtedness and in that belief I am going to vote 'No' on Proposition No. 1, the Central Valley Water Project, on December 19."

SHOTS FIRED FROM FLEEING VEHICLE

Firing rifle shots from the rear of a speeding car, two mysterious men outdistanced pursuers about 11 a. m. yesterday after being seen in an orange orchard on Carolina avenue in Placentia.

J. T. Johnson, 201 Alta avenue, Placentia, said he saw the men get into a car from the orchard. When he tried to stop them, they speeded away and fired at his car twice without hitting it. M. R. Robertson, R.D. 1, Box 37, said he heard the shots but did not realize they were coming from the automobile. Nothing was found missing from the orchard or nearby homes by investigating officers from the sheriff's office.

"Stamping" Out Tuberculosis

OUTSTANDING DAY OBSERVED AT SANTA ANA CHURCH AS YOUTH ORDAINED TO PREACH

Climaxing an outstanding day in the history of the Santa Ana First Christian church yesterday came the sermon at the service last night by the Rev. George W. Haskell, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Haskell, 314 East Santa Clara avenue, who had been ordained to the ministry at the morning service.

The day also was marked with the addition of 38 new members at the morning service; the rededication of the congregation to the work of the church; a fellowship basket dinner at noon in the educational building; and signing of pledges for support of the work of the church during the coming year.

The occasion marked the entrance of the first member of the congregation to the ministry in its history of more than 50 years in Santa Ana.

Participating in the ordination service yesterday morning were the pastor, Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, who gave the "Charge to the Candidate"; Dr. C. F. Cheverton, president of California Christian college, who gave the "Charge to the Church"; Dr. Edgar Lloyd Smith, of California Christian college, who gave the ordination prayer; and Elders M. D. Haskell, A. W. Gerrard, Fleetwood Bell, L. Crasher, T. D. Knights and John J. Mills, taking part in the traditional "laying on of hands."

Large Crowd

The church was filled to overflowing for the morning service, with many of the former classmates of the new minister filling a special section.

For his subject last night, the Rev. Mr. Haskell had, "Why I Chose the Ministry."

"The first reason," he said, "is because the love of Jesus has become mine, His words, 'Follow me' throb in my veins. I want to proclaim to the world the teachings and program of Jesus. Yet today there is a rising tide of nationalism in various lands destroying brotherhood and it is up to the church to meet it. No Christian is saved unless his blood boils at the condition in slums, at injustice, at war and at the maldistribution of material things.

Stresses World Peace

"Jesus taught the world peace, goodwill, brotherhood. It is not a church of Christ that does not work for world peace. Huge sums are being spent preparing for war, very little for peace.

"One of the things that is crushing the individual is the present system of doing business, under which man consults his own selfish interests always. He buys cheap, sells dear and pays the least he possibly can to his workers. His motive is economic profit for self interest. The continuance of this system means destruction. Bargain hunting is part of it, for then we are seeking our own selfish interest."

The pastor concluded his sermon by declaring he was entering the ministry to aid the downtrodden and oppressed and that he was happy to be a minister because that work deals with the most precious things, human souls. Well Known Santa Anan Will Be Wedded Soon In New York City

One of the most interesting pieces of news of a romantic nature to reach Santa Ana friends this week, was that of the approaching marriage of June Hamilton Rhodes, daughter of Mrs. Edwina Hamilton of Eagle Rock and New York City, formerly of Santa Ana.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Hamilton to the marriage of her daughter and Mr. Ferdinand Doan Sanford, the event to take place in East Eighty-ninth Street Reformed church, New York, on Thursday, December 21 at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Santa Ana friends receiving the engraved wedding invitations found them accompanied by At Home cards, designating the address of Mrs. Rhodes and Mr. Sanford after their marriage, as 134 East Thirty-eighth street, New York City, where they will be at home after January 10.

Christmas Significance Is Seen in Party Arrangements

Much of the tender beauty of the season seemed identified with the tea at which Mrs. Arthur A. May received intimate friends Saturday afternoon in her home, 909 South Birch street. For the party was planned as a courtesy to Mrs. Nelson Visel, for whom this season of the birth of the Christ Child, has greater significance than ever before.

Little Miss Irma Jean May, daughter of the home, assisted her mother in greeting arrivals, and later distributed the papers for recording scores in an amusing guessing contest in which magazine advertisements of things pertaining to infancy, were employed. To Mrs. Orlyn B. Robertson, scoring high, was presented a box of dainty French soaps.

Program features included a solo by Mrs. Thomas Willits (Cecile Fross Willits) with Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano. Her choice of the Brahms 'Lullaby" was especially beautiful, and for encore she sang the appropriate "Little Willie's Prayer." Six members of the Musical Arts Octet were present, and sang "The First Noel," and another beautiful traditional Christmas carol, "Here the Torch, Jeanette, Isabella." The singers were hostes sand honoree, Irma Huffman May and Holly Lash Visel, Sallie Lee Scales, Edith Cornell, Bess Nalle and Cecile Fross Willits, with Miss Armstrong, their director and accompanist.

Miss June Arnold completed the program with two clever readings. Her first, a gay little honeymoon story, demonstrated her skill at characterization, while the encore number revealed also her talent for writing entertaining sketches for it was original.

Arrival of a messenger with a huge decorated box topped with a very dignified stork, introduced the chief feature of the afternoon, a shower of dainty layett gifts for the honor guest. After their examination, came the tea hour for which guests were bidden to the dining room. A lace spread table was centered with pink sweet peas and lighted with pink tapers in creamy bisque candelabra to match the bowl in which the flowers were placed. On the buffet was a striking Manger scene from the story of the Christ Child, arranged by Mrs. Harry G. Huffman. Mrs. Huffman aided her sister-in-law, Mrs. May, throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles G. Nalle and Mrs. Edward Powers presided at the silver tea and coffee urns. Mrs. Powers was Miss Ruth Visel, sister of Nelson Visel, and well known here in her girlhood home.

Invited to share this enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. May and her honor guest, Mrs. Visel, were, Mesdames William J. Stauffer, Orlyn B. Robertson, Harry G. Huffman, Leon Eckles, Dodley Paige Harper, Malcolm Macurda, James M. Anderson, Joe Peterson, Thomas H. Willits, C. Edward Scales, Edward H. Burns, Holmes Bishop, Harry G. Matthews, Maurice Enderle, George Watson, Emmett Elliott, the Misses June Arnold, Carolyn Haughton, Ada May Sharpless, Edith Cornell, Ruth Armstrong, and Wilma Silver Smith, Santa Ana; Mrs. Alice Nutt, El Segundo; Daphne Goss Hellerman and Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Los Angeles and Mrs. Edward Powers, Glendale.

Visit is Marked by Surprise Party

During their stay as houseguests the past week in the home of Mrs. May Glaze on Newhope road, Mrs. Anna Jesmier and Mrs. Edna Judd of Los Angeles, past national president and past national secretary of the U. S. W. V. auxiliary, were complimented at a surprise party given by Calumpit Auxiliary drill team, known as Department Drill Team No. 4.

The group spent the time sewing. Mrs. Jesmier gave an interesting acount of her trip through all the states in the union during her official visits this past year. During the day she was presented with a quilt, bearing an original pattern of the emblem of the order. This had been made by members of the drill team.

Those present, other than the honor guests, Mrs. Jesmier and Mrs. Judd, and the hostess, Mrs. Glaze, were Mesdames Bess Mobberly, Marie Lindquist, Alice Gay, Mabel Sands, Hazel Hall, Lillian Hubbard, May Cooper, Katherine Reagan, Jean Tantlinger, Emma Wassum, Phoebe Hyatt, Luela Randel, Elvira Kurtz, Cecelia Cook, Ruth Hess, Myrtle Waffle, Estelle Dresser and Lila Kincaid.

Popular Girl Reveals Her Engagement to Young Attorney

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Elma McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McBride, 1110 Spurgeon street, and Attorney George Bradley jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bradley, 311 Wisteria street, occasioned a delightfully planned tea given Saturday afternoon in the home of Miss McBride's aunt, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria drive.

To the beauty of the home was added that of special floral decorations, with pink and silver prevailing in the dining room, while yellow was emphasized in the drawing room. Candles conformed to the chosen colors with silver candlesticks used for the pink takers, while quaint old brass candlesticks were effective in the yellow decorative scheme.

Mrs. Sprague, presiding as hostess, was assisted by Miss Bernice McBride of Los Angeles, another aunt of the young honor guest. In the formal receiving line with Miss McBride, strikingly gowned in holly red, were her mother, Mrs. McBride, and Mrs. Bradley, mother of her fiance. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

Musical features of the afternoon included whistling solos by Miss Eloise Bradley with Mrs. John Bradley at the piano. The numbers were all on a romantic theme, and included Cadman's "At Dawning" and "Heart of Mine" by Ann Priscilla Risher.

It was when guests sought the dining room for the daintily served tea menu, that their curosity was satisfied, for served with the individual cakes were tiny flower basket facors, to the handles of which were tied scrolls bearing the names of Miss McBride and Mr. Bradley. Mrs. Charles Spicer poured coffee from the silver urn, and Miss Ida Mae Bradley was seated at the opposite end of the table with its pink and silver appointments and its array of dainties. Serving were Miss Lula B. Finley, Miss Helen Stauffer, Miss Doris Rohrbacher and Miss Dorothy Lewis.

Miss McBride and Mr. Bradley are both graduates of Santa Ana High school, Miss McBride following her completion of the course with attendance at Junior college. Mr. Bradley had four years at Stanford, and then took two years additional work at School of Law, University of Southern California. They are making no announcement as yet in regard to their wedding beyond admitting that it will be in the spring.

Friends to whom formal announcement of the betrothal was made included members of Miss McBride's sorority, Sigma Theta, relatives and close friends. In the list were Mrs. Ida Bratnober of Los Angeles, Mr. Bradley's grandmother, and Mrs. Emma McBride, also of Los Angeles, Miss McBride's grandmother, in addition to Mrs. E. B. Sprague, hostess, Mrs. George Bradley, Mrs. John Bradley, the Misses Ida Mae and Eloise Bradley, Lula B. Finley, Mesdames J. L. McBride, S. H. Finley, A. J. Finley, H. W. Finley, Wendell Finley, Leland Finley, Hazel Maxwell, Charles Spicer, Ira J. Owens, William Rohrbacher, Fred Lewis, I. D. Wallingford, C. R .Stauffer, Lee Boyle, Eugene Reif, Henry Walters, Edith Brooks, Ray Adkinson, William Jerome, Joe Irwin, the Misses Helen Stauffer Helen Spangler, Loretta Spangler, Betty Smith, Doris Rohrbacher, Dorothy Lewis, Clara Kate Owens, Ruth Owens, Martha Wallingford Berenice Rathbun, Catherine Cornwell, Harriet Gruetner, Barbara Rurup, Louise Rurup, Corinne Lecrevain, Rachel Lamb, Betty Wiswall, Frances Vieira, Frances Bowman, Virginia Bailey, Eleanor Rairdon, Georgia Irvin, Betty Hewitt and Betty Dunton, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Charles Yount, Miss Eleanor Yount, Los Angeles; Mrs. Donald Swarthout, Altadena; Mrs. James Finley, Ontario; Mrs. Clifford Marsten, Huntington Park; Mrs. Harold Lindsey, San Diego; Mrs. Paul Bunch, Escondido; Mrs. Joe Lowell, Laguna Beach.

Mothers Respond to Study Class With Enthusiasm

So enthusiastic was the audience at the study class conducted Friday morning at Spurgeon school for mothers of pre-school and primary children, that it was decided to have a series of similar meetings every two weeks, with different speakers for each occasion.

Conducted under the auspices of Santa Ana City Council P.-T. A., in co-operation with the Adult Education department, Friday's meeting had as its speaker Mrs. Dorothy Baruch, nursery school director at Broad Oaks school, Pasadena.

Mrs. Baruch named a variety of inexpensive toys, most of which can be made in the home, for the child's use in developing his physical side. She recommended blocks, potters' clay and paints for developing creative ideas.

She named books, "Two Bobbies," written by herself; "Under the Blue Umbrella" and "Little Red Chair" as suitable for the very young child. She advised mothers to get the book, "The Right Book for the Right Child" (John Day), for further reading suggestions.

In closing, Mrs. Baruch brought out the advisability of portraying Santa Claus to children as the spirit of Christmas and not as a person.

The speaker discussed four topics, "Play Life of the Young Child," "Toys and Their Implications for Character Building," "Will Christmas Leave Havoc or Happiness in Your Home?" and "Planning a Constructive Christmas for the Children."

Mrs. Golden Weston of the Adult Education department, and Mrs. Newell Moore, P.-T. A. program chairman, arranged the meeting.

Beauceant President Concludes Office With Luncheon

Summing up the pleasures of a year's work in Social Order of the Beauceant under the presidency of Mrs. Birkett Uttley, was the luncheon at which Mrs. Uttley Friday complimented the officers who have served with her so faithfully throughout the year now coming to a close.

The hostess received guests in her home, 423 East Pine street, where every detail of decorating and entertaining suggested the Christmas season now at hand. Poinsettias flamed from baskets and tall vases, and their radiant color was repeated by the exquisite rosebuds centering each of the linen spread tables where luncheon was served. Place cards were cleverly fashioned from cellophane in the form of poinsettias, and at each place was a gift in Christmas tissued and ribbons. These proved to be sewing baskets brought from Mexico, beautiful examples of the native art of weaving.

Following the three course luncheon, the tables were re-arranged for bridge, and again Christmas was in evidence in the score pads and other appointments, and especially in the beautiful gifts awarded as prizes. To Mrs. Walter Wright, scoring high, was presented a pair of hand embroidered pillow cases. Mrs. A. R. Muller's second high score was rewarded with a pair of graceful vases, while a box of fine stationery consoled Mrs. John Shaw.

Christmas Spirit Rife When Wives of Elks Meet for Bridge

No current festivity has been attended by a more attractive application of the holiday theme than that held Thursday afternoon in the social rooms of the Elks club where Mrs. Earl Abbey and her December hostess committee, Mrs. E. R. Majors, Mrs. Clare Johnson and Mrs. Parke Roper, entertained at bridge under the general plans of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, social chairman for the Elks' wives.

The long basement lounge was gay with holly wreaths, Japanese windflowers, poinsettias and a star-tipped Christmas tree, while a big fire blazed cheerfully on the hearth at each end of the long room.

There was a large crowd of Elks' wives and their guests, with many who were enjoying for the first time, one of these monthly social affairs. Among the contract bridge players Miss Potts scored high to be rewarded with a Silex coffee pot while to Mrs. Milburn Harvey, second high, went a pretty tea pot. A waffle set rewarded Mrs. Charles Sauers for her skill in auction, and an artistic ice box set went as second prize to Mrs. David Kelly. Mrs. Charles Kelley was winner of the lucky prize, a graceful sugar and cream set.

Each one attending took a small gift to place on the beautiful tree, and these were distributed at the close of the afternoon by Santa Claus himself, entering with a peal of sleighbells as Mrs. Harold Brown played "Jingle Bells" on the piano. Harry D. Hyde, exalted ruler of the Elks, made a most convincing and jolly old Saint Nicholas.

During the enjoyment of a dainty refreshment course served by the hostesses, it was announced that the January party would be held Friday afternoon, January 3 at 2 o'clock, and would be a delightful New Years tea, to celebrate the beginning of a new social calendar.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast

½ grapefruit, unsugared, or ½ glass of pure orange juice
Ham omelette
1 thin slice bran toast, dry
1 cup coffee with
1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
(Saccharine allowed in coffee.)
Calory total, 330

Ham Omelette for One

Beat one egg to a thick froth, add 2 tablespoons milk; salt and pepper. Have small skillet piping hot, drop in a bit of butter, flow in the omelette mixture and almost immediately sprinkle with one tablespoon of ground cooked ham. Shake the pan to prevent the middle section burning, then insert a knife at adge and roll towards center.

* * *

I find this a good way to use up odds'n ends of baked ham; the recipe for one can be multiplied as many times as desired, but it is wise to cook the omelettes, one by one.

With the omelette for the family you might serve French toast.

* * *

Oyster Fritters

1 quart oysters, frying size
2 eggs
2/3 cup milk
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder dissolved in
1 tbsp. hot water
deep fat for frying

Wash the oysters and watch that no bits of shell are left in them. Drain, then chop fine and set over a bowl to drain again (save the liquid for soup).

Beat the eggs and salt to a thick froth, then alternate flour and milk in mixing, beating constantly until a very smooth batter results.

Have a quantity of fat smoking hot in a deep kettle. Drop in a bit of fritter batter to test the heat, and if right fold the chopped oysters through the batter, fry quickly, drain, place in a paper-lined pan and set in the oven to keep warm.

* * *

Use oysters occasionally for your fish day dinner rather than regulation baked or fried wish. The price is more reasonable and your family will emit cheers over the welcome change.

* * *

Counting the frying fat the calories in the oyster fritters total close to 2100. The recipe serves eight very generously.

With the oysters serve a small plate salad of hot cabbage slaw, French fried potatoes, slices of pineapple pan-fried in butter, hot rolls or corn muffins, and your simplest dessert.

Bridge Club Observes Birthdays of Two Members

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lory Roehm and of Earl Patterson were observed the past week at a dinner party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Meyer, Katella and Brookhurst road, with members of the Monday Evening Bridge club as guests at the affair.

A turkey dinner was served at a table whose centerpiece combined pine cones, autumn leaves and fruits effectively. Candelabra of birch bark bore tall white tapers. Miniature trees upon which guests' names had been burned marked each place, with tiny white candles glowing at the base of the markers placed before Mrs. Roehm and Mr. Patterson. The menu included two birthday cakes brightened with green and yellow candles.

Birchbark tallies were distributed for the bridge games which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Roehm won the prize for scoring high.

Those present were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Nickey, Mr. and Mrs. Lory Roehm, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coleman, guests of the club.

Instead of holding their next regular meeting, club members plan to have dinner in Los Angeles, drive down Santa Claus Lane in Hollywood and attend a benefit show.

You and Your Friends

Lewis Tarver has returned to his home in Dallas, Tex., concluding a visit here with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Tarver, 2510 Valencia street. He and his sister, Miss Fanny Ada Tarver, were called here by the death of Bruce Tarver. Miss Tarver plans to return home this week. She has numerous acquaintances here, having made many extended visits in this city.

Mrs. Iva M. Webber's birthday anniversary was observed Sunday with a little dinner party given in her home, 425 South Ross street, by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kellogg of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Concklin and Mrs. Myrtle Stull joined with the family group for the pleasant event, which had been planned as a surprise to Mrs. Webber.

Thirteen members of White Ribbon Recruits of Corona del Mar and other chidren interested in activities of the group participated in a party held the past week in the home of the director, Miss Delphia Phillips. Much of the time was spent in the nearby canyon hunting bottles to be turned over to the Legion post for welfare work. Refreshments were served by Miss Phillips. Mrs. E. J. Allen and Mrs. Harold Benedict were present in addition to the children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baughman left Saturday for their home in Oakland, concluding a several days' visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quiggle and family, 1114 South Van Ness avenue. The northern residents were called here by the death of Mr. Quiggle's sister, Mrs. Mary Templeton.

Mrs. Loman C. Adams, 1403 North Flower street, left Saturday by automobile for San Jose where she plans to visit for a week with her brother, T. J. Fulton.

CHURCH CLUBS FRATERNAL WOMEN-SOCIETY-THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Well Known Santa Anan Will Be Wedded Soon In New York City

One of the most interesting pieces of news of a romantic nature to reach Santa Ana friends this week, was that of the approaching marriage of June Hamilton Rhodes, daughter of Mrs. Edwina Hamilton of Eagle Rock and New York City, formerly of Santa Ana.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Hamilton to the marriage of her daughter and Mr. Ferdinand Doan Sanford, the event to take place in East Eighty-ninth Street Reformed church, New York, on Thursday, December 21 at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Santa Ana friends receiving the engraved wedding invitations found them accompanied by At Home cards, designating the address of Mrs. Rhodes and Mr. Sanford after their marriage, as 134 East Thirty-eighth street, New York City, where they will be at home after January 10.

Six members of the Musical Arts Octet were present, and sang "The First Noel," and another beautiful traditional Christmas carol, "Here the Torch, Jeanette, Isabella." The singers were hostes sand honoree, Irma Huffman May and Holly Lash Visel, Sallie Lee Scales, Edith Cornell, Bess Nalle and Cecile Fross Willits, with Miss Armstrong, their director and accompanist.

Miss June Arnold completed the program with two clever readings. Her first, a gay little honeymoon story, demonstrated her skill at characterization, while the encore number revealed also her talent for writing entertaining sketches for it was original.

Arrival of a messenger with a huge decorated box topped with a very dignified stork, introduced the chief feature of the afternoon, a shower of dainty layett gifts for the honor guest. After their examination, came the tea hour for which guests were bidden to the dining room. A lace spread table was centered with pink sweet peas and lighted with pink tapers in creamy bisque candelabra to match the bowl in which the flowers were placed. On the buffet was a striking Manger scene from the story of the Christ Child, arranged by Mrs. Harry G. Huffman. Mrs. Huffman aided her sister-in-law, Mrs. May, throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles G. Nalle and Mrs. Edward Powers presided at the silver tea and coffee urns. Mrs. Powers was Miss Ruth Visel, sister of Nelson Visel, and well known here in her girlhood home.

Invited to share this enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. May and her honor guest, Mrs. Visel, were, Mesdames William J. Stauffer, Orlyn B. Robertson, Harry G. Huffman, Leon Eckles, Dodley Paige Harper, Malcolm Macurda, James M. Anderson, Joe Peterson, Thomas H. Willits, C. Edward Scales, Edward H. Burns, Holmes Bishop, Harry G. Matthews, Maurice Enderle, George Watson, Emmett Elliott, the Misses June Arnold, Carolyn Haughton, Ada May Sharpless, Edith Cornell, Ruth Armstrong, and Wilma Silver Smith, Santa Ana; Mrs. Alice Nutt, El Segundo; Daphne Goss Hellerman and Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Los Angeles and Mrs. Edward Powers, Glendale.

Visit is Marked by Surprise Party

During their stay as houseguests the past week in the home of Mrs. May Glaze on Newhope road, Mrs. Anna Jesmier and Mrs. Edna Judd of Los Angeles, past national president and past national secretary of the U. S. W. V. auxiliary, were complimented at a surprise party given by Calumpit Auxiliary drill team, known as Department Drill Team No. 4.

The group spent the time sewing. Mrs. Jesmier gave an interesting acount of her trip through all the states in the union during her official visits this past year. During the day she was presented with a quilt, bearing an original pattern of the emblem of the order. This had been made by members of the drill team.

Those present, other than the honor guests, Mrs. Jesmier and Mrs. Judd, and the hostess, Mrs. Glaze, were Mesdames Bess Moberly, Marie Lindquist, Alice Gay, Mabel Sands, Hazel Hall, Lillian Hubbard, May Cooper, Katherine Reagan, Jean Tantlinger, Emma Wassum, Phoebe Hyatt, Luela Randel, Elvira Kurtz, Cecelia Cook, Ruth Hess, Myrtle Waffle, Estelle Dresser and Lila Kincaid.

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Elma McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McBride, 1110 Spurgeon street, and Attorney George Bradley jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bradley, 311 Wisteria street, occasioned a delightfully planned tea given Saturday afternoon in the home of Miss McBride's aunt, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria drive.

To the beauty of the home was added that of special floral decorations, with pink and silver prevailing in the dining room, while yellow was emphasized in the drawing room. Candles conformed to the chosen colors with silver candlesticks used for the pink takers, while quaint old brass candlesticks were effective in the yellow decorative scheme.

Mrs. Sprague, presiding as hostess, was assisted by Miss Bernice McBride of Los Angeles, another aunt of the young honor guest. In the formal receiving line with Miss McBride, strikingly gowned in holly red, were her mother, Mrs. McBride, and Mrs. Bradley, mother of her fiance. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

Musical features of the afternoon included whistling solos by Miss Eloise Bradley with Mrs. John Bradley at the piano. The numbers were all on a romantic theme, and included Cadman's "At Dawning" and "Heart of Mine" by Ann Priscilla Risher.

It was when guests sought the dining room for the daintily served tea menu, that their curosity was satisfied, for served with the individual cakes were tiny flower basket facors, to the handles of which were tied scrolls bearing the names of Miss McBride and Mr. Bradley. Mrs. Charles Spicer poured coffee from the silver urn, and Miss Ida Mae Bradley was seated at the opposite end of the table with its pink and silver appointments and its array of dainties. Serving were Miss Lula B. Finley, Miss Helen Stauffer, Miss Doris Rohrbacher and Miss Dorothy Lewis.

Miss McBride and Mr. Bradley are both graduates of Santa Ana High school, Miss McBride following her completion of the course with attendance at Junior college. Mr. Bradley had four years at Stanford, and then took two years additional work at School of Law, University of Southern California. They are making no announcement as yet in regard to their wedding beyond admitting that it will be in the spring.

Friends to whom formal announcement of the betrothal was made included members of Miss McBride's sorority, Sigma Theta, relatives and close friends. In the list were Mrs. Ida Bratnober of Los Angeles, Mr. Bradley's grandmother, and Mrs. Emma McBride, also of Los Angeles, Miss McBride's grandmother, in addition to Mrs. E. B. Sprague, hostess, Mrs. George Bradley, Mrs. John Bradley, the Misses Ida Mae and Eloise Bradley, Lula B. Finley, Mesdames J. L. McBride, S. H. Finley, A. J. Finley, H. W. Finley, Wendell Finley, Leland Finley, Hazel Maxwell, Charles Spicer, Ira J. Owens, William Rohrbacher, Fred Lewis, I. D. Wallingford, C. R .Stauffer, Lee Boyle, Eugene Reif, Henry Walters, Edith Brooks, Ray Adkinson, William Jerome, Joe Irwin, the Misses Helen Stauffer Helen Spangler, Loretta Spangler, Betty Smith, Doris Rohrbacher, Dorothy Lewis, Clara Kate Owens, Ruth Owens, Martha Wallingford Berenice Rathbun, Catherine Cornwell, Harriet Gruetner, Barbara Rurup, Louise Rurup, Corinne Lecrevain, Rachel Lamb, Betty Wiswall, Frances Vieira, Frances Bowman, Virginia Bailey, Eleanor Rairdon, Georgia Irvin, Betty Hewitt and Betty Dunton, Santa Ana.

Mothers Respond to Study Class With Enthusiasm

So enthusiastic was the audience at the study class conducted Friday morning at Spurgeon school for mothers of pre-school and primary children, that it was decided to have a series of similar meetings every two weeks, with different speakers for each occasion.

Conducted under the auspices of Santa Ana City Council P.-T. A., in co-operation with the Adult Education department, Friday's meeting had as its speaker Mrs. Dorothy Baruch, nursery school director at Broad Oaks school, Pasadena.

Mrs. Baruch named a variety of inexpensive toys, most of which can be made in the home, for the child's use in developing his physical side. She recommended blocks, potters' clay and paints for developing creative ideas.

She named books, "Two Bobbies," written by herself; "Under the Blue Umbrella" and "Little Red Chair" as suitable for the very young child. She advised mothers to get the book, "The Right Book for the Right Child" (John Day), for further reading suggestions.

In closing, Mrs. Baruch brought out the advisability of portraying Santa Claus to children as the spirit of Christmas and not as a person.

The speaker discussed four topics, "Play Life of the Young Child," "Toys and Their Implications for Character Building," "Will Christmas Leave Havoc or Happiness in Your Home?" and "Planning a Constructive Christmas for the Children."

Mrs. Golden Weston of the Adult Education department, and Mrs. Newell Moore, P.-T. A. program chairman, arranged the meeting.

Beauceant President Concludes Office With Luncheon

Summing up the pleasures of a year's work in Social Order of the Beauceant under the presidency of Mrs. Birkett Uttley, was the luncheon at which Mrs. Uttley Friday complimented the officers who have served with her so faithfully throughout the year now coming to a close.

The hostess received guests in her home, 423 East Pine street, where every detail of decorating and entertaining suggested the Christmas season now at hand. Poinsettias flamed from baskets and tall vases, and their radiant color was repeated by the exquisite rosebuds centering each of the linen spread tables where luncheon was served. Place cards were cleverly fashioned from cellophane in the form of poinsettias, and at each place was a gift in Christmas tissued and ribbons. These proved to be sewing baskets brought from Mexico, beautiful examples of the native art of weaving.

Following the three course luncheon, the tables were re-arranged for bridge, and again Christmas was in evidence in the score pads and other appointments, and especially in the beautiful gifts awarded as prizes. To Mrs. Walter Wright, scoring high, was presented a pair of hand embroidered pillow cases. Mrs. A. R. Muller's second high score was rewarded with a pair of graceful vases, while a box of fine stationery consoled Mrs. John Shaw.

Christmas Spirit Rife When Wives of Elks Meet for Bridge

No current festivity has been attended by a more attractive application of the holiday theme than that held Thursday afternoon in the social rooms of the Elks club where Mrs. Earl Abbey and her December hostess committee, Mrs. E. R. Majors, Mrs. Clare Johnson and Mrs. Parke Roper, entertained at bridge under the general plans of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, social chairman for the Elks' wives.

The long basement lounge was gay with holly wreaths, Japanese windflowers, poinsettias and a star-tipped Christmas tree, while a big fire blazed cheerfully on the hearth at each end of the long room.

There was a large crowd of Elks' wives and their guests, with many who were enjoying for the first time, one of these monthly social affairs. Among the contract bridge players Miss Potts scored high to be rewarded with a Silex coffee pot while to Mrs. Milburn Harvey, second high, went a pretty tea pot. A waffle set rewarded Mrs. Charles Sauers for her skill in auction, and an artistic ice box set went as second prize to Mrs. David Kelly. Mrs. Charles Kelley was winner of the lucky prize, a graceful sugar and cream set.

Each one attending took a small gift to place on the beautiful tree, and these were distributed at the close of the afternoon by Santa Claus himself, entering with a peal of sleighbells as Mrs. Harold Brown played "Jingle Bells" on the piano. Harry D. Hyde, exalted ruler of the Elks, made a most convincing and jolly old Saint Nicholas.

During the enjoyment of a dainty refreshment course served by the hostesses, it was announced that the January party would be held Friday afternoon, January 3 at 2 o'clock, and would be a delightful New Years tea, to celebrate the beginning of a new social calendar.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast

½ grapefruit, unsugared, or ½ glass of pure orange juice
Ham omelette
1 thin slice bran toast, dry
1 cup coffee with
1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
(Saccharine allowed in coffee.)
Calory total, 330

Ham Omelette for One

Beat one egg to a thick froth, add 2 tablespoons milk; salt and pepper. Have small skillet piping hot, drop in a bit of butter, flow in the omelette mixture and almost immediately sprinkle with one tablespoon of ground cooked ham. Shake the pan to prevent the middle section burning, then insert a knife at adge and roll towards center.

* * *

I find this a good way to use up odds'n ends of baked ham; the recipe for one can be multiplied as many times as desired, but it is wise to cook the omelettes, one by one.

With the omelette for the family you might serve French toast.

* * *

Oyster Fritters

1 quart oysters, frying size
2 eggs
2/3 cup milk
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder dissolved in
1 tbsp. hot water
deep fat for frying

Wash the oysters and watch that no bits of shell are left in them. Drain, then chop fine and set over a bowl to drain again (save the liquid for soup).

Beat the eggs and salt to a thick froth, then alternate flour and milk in mixing, beating constantly until a very smooth batter results.

Have a quantity of fat smoking hot in a deep kettle. Drop in a bit of fritter batter to test the heat, and if right fold the chopped oysters through the batter, fry quickly, drain, place in a paper-lined pan and set in the oven to keep warm.

* * *

Use oysters occasionally for your fish day dinner rather than regulation baked or fried wish. The price is more reasonable and your family will emit cheers over the welcome change.

* * *

Counting the frying fat the calories in the oyster fritters total close to 2100. The recipe serves eight very generously.

With the oysters serve a small plate salad of hot cabbage slaw, French fried potatoes, slices of pineapple pan-fried in butter, hot rolls or corn muffins, and your simplest dessert.

Bridge Club Observes Birthdays of Two Members

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lory Roehm and of Earl Patterson were observed the past week at a dinner party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Meyer, Katella and Brookhurst road, with members of the Monday Evening Bridge club as guests at the affair.

A turkey dinner was served at a table whose centerpiece combined pine cones, autumn leaves and fruits effectively. Candelabra of birch bark bore tall white tapers. Miniature trees upon which guests' names had been burned marked each place, with tiny white candles glowing at the base of the markers placed before Mrs. Roehm and Mr. Patterson. The menu included two birthday cakes brightened with green and yellow candles.

Birchbark tallies were distributed for the bridge games which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Roehm won the prize for scoring high.

Those present were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Nickey, Mr. and Mrs. Lory Roehm, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coleman, guests of the club.

Instead of holding their next regular meeting, club members plan to have dinner in Los Angeles, drive down Santa Claus Lane in Hollywood and attend a benefit show.

Work On Wildcat Oil Well Slated To Start Soon

SUPERIOR WILL DRILL NORTH OF SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Dec. 11.—Drilling operations on a new wildcat oil well will get under way shortly, the Superior Oil company having started building a road to a location three miles west and a little south of the wildcat well started several weeks ago by A. L.Guiberson jr. and the Republic Petroleum company, near Smeltzer.

The Superior is trying for an extension of the Seal Beach field, according to oil men. The project will be known as Alamitos No. 1.

The wildcat well of the Republic on the Aldrich Land company's property is shut down at present. No reasons have been advanced for the company's action in stopping operations. It is reported that the hole is down about 2500 feet.

The Superior expects to start derrick work this week. William Keck, head of the Superior, and A. L. Guiberson head of the Republic, formerly were partners in many oil enterprises. It is reported that Guiberson contends there should be an entirely new field north of Sunset Beach, while Keck is inclined to the Seal Beach extension theory.

CHARITY GETS $1000 AWARD

The entire populace arose to the occasion in Yorba Linda, where the Welfare group polled sufficient votes to win the $1000 offered by Earl B. Gilmore. The picture shows Mrs. A. C. HOLD FUNERAL OF SUNSET BEACH GIRL

SUNSET BEACH, Dec. 11—Last rites for Florence Cresswell, 17, who died here early Tuesday morning from a hemorrhage of the heart, were conducted at the Dixon Funeral chapel in Huntington Beach Friday at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. J. H. Engle of the Methodist church officiating. Members of the Girls' Glee club of the Huntington Beach union high school sang "Lead Kindly Light" and other numbers. William and Wallace Blaylock, Joe Morse, Harry Voorhees, Dick Warner and Jack Brewster acted as pallbearers.

Florence Cresswell was born March 9, 1916, in San Antonio, Texas, where she lived until her parents died, when she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cresswell. Besides her foster parents and their adopted son, Dwight, she leaves a brother, Elwin, 15, also adopted.

She was a prominent member of the staff of High-Lights, the high school paper.

The chapel was filled to overflowing with the many friends and schoolmates who came to pay a last tribute to their friend.

COAST GROUP ARRANGES FOR ANNUAL YULE LIGHTS DISPLAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 11. — With the plan in mind of having the Orange county coast line illuminated and decorated again this Christmas season, members of the Coast Council on Beautification met Saturday afternoon in the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce hall, with Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, chairman of the planning committee of the Orange County Coast association, in charge.

The same slogan, "Christmas Smiles for 40 Miles," will be used, the only change in the program being, that there will be no shrines where food will be served, owing to the fact that each community is concentrating on its individual welfare program.

Commercial bodies, communities, homes, oil stations, and civic and social organizations are urged to participate. Trophies will be given by organizations for the best display in each class. Those participataing for a reward are requested to make formal entry as otherwise some fine displays may be overlooked by the judges. The judging will be done on the evening of December 20 and lights may be turned on any time previous to that date.

Willard Smith, county supervisor; V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange chamber of commerce, and Ray Baldwin, secretary of the Long Beach chamber of commerce, have been asked to do the judging.

The Beautification council includes C. L. Mecham, Seal Beach; George W. Bush, Sunset Beach; A. W. Frost, Huntington Beach; T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach; J. Sherman Denney, Mrs. May Jackson, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Stella R. White, Huntington Beach; George MacLeod, Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce; Charles Crawford, Newport Beach; Mrs. Vonna Owings Webb, Laguna Beach; Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, Laguna Beach; B. D. Peterson, Laguna Beach; George Portus, Laguna Beach; E. L. Crawford, Three Arch Beach; A. T. Smith, San Clemente; E. R. Bartlett, San Clemente; Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, and Lloyd Willcutt, Costa Mesa.

Committees will be appointed at an early date to arrange the various activities of the council. It is expected to have a radio program in connection with the lights display. The exhibition will extend to New Year's evening.

WORKERS' GROUP IN DANCE ON THURSDAY

BUENA Park, Dec. 11.—An old time dance will be given at Gilmore's hall next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock by the Workers' Co-Operative association of Buena Uark as a benefit for the organization's children's Christmas fund, it was announced today by C. R. Whiting, president.

The Yodeling Hillbillies, radio stars, will furnish music. Tickets may be obtained from members of the association or at the dance hall.

Last Rites For Huntington Beach Woman Tomorrow

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 11.—Mrs. W. O. Day, 63, died Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at her home in the 200 block on Eighth street. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Day, a pioneer resident of the city, was the wife of W. O. Day, real estate operator, who survives. During the many years of her residence in this city Mrs. Day was an active member and worker in the First M. E. church.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from the Dixon chapel, the Rev. John Engle officiating. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

COIN PICKED C. OF C. HEAD

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UP)—H. E. Caton has become president of the Chamber of Commerce here on the strength of the toss of a coin. Caton choose "heads" when a toss was decided on after two ballots directors gave him and opp[illegible] tie votes each time.

FARM CENTER GETS REPORTS ON THURSDAY

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 11.—Members of the Garden Grove Farm center will hear reports and enjoy a program Thursday evening at the Woman's clubhouse, it was announced today by D. S. Jordan, president. The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock.

J. W. Crill, a delegate to the state federation meeting at Santa Barbara, will speak on "Resolutions, Dealing with Stabilization." C. W. Musser will talk on "Taxes." Felton B. Browning, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, will outline plans of the bureau for 1934.

Several musical numbers are planned. Mrs. C. W. Musser and Mrs. M. O. Broady will serve refreshments.

Work On Wildcat Oil Well Slated To Start Soon

SUPERIOR WILL DRILL NORTH OF SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Dec. 11.—Drilling operations on a new wildcat oil well will get under way shortly, the Superior Oil company having started building a road to a location three miles west and a little south of the wildcat well started several weeks ago by A. L.Guiberson jr. and the Republic Petroleum company, near Smeltzer.

The Superior is trying for an extension of the Seal Beach field, according to oil men. The project will be known as Alamitos No. 1.

The wildcat well of the Republic on the Aldrich Land company's property is shut down at present. No reasons have been advanced for the company's action in stopping operations. It is reported that the hole is down about 2500 feet.

The Superior expects to start derrick work this week. William Keck, head of the Superior, and A. L. Guiberson head of the Republic, formerly were partners in many oil enterprises. It is reported that Guiberson contends there should be an entirely new field north of Sunset Beach, while Keck is inclined to the Seal Beach extension theory.

Legion Group To Hold Party Soon

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 11.—A Christmas party for members of the American Legion post and auxiliary and their families was planned at a meeting of the auxiliary in Legion hall recently. This party will be held December 15. Members of the Legion Boy scout troop No. 9 will be special guests.

Mrs. Anna McConnell, vice president, presented Mrs. Olive Estep with a past president's pin.

Announcement was made of the county council meeting to be held in Brea Tuesday. Delegates expecting to attend are Mrs. Olive Estep, Mrs. Agnes McColough, Mrs. Anna McConnell, Mrs. Mae McConnell and Mrs. Eula Mumby.

HOLD FUNERAL OF SUNSET BEACH GIRL

SUNSET BEACH, Dec. 11—Last rites for Florence Cresswell, 17, who died here early Tuesday morning from a hemorrhage of the heart, were conducted at the Dixon Funeral chapel in Huntington Beach Friday at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. J. H. Engle of the Methodist church officiating. Members of the Girls' Glee club of the Huntington Beach union high school sang "Lead Kindly Light" and other numbers. William and Wallace Blaylock, Joe Morse, Harry Voorhees, Dick Warner and Jack Brewster acted as pallbearers.

Florence Cresswell was born March 9, 1916, in San Antonio, Texas, where she lived until her parents died, when she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cresswell. Besides her foster parents and their adopted son, Dwight, she leaves a brother, Elwin, 15, also adopted.

She was a prominent member of the staff of High-Lights, the high school paper.

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 11. — With the plan in mind of having the Orange county coast line illuminated and decorated again this Christmas season, members of the Coast Council on Beautification met Saturday afternoon in the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce hall, with Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, chairman of the planning committee of the Orange County Coast association, in charge.

The same slogan, "Christmas Smiles for 40 Miles," will be used, the only change in the program being, that there will be no shrines where food will be served, owing to the fact that each community is concentrating on its individual welfare program.

Commercial bodies, communities, homes, oil stations, and civic and social organizations are urged to participate. Trophies will be given by organizations for the best display in each class. Those participataing for a reward are requested to make formal entry as otherwise some fine displays may be overlooked by the judges. The judging will be done on the evening of December 20 and lights may be turned on any time previous to that date.

The Beautification council includes C. L. Mecham, Seal Beach; George W. Bush, Sunset Beach; A. W. Frost, Huntington Beach; T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach; J. Sherman Denney, Mrs. May Jackson, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Stella R. White, Huntington Beach; George MacLeod, Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce; Charles Crawford, Newport Beach; Mrs. Vonna Owings Webb, Laguna Beach; Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, Laguna Beach; B. D. Peterson, Laguna Beach; George Portus, Laguna Beach; E. L. Crawford, Three Arch Beach; A. T. Smith, San Clemente; E. R. Bartlett, San Clemente; Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, and Lloyd Willcutt, Costa Mesa.

Committees will be appointed at an early date to arrange the various activities of the council. It is expected to have a radio program in connection with the lights display. The exhibition will extend to New Year's evening.

WORKERS' GROUP IN DANCE ON THURSDAY

BUENA Park, Dec. 11.—An old time dance will be given at Gilmore's hall next Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock by the Workers' Co-Operative association of Buena Uark as a benefit for the organization's children's Christmas fund, it was announced today by C. R. Whiting, president.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

One little plane that Windy found just wouldn't go, when it was wound. Said he, "I guess it's up to me to fix the little thing."

The two elves watched him for a while and then one shouted, with a smile, "Say, I know what's the matter. There's a bent place in the spring."

Wee Windy looked, and said, "You're right. You surely have real good eyesight. I'll bend it right back into place. Then this plane will be set."

He quickly had it back in line, and then the little plane ran fine. Said he, "Some tot will be real glad to get this plane, I'll bet."

• • •

"Let's paint a while," one elf cried out. "I love to splash bright paint about." "Now, wait a minute," Windy cried. "The splashing stunt won't do.

"If you'll be careful as can be, then I will let you paint with me Each plane must look just perfect, when with painting we are through."

He promptly showed the elves just how to paint, and then he said, "Well, now I'll let you go right on with that, while I test wheels and wings."

They worked away, and 'twas real fun. One elf said, "We soon will be done. I know that Santa will be proud of all these little things."

• • •

Wee Duncy, in the meantime, was a very busy lad because he started snooping 'round while Santa Claus was out of sight.

"I will not hurt a thing, thought he. Just eyeing toys appeals to me. As long as I am careful, I am sure 'twill be all right.

And then he found a box, and cried, "I guess I'll find out what's inside." He pulled a hook. What happened made the frightened lad jump back.

Wee Goldy yelled, "The joke's on you for doing what you shouldn't do." And then poor Duncy realized, 'twas just a jumping jack.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

One little plane that Windy found just wouldn't go, when it was wound. Said he, "I guess it's up to me to fix the little thing."

The two elves watched him for a while and then one shouted, with a smile, "Say, I know what's the matter. There's a bent place in the spring."

Wee Windy looked, and said, "You're right. You surely have real good eyesight. I'll bend it right back into place. Then this plane will be set."

He quickly had it back in line, and then the little plane ran fine. Said he, "Some tot will be real glad to get this plane, I'll bet."

"Let's paint a while," one elf cried out. "I love to splash bright paint about." "Now, wait a minute," Windy cried. "The splashing stunt won't do.

"If you'll be careful as can be, then I will let you paint with me Each plane must look just perfect, when with painting we are through."

He promptly showed the elves just how to paint, and then he said, "Well, now I'll let you go right on with that, while I test wheels and wings."

They worked away, and 'twas real fun. One elf said, "We soon will be done. I know that Santa will be proud of all these little things."

Science Makes an Athlete of a 1½-Year-Old Baby

Here is Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw watching Johnny climb the steep slide. . . . Dr. McGraw has trained Johnny since he was 20 days old.

By Marjorie Van De Water

He roller-skated like a miniature master of the art He climbed off stools of much greater height than his own. He walked up steep inclines with perfect aplomb. He swam under water without support, and with slight support he swam on the surface like a budding Weissmuller.

But the picture did not originate in Hollywood, and this baby is not being exploited for his amazing abilities. He is one of the subjects in a psychological experiment being conducted at the Normal Child Development Clinic at Babies Hospital, New York City. There it was that the film was made.

The experiment is for the purpose of finding out what are the effects of intensive training on the development of the very young child. This little boy has been carefully and intensively trained and exercised from the time he was but 20 days old. His twin brother, for purposes of comparison, has been brought up in the ordinary routine of the modern infant—no systematic exercise, no unnecessary handling, mainly just peace and quiet in his crib.

The surname of neither twin is revealed by the psychologist who is making the experiment, Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw. She does not wish them annoyed by those who might wish to exploit them.

IN her scientific report of the research before the American Psychological Association, she referred to them merely as Twin A and Twin B. But they are well-known around the hospital as "Johnny" and "Jimmy."

Johnny, originally the smaller and weaker of the two, was the one who received the training. On five days a week both twins were brought to the Clinic at nine o'clock in the morning. Jimmy was placed in a cozy little crib in a quiet spot behind a screen in the nursery. There he was left, except for feeding, bathing, and other necessary attentions. Johnny, on the other hand, was immediately put into training.

At two-hour intervals he was encouraged to reach and roll. He was turned over on his tummy and allowed to try to crawl. He was held up so that his toes could just touch some hard surface and thus tempted to make little stepping movements.

The other twin, Jimmy, was each week put into the same situations and allowed to show what he could do without the training.

Another purpose of the experiment was to see whether the physical training would cause an infant to forget sooner the primitive reflexes with which each baby comes into the world.

The new baby is equipped with two queer mechanisms that seem to be handed down from his ape-like ancestors, and that in human development have lost their essential usefulness. One of these is the grasping reflex.

If you place a small bar in the hands of a very young infant, he will involuntarily grasp it so hard that he can support his own weight unaided for quite a while before he will drop. Jimmy was stronger than Johnny in this ability to grasp; he would hang on for an unusually long time.

AFTER a few weeks, the ordinary infant loses this grasping reflex, and the adult does not show it at all unless his brain or nervous system is diseased. If you should attempt to hold your weight in this manner, you would find that it requires a considerable effort of the will to continue holding the bar, it is no involuntary reflex with you.

The early training of Johnny in this "chinning" exercise had no effect on either preserving the reflex or causing it to disappear at an earlier date, it was found. Apparently nature takes her own course in this regard, as in many others.

The other reflex in which Johnny received practice or training was that movement that babies make so automatically when they feel that they may fall. If a baby is lying on a bed and you jostle the bed suddenly, you will probably see him throw his arms up in a circular movement as though he were trying to embrace something.

The movement is reminiscent of the movement of the frightened little baby monkey who clings tightly to the mother lest he fall from his nursery in the tree-tops.

AGAIN training had no effect. The thing just persisted for a while and then vanished, just as it would in any baby—just as it did in the untrained twin, Jimmy.

And there were a great many other matters about which Mother Nature took her own good time, and all the training in the world seems to give not the slightest advantage to the infant in question.

When Johnny was ready to sit up erect, he sat. And so did Jimmy. They reached this stage at practically the same age. So all your best efforts in "teaching" a baby to sit up will not do him a bit of good. Neither will propping him up with pillows. You will just have to wait until he is old enough, and then you can't keep him from sitting up.

Reaching for toys, crawling, and standing up alone, seem also to be a matter of development rather than either of training or exercise. The twins paralleled each other, in extraordinarily close fashion, in the development of there abilities. But as soon as the baby became consciously active in the exercise the differences in them became not only apparent, but startling.

Climbing is one of the activities of infants that do improve through training. Johnny's training in climbing began with a slide of smooth varnished wood inclined at an angle of 11 degrees, or the very gradual slope you would get by putting one end of a six-foot board up on a block just 1¼ feet high.

Both Johnny and Jimmy, when they first were allowed to play on this slide, showed a desire to go up it and both could make some headway in the attempt.

Then they were given steeper and steeper slides until little Johnny, not yet a year old, was dauntlessly going up and down on a smooth slide tipped at the thrilling angle of 61 degrees. It was as though that six-foot board had been placed on a block five feet high, making an incline as nearly straight up as anything less surefooted than a cat could hope to navigate.

JIMMY, who had no training and saw the slides only at the time of his weekly tests, made no attempt to scale the heights. In fact, after the first few trials, he even refused to attempt the very lowest slide.

Ladders and high stools were not introduced to the babies until they were 12 months old.

It took Johnny only two days to learn to toil up the ladder, which towered way above his head. And in but 12 "lessons" he was coming down unaided—with some difficulty, to be sure, but at least with great courage and considerable skill.

Jimmy looked at the ladder, and immediately found his interest was in something else.

The stools were graded in height. Johnny soon learned to turn over so that knees or stomach were down on the stool and then let himself slide off to the floor. The gradually increasing height of the stools failed to discourage or alarm him.

When he found that even when he stretched his very longest, his toes were still not touching the floor, he would kick his foot against the side of the stool and then let himself drop.

In three months, he was coming down without the slightest hesitation from the top of a giant stool 63¼ inches high, fully as high as his teacher's head.

Yet when little Jimmy wants to get off a stool, be it high or low, what he does is to put on his cutest smile and hold out his arms for help. Some people find that that scheme works quite well, too. Jimmy's smile is a very winning thing indeed.

But the feat that leaves spectators gasping with surprise is the sight of Johnny on roller skates. At the time he was learning to walk, when he was still not yet one year old, tiny roller skates were obtained for him, and strapped onto his little pink feet. They delighted the youngster immeasurably.

OF course there was many a bump while he was learning to glide about on them. The learning was made more difficult by the fact that at first he felt that he must walk on them, trying to lift his feet in a stepping movement. But bumps did not deter him, he would just get up and try again.

Within three months, he was scooting around on skates like a veteran—keeping excellent poise, coasting down grade, and steering himself around corners. Jimmy has never tried this stunt.

Both babies have had their turns in the water, however, and Johnny has learned to swim beautifully, so that he goes unaided across a regular adult's swimming pool, swimming either under water or on the surface, when held by a strap, as suits his fancy.

TO keep the babies from harm, a special type of swimming apparatus was constructed. A broad strap was placed around the baby's chest just under his arms, and this strap was attached to ball-bearing rollers and hung from a rod above the pool.

In the strap the child couldn't possibly sink but as his swimming motions carried him through the water, the support would move along easily with him.

Within a month Johnny was holding his own head above water and making real swimming movements. And he was liking the sport. Yet he was not nine months old!

At that time Jimmy's behavior in the water consisted mainly in trying to wipe the water off his face. He would also struggle and roll over. He did nothing that could be considered a real attempt to swim. Evidently the theory that if you just dump an infant overboard he will naturally make swimming movements is completely demolished by this experiment.

Johnny is now able to discard the mechanical aid and swims freely under water in a large adult swimming pool. He is also learning to dive.

At first Johnny's teacher would hold his feet on the edge of the pool just above the water line. Little Johnny, standing straight on this support, would then bend until his head would go into the water in a nice dive. Gradually he got a little spring into it and at the advanced age of 16 months, he was doing a voluntary dive, frequently flat but nevertheless quite a creditable one.

MUSIC LOVERS TO GET TREAT THIS EVENING

One of the "best bets" for music lovers on KREG tonight will be the Music Appreciation Presentation by Madame Rosemary Rose, noted artist-teacher, who will present an all-oratorio program with a discussion of the lives of two of the most famous oratorio writers: Haydn and Handel, and the oratorios, "Elijah," "The Creation" and "Joshua." Madame Rose will be assisted by Irma Huffman May, who will be the featured artist. She will sing a soprano solo from "Elijah"; "With Verdure Clad," from "The Creation," and "Oh! Had I Jubal's Lyre," from "Joshua."

An extensive background of experience in presenting and directing many famous oratorios, both here and in the East, make Madame Rose well equipped to present a program of this type. Her accomplishments and achievements as a great artist of the opera have also qualified her as an exceptional authority.

Madame Rose is particularly anxious to hear from more of her listeners regarding the extent to which her presentations each Monday are being appreciated. A large amount of preparatory work is involved with each presentation. A word or two addressed to her in care of KREG will be appreciated, especially from those who have not written before.

XMAS SHOPPING TO BE KREG SUBJECT

"Christmas Shopping in Santa Ana" will be the keynote of "Sororitie Shop Syncopations" tomorrow afternoon at 4:30, KREG, presenting a group of the latest popular hits of the day, hot off the musical presses, according to program officials. This feature progam, especially for thifty women of Orange county, is broadcast each Tuesday and Thursday at this time.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Leopold Stokowski's Philadelphia Symphony orchestra will present the "allegro moderato" movement from Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2 in C minor on his regular nightly program over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6 tonight. Sylvan Levin will play the piano portions of the concerto.

* * *

Singing for a second time in the new Voice of Firestone series, Richard Crooks will be heard over a coast-to-coast NBC network including KFI between 8:30 and 9 tonight. Crooks, an American concert and operatic tenor with the Metropolitan Opera company, will present familiar and beloved songs of various types and wide appeal. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Vice-President of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, will continue his talks on "The Story of Transportation."

* * *

TUESDAY

The llanos, or lowlands, of South America will be the scene of the geography study of the American School of the Air to be broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ at 11:30 a. m., Tuesday. In a radio visit to the great grass lands, pupils of the intermediate and upper grades will be told why these sections have so few inhabitants and how their flat surfaces make the country a great cattle raising district. Part of the imaginary tour will be devoted to a trip along the Orinoco river.

KREG NOTES

Charles L. Webber, instructor in bookkeeping in the Adult Education Department, Santa Ana City Schools, will continue his discussion and lesson on "Bookkeeping" at 5:30 this evening, KREG.

"Three ways to purchase a typewriter for Christmas" will be told during tonight's presentation of "Tiernan's Hypewriter Tempos," 6:15, KREG. Music by Ben Bernie and All the Lads and George Olsen and His Music.

Visions Of Sugar Plums Dancing Here

Not satisfied with bearing a heavy crop of plums during the regular season, a Santa Rosa plum tree located in the yard of Tex Stewart, corner of Cypress and St. Andrews, Santa Ana, has borne a second crop, which is most unusual, according to Stewart.

The second crop, not heavy as the first, consists of fine, large plums, however, which now are getting ripe and will be ready for picking by Christmas.

was ready to score. Mitchell was held for no gain at left tackle. Welty earned two yards over right tackle. Then Welty passed to the sticky-fingered Gunther, who barely missed the ball on the Los Angeles 2-yard line. On fourth down Welty faded back to pass again, threw sharply over the goal. Guard Washington, the negro who recovered Hapes' fumble in the same quarter, partially blocked the ball as it fell into the waiting arms of Gunther for a touchdown. Welty's conversion kick sailed neatly over the center of the crossbars.

Quarterback Berry made a sensational 42-yard return of Slavin's kickoff at the beginning of the second period. The Cubs drove to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where the Dons halted Kraft on fourth down. Mitchell punted out to Santa Ana's 41, and the Cubs launched another drive which ended on the Don 26. Los Angeles was in possession near midfield as the fourth quarter began.

S. A. Pass Defense Tight

Horace Ritner, substitute tackle, showed the most improvement in the Santa Ana line. His terrific rushing consistently bothered the Los Angeles passers. The entire forward wall of Ben Slavin and Paul Perinich, ends; Miles Norton and Walt Devine, tackles; Sam Tucker and Loren Lukens, guards; Bruce Handy and Ray Hoar, centers, held up exceptionally well against such stiff competition. Hapes and Welty gained most of the Santa Ana yardage.

Captain Earl Hall, giant tackle; Washington, guard; Dalton, center; Williams, fullback; Battistessa, halfback, and Waxman, quarter, were the standouts in the Cub lineup. Waxman, fast and shifty, was especially dangerous.

The lineup:

MUSIC LOVERS TO GET TREAT THIS EVENING

One of the "best bets" for music lovers on KREG tonight will be the Music Appreciation Presentation by Madame Rosemary Rose, noted artist-teacher, who will present an all-oratorio program with a discussion of the lives of two of the most famous oratorio writers: Haydn and Handel, and the oratorios, "Elijah," "The Creation" and "Joshua." Madame Rose will be assisted by Irma Huffman May, who will be the featured artist. She will sing a soprano solo from "Elijah"; "With Verdure Clad," from "The Creation," and "Oh! Had I Jubal's Lyre," from "Joshua."

An extensive background of experinece in presenting and directing many famous oratorios, both here and in the East, make Madame Rose well equipped to present a program of this type. Her accomplishments and achievements as a great artist of the opera have also qualified her as an exceptional authority.

Madame Rose is particularly anxious to hear from more of her listeners regarding the extent to which her presentations each Monday are being appreciated. A large amount of preparatory work is involved with each presentation. A word or two addressed to her in care of KREG will be appreciated, especially from those who have not written before.

XMAS SHOPPING TO BE KREG SUBJECT

"Christmas Shopping in Santa Ana" will be the keynote of "Sororitie Shop Syncopations" tomorrow afternoon at 4:30, KREG, presenting a group of the latest popular hits of the day, hot off the musical presses, according to program officials. This feature progam, especially for thifty women of Orange county, is broadcast each Tuesday and Thursday at this time.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Leopold Stokowski's Philadelphia Symphony orchestra will present the "allegro moderato" movement from Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2 in C minor on his regular nightly program over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6 tonight. Sylvan Levin will play the piano portions of the concerto.

* * *

Singing for a second time in the new Voice of Firestone series, Richard Crooks will be heard over a coast-to-coast NBC network including KFI between 8:30 and 9 tonight. Crooks, an American concert and operatic tenor with the Metropolitan Opera company, will present familiar and beloved songs of various types and wide appeal. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Vice-President of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, will continue his talks on "The Story of Transportation."

* * *

TUESDAY

The llanos, or lowlands, of South America will be the scene of the geography study of the American School of the Air to be broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ at 11:30 a. m., Tuesday. In a radio visit to the great grass lands, pupils of the intermediate and upper grades will be told why these sections have so few inhabitants and how their flat surfaces make the country a great cattle raising district. Part of the imaginary tour will be devoted to a trip along the Orinoco river.

KREG NOTES

Charles L. Webber, instructor in bookkeeping in the Adult Education Department, Santa Ana City Schools, will continue his discussion and lesson on "Bookkeeping" at 5:30 this evening, KREG.

"Three ways to purchase a typewriter for Christmas" will be told during tonight's presentation of "Tiernan's Hypewriter Tempos," 6:15, KREG. Music by Ben Bernie and All the Lads and George Olsen and His Music.

J. P. Baumgartner, prominent citizen of Santa Ana, will urge support of the Christmas Seal campaign during the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Ass'n. broadcast tomorow at 12 noon, KREG. Mrs. Benjamin Livesay will sing, accompanied by Miss Mayme Hazen.

"Touring Topics of the Air," 7 o'clock tonight, KREG, will discuss the Mojave and Colorado deserts, will "debunk" certain beliefs about rattlesnakes and offer further touring information about Southern California.

EMILY POST WILL DISCUSS ETIQUETTE

Another interesting and informal talk by Emily Post, the nation's foremost authority on matters of etiquette and good form, will be heard tonight at 6:45 on KREG. Her subject will be "For What Purpose, Which Glasses?" Her talk last Monday was received with great interest by a large number of listeners, program officials stated.

MRS. KELSEY WILL SPEAK OVER KREG

Mrs. William Kelsey of Garden Grove, past district president of the P.-T. A. will speak on "Parent-Teacher and School Retrenchment" during the P.-T. A. broadcast this evening at 5 o'clock, KREG. Music will be furnished by a mixed quartet, under the direction of Lorene Graves. The members of the quartet are Zora Sargent, Yvonne Nelson, Cloy Francis and Howard Davis.

Visions Of Sugar Plums Dancing Here

Not satisfied with bearing a heavy crop of plums during the regular season, a Santa Rosa plum tree located in the yard of Tex Stewart, corner of Cypress and St. Andrews, Santa Ana, has borne a second crop, which is most unusual, according to Stewart.

The second crop, not heavy as the first, consists of fine, large plums, however, which now are getting ripe and will be ready for picking by Christmas.

was ready to score. Mitchell was held for no gain at left tackle. Welty earned two yards over right tackle. Then Welty passed to the sticky-fingered Gunther, who barely missed the ball on the Los Angeles 2-yard line. On fourth down Welty faded back to pass again, threw sharply over the goal. Guard Washington, the negro who recovered Hapes' fumble in the same quarter, partially blocked the ball as it fell into the waiting arms of Gunther for a touchdown. Welty's conversion kick sailed neatly over the center of the crossbars.

Quarterback Berry made a sensational 42-yard return of Slavin's kickoff at the beginning of the second period. The Cubs drove to Santa Ana's 1-yard line, where the Dons halted Kraft on fourth down. Mitchell punted out to Santa Ana's 41, and the Cubs launched another drive which ended on the Don 26. Los Angeles was in possession near midfield as the fourth quarter began.

S. A. Pass Defense Tight

Los Angeles tried desperately in the closing minutes to pass its way to another score, but Santa Ana's tight defense against passes checked every Cub attempt. Bell was particularly alert against the aerial barrage. Sammy Tucker, Don guard, intercepted Los Angeles' twentieth pass as the game ended with the ball near midfield.

Horace Ritner, substitute tackle, showed the most improvement in the Santa Ana line. His terrific rushing consistently bothered the Los Angeles passers. The entire forward wall of Ben Slavin and Paul Perinich, ends; Miles Norton and Walt Devine, tackles; Sam Tucker and Loren Lukens, guards; Bruce Handy and Ray Hoar, centers, held up exceptionally well against such stiff competition. Hapes and Welty gained most of the Santa Ana yardage.

Captain Earl Hall, giant tackle; Washington, guard; Dalton, center; Williams, fullback; Battistessa, halfback, and Waxman, quarter, were the standouts in the Cub lineup. Waxman, fast and shifty, was especially dangerous.

The lineup:

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That on Monday the 4th day of December, 1933, the City Council of the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, at its regular meeting on said day, did pass a Resolution No. 2373 declaring its intention to close up, vacate and abandon as a Public Street, that certain parcel of land hereinafter described, dedicated for public street purposes by the filing of the map of Bailey's Addition to the Town of Santa Ana, recorded in Book 21, Page 12, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles county. Said parcel of land is described as follows:

That portion of an alley fourteen feet (14') wide in Block "B" of said Bailey's Addition to the Town of Santa Ana, in Orange County, California, as shown on Map thereof recorded in Book 21, page 12, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, extending from Minnie Street, as shown on said map, to the Southerly prolongation of the West line of Lot 9, in said Block "B."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That any person interested objecting to said work or improvement, or to the extent of lands to be affected or benefited by said work or improvement and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof may make written objections to the same within ten (10) days after the expiration of the time of the publication of this notice, which publication will expire on the 19th day of December, 1933, which objections shall be delivered to the Clerk of the City Council of the City of Santa Ana.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention No. 2373 which is dated the 4th day of December, 1933, for further particulars. Which Resolution is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City Santa Ana.

Dated this 4th day of December, '33.

J. L. McBRIDE,
Superintendent of Streets of the City of Santa Ana.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That on Monday the 4th day of December, 1933, the City Council of the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, at its regular meeting on said day, did pass a Resolution No. 2373 declaring its intention to close up, vacate and abandon as a Public Street, that certain parcel of land hereinafter described, dedicated for public street purposes by the filing of the map of Bailey's Addition to the Town of Santa Ana, recorded in Book 21, Page 12, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles county. Said parcel of land is described as follows: That portion of an alley fourteen feet (14') wide in Block "B" of said Bailey's Addition to the Town of Santa Ana, in Orange County, California, as shown on Map thereof recorded in Book 21, page 12, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, extending from Minnie Street, as shown on said map, to the Southerly prolongation of the West line of Lot 9, in said Block "B."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That any person interested objecting to said work or improvement, or to the extent of lands to be affected or benefited by said work or improvement and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof may make written objections to the same within ten (10) days after the expiration of the time of the publication of this notice, which publication will expire on the 19th day of December, 1933, which objections shall be delivered to the Clerk of the City Council of the City of Santa Ana.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention No. 2373 which is dated the 4th day of December, 1933, for further particulars, which Resolution is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Santa Ana.

Dated this 4th day of December, 1933.

J. L. McBRIDE,

IMPROVEMENTS POSSIBLE IN JURY SYSTEM

The other day we were discussing the jury system with one of the finest, most outstanding men in Orange county. This man is a rancher, one of the best known citizens in his community, standing for all that is best in civic life, and he said: "I have lived here 40 years. I was called once as a juryman many years ago, but I was sick. I never have been called since." And then he wondered how the juries were made up.

The names of some of the jury, we understand, are furnished by the judges, some of them by the supervisors, and they are drawn by lot from the total who are so presented. We imagine that it is chance alone that has prevented this man from being drawn on a panel. It seems as though 40 years would be a long time for chance to work so perfectly, but you know it is that way, even in bridge.

The right of trial by jury has been a wonderful institution. It was a tremendous improvement over the findings of a single individual. It has given people great protection. It was its original ideal to protect people in their personal rights, that neither their property, nor their liberty, nor their life, should be taken away without the verdict of a jury of their peers, or of men on equality with them.

It has grown to be rather a handicap to society, and a greater protection to crime and misdoings than it should be. There is a general sentiment developing that favors a verdict, in criminal cases, of three-fourths of the 12, rather than insist that all 12 shall agree. So frequently one person, recalcitrant, can hold out and thereby defeat the ends of justice, listeners hen the evidence is perfectly clear to the which her 11.

Monday are civil cases, it is already permitted to have large amount fourths decide the case. To be sure, in is involved al cases, a man is supposed to be consition. A wo innocent, until he is proven guilty, and he to her in c appreciated, be proven guilty beyond a reasonable who have p. But is it not fair to assume that when men or women on a jury agree that they ve been convinced, that the doubt of the 12th person could hardly be considered a reasonable one?

The restrictions thrown around the qualifications for a juryman, as determined by an examination of the counsel, should also be removed to a very considerable extent, so that the time of the court and the expense should not grow to such a great degree as it does. There can be great improvements in our jury system.

J. C. PERFORMS A MIRACLE

When we asked our Sport editor Saturday, as we were about to go to the game between Santa Ana Junior College and Los Angeles Junior College, which would win, he replied: "I am sorry to say it, but I am afraid that Los Angeles is almost certain to win."

Just before the game we asked Dean Fiske which was going to win. "Well, I am afraid Los Angeles may, but they aren't going to run away with us," he said. When we saw the mountain-like men of the Los Angeles team come on the field, and we were told that they had two other full teams just like them, from which they could draw, and there were several times the number of students in Los Angeles Junior College that there were in Santa Ana Junior College, we settled down to watch what "Brer" Henry Watterson would have called "a march through a slaughter-house to an open grave."

It looked like it from the moment the Los Angeles team got the ball. We felt our smaller, lighter men could hardly detain them, saying nothing about stopping them. But the exhibition which we saw amazed the Santa Ana rooters, and astonished and dumfounded the Los Angeles people. We won't attempt to describe the game. We can't even describe how we were thrilled, but we do want to emphasize that it was a marvelous exhibition of grit and brains, of men keyed to the point of taking advantage of the slightest flaw or mistake or accident.

It shows what can be done by skill, training and determination in the face of great odds. And Santa Ana Junior College carried off the honors of the game, and the championship in football for the junior colleges of Southern California. It certainly placed Santa Ana students, and their fine coach, Bill Cook, in the front rank as a complete combination of ability and foresight.

We feel that Santa Ana should be proud of its Junior College football team, proud of its leadership, proud of the men, and in some way we should evidence it. For nothing is so helpful to any and to all of us, after we have worked hard and done our best, than to realize that we are appreciated. We must not let this challenge to our spirit go unanswered.

Crooning has finally found its place. The part has been assigned to a chimpanzee in a new movie.

AN INADVERTANCE

It seems that Harpo Marx, when he arrived in Russia, was announced as Karl Marx. The inadvertance inspired the Christian Science Monitor to print the pictures of the two Marx men, side by side.

Harpo Marx would be a good joke on Russians expecting to see the long deceased Karl. It is told that there are people in the mountains of the South who believe that Abraham Lincoln is our president and that is no worse than this mix in the Marx names.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR STOPS MOB BENT ON LYNCHING

We may have made fun at times of Governor "Bill" Murray (Alfalfa Bill) of Oklahoma, but when it comes to promptness in doing his duty as Governor, we must take our hats off to him, for then we are in the presence of a genius.

When it looked as if there were danger to an alleged kidnaper and slayer from mob violence, the Governor immediately ordered out the militia for the protection of this man. And his instructions were, "shoot to kill," to protect the prisoner.

There is nothing like the language of "shoot to kill," to take from a mob its "mob-mindedness." If that word had been sent down to San Jose, the mob would have been respectful and kept its distance.

Desperate hunger and personal need may drive men and women to the point where they have no fear of bullets or bayonets, but trying to take a prisoner from the officer of the law, for a "Roman holiday," is another thing again.

We congratulate Governor Murray and Oklahoma.

We notice that some of the foreign papers, commenting on our lynching in this country, said that it is confined mostly to the backward sections of the country. Whether or not this charge could be made, when we reach the condition of mind where we will do things of that kind, we certainly have our back to the rising sun of civilization and are headed toward the primitive condition of the race.

HYPNOTIST ADVERTISES

We notice that a man in Chicago has been enjoined from hypnotizing his wife. We wonder if that is the way he got her to begin with.

She charged he hypnotized her into believing she had been accorded joint interest in their restaurant. We wonder if this thing couldn't be worked to promote domestic felicity. If the woman were happier in believing it, why should the judge prevent him from getting her into that ecstatic condition of mind? If "ignorance is bliss," why should we commit the folly of wisdom?

This wife is simply a former wife of the hypnotist. She wants to reopen the divorce. This hypnotist failed somewhere, or he wouldn't have this difference with her now.

We recall the story of the couple who came before the preacher for marriage several times, and in each case the groom-to-be was drunk, and the preacher refused to marry them. Finally on the third visit, he said to the bride: "I will not marry you when this man is in this condition. Why do you keep returning?" She replied: "I can't get him here when he is sober." We wonder if this hypnotist couldn't find a vast amount of work and take the place of intoxication.

Upper Air and Weather

Oakland Tribune

"Not more and better weather," but more and better forecasts of the same, is the objective of a new system of reporting which is proposed in a report of the Science Advisory Board. This unobtrusive scientific agency of the Government, acting as a clearing house for facts on science and research, is convinced that aviation is going to offer the strongest of helping hands to those who would tell us whether the morrow and next day are to be fair or stormy.

The flyers are to help and the flyers are mainly the occasion for the new program. There is a need for better reports for airmen and it becomes more acute with the increase in business. In October 12,000 more passengers were carried by plane than in the same month a year ago.

It is recommended that daily maps of upper air temperatures, humidity, pressure and wind velocity be printed. The Board feels that the upper air is being neglected as a source of weather information and would supplement such reports made in this country with ones from neighboring Mexico and Canada, as well as Siberia. With this done, it is said, weather may be predicted a longer time in advance. Then the Board would consolidate the whole system of recording and reporting meteorological data and forecasting under the Weather Bureau, excepting for necessary Army and Navy service.

Europe is ahead of the United States in the use of knowledge of the weather in the upper air, the Board reports, and suggests that studies of the whole air mass be broadened. In addition it thinks the number of daily weather forecasts should be increased to three or four, and additional service should be given aviators.

Each Morning

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

Someone has written a book on "Life Begins at Forty." I rise to offer a substitute title, Mr. Author, "Life Begins Each Morning."

Whether one is twenty, forty or sixty; whether one has succeeded, failed or just muddled along; whether yesterday was full of sun or storm, or one of those dull days with no weather at all, Life Begins Each Morning!

Life is a day—this day. All past days are gone beyond reviving. All days that still may come for you or me are veiled in the great mystery, and for all we know, there may not be another for either of us. Therefore, this day is Life, and life begins anew with it.

There is no staged age or period of which it can be said, "Here is the dawn of life's day." Today is the dawn of that day. Take and use it as best you can, or as you choose. It is your life, and if you prefer to loll it away or waste it, that is your privilege, though it be unwise and unprofitable.

However, you have used gone days, you can start afresh each morning, if you so desire. You can use this day for consolidating past gains of spirit, brain and hand, or you can use it for tearing down the old structure of self and laying the foundations for a new building. Each night of life is a well between today and the past. Each morning is the open door to a new world—new vistas, new aims, new tryings.

The greatest fact in life is this, that it never is too late to start again. History overflows with startling examples of this truth. And if we had access to the vast number of unrecorded lives, we would find an overwhelming mass of supporting testimony.

However discouraging your days may have been thus far, keep this thought burning brightly in your mind—Life Begins Each Morning!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A GUIDE FOR THE THRILL HUNTER

It is fun to fare after Kadiak bear
On Alaska's chilly snows—
Great brutes that sleep by the icy deep
Where the Holluschickie goes.
It is also nice to keep off the ice
Where these brutes are not so ostensible,
And not to roam by the shores of Nome;
And it's quite a bit more sensible.

To take a rake and pursue a snake
The sage-brush desert through—
So people say who have been that way—
Is a pleasant thing to do.
But a voyage at sea north of '53
On a steady, plodding collier,
You will find, I'm sure, will have more allure
And will prove a great deal jollier.

It is swell to rest on Mt. Everest
Where a thundering, snowy mass
May sweep you down from the mountain's crown
To a yawning and wide crevasse,
Where you'll cool your brow an eon from now
In depths that are quite unmeasurable;
But spending a day 'mid the flowers of May
Is likely to prove more pleasurable.

Vesuvius' peak, with the smoky streak
Which streams like a rage of fire,
Is a glorious goal toward which one's soul—
Might—though I don't know why—aspire.
But to climb the hill by the old red mill
On an autumn day is glorious,
And the top of the same, though a trifle tame,
Will not be so uproarious.

We was eating breakfist and ma said, Well, the proverbial question has rolled around again, Willyum, what shall we have for dinner? I'm torn 2 ways between roast lam and roast beef, wich would you suggest, Willyum? she said.

Liver and onions, pop said, and ma said, Now Willyum are you going to start that?

I'm willing to start it and finish it and mop up the gravy, pop said, and ma said, I bleeve if this life was a continuous streem of liver and onions you wouldn't ask anything better of the next life. Now Willyum dont be unreasonable, it's not reasonable, she said.

You're rite, I always admit when I'm wrong, give me livverty or give me death, I mean give me roast beef, pop said, and ma said, That's more sensible, and how about vegetables, brockily is still on the market.

I dont bleeve they've withdrawn liver and onions, either, pop said, and ma said, Willyum, we're off the subjeck of meet and on the subjeck of vegetables.

Why didn't you tell me? pop said. How about brockily? he said, and ma said, Splendid, that's just what I was thinking of. And potatoes, naturelly, and a salad goes without saying.

It even goes without eating, as far as I'm concerned, pop said.

Wich it genrelly does, and ma said, And now have you any suggestion for dizzert?

Liver and onions, pop said, and ma said, Now that's the last straw but not the least. We'll go out and eat in a resterant, it will be a change for me and if you order liver and onions it wont be on anybody's head but yours.

I hope it does my scalp good, pop said.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

AS THE REPEAL ERA OPENS

This month we are ending an era of prohibition and entering an unpredictable era of repeal. This transition raises issues of public policy and private practice that deserves our most reasoned consideration.

For some time to come we shall be dealing with the public policy aspects of this transition from prohibition to repeal. The hastily improvised legislation for liquor control that state after state is now putting on the books will have to be revised and refined in the light of experience. It is fortunate that we are not attempting to clamp down over all the states a dogmatically conceived national control scheme in these huried days of transition. The varied plans of the various states will give us a chance at genuinely laboratory experimentation in control.

The job of drafting control legislation has to be done quickly. It is unfortunate that a longer studied and more deliberately planned program is not available to our states, but it is a situation not a theory that confronts us. Some sort of control schemes must be adopted instanter by the states.

It is important that we do not consider such state schemes which we adopt as final, but keep our minds open to their progressive perfection.

Meanwhile it is necessary that there be kept going a nation-wide consideration of the objectives and means of a permanent liquor control policy or policies. We may be sure that the hurried legislation of these early weeks of repeal will be based on far fom mature and comprehensive consideration. For later revision we shall need a good back log of study and discussion and the driving force of a well informed public opinion.

Tomorrow I shall list some the objectives that must, as I see it, be set for pemanent liquor control legislation.

Our Children

KITCHEN FUN

Home is coming into its own these days and the children are going to be the happier for it. In the evenings that are coming the children will want something to do. What shall we do, tonight? is going to bother fathers and mothers a lot this winter unless they have thought ahead a little and provided against the empty evenings.

The radio won't always serve. Dancing has its limitations. Games need to be varied. That's where the kitchen comes in. The kitchen offers amusement and interest that will carry along for months and months once the fun begins. If you can let the children cook and clean up there once a week they'll be delighted. And you'll breathe that relieved sigh that comes of knowing that for once, they are safe and contented and doing something worthwhile.

All children like to make candy. Sugar is cheap these days and this is the season for nuts and apples. The stoves are so safe and easy that the children can be allowed to use them freely. Then why not teach them the few necessary facts about managing the stove and using the cook book, and let them go to it.

Candy is good for children provided always that they use it temperately. They have a better chance of doing this if they make it before they eat it. You can't make a batch of candy and eat it all in the same night yourself. You can have a couple of friends in, make the candy, serve yourself and them some light refreshment, which they help to prepare and serve, and share the candy among you. That serves as entertainment and treat at the same time.

It's great fun to prepare almonds, if you're a beginner and not the routine-worn family cook. It's fun to make raisin and almond sandwiches, and the fancy touches that can be given to the combination will keep children happy and busy for hours.

How about popcorn balls? First there is the fun of popping. Then the excitement of boiling the syrup and making the balls. Then comes the wrapping of them in gay papers tied with gay colors. Everybody likes to eat a popcorn ball, even the dieting fraternity will break rules at the first sniff.

Candied apples are fine, too. And so simple to make. It's not always easy to get the skewers for them but maybe a word to the butcher would help out there. Apples and nuts for the holidays are just the thing for kitchen parties.

Cookies come next. December is the time for cookies. There are as many kinds as there are tastes for them. Children love them and they would ask nothing better than to be allowed to make some these long dark evenings. Get a good cook book, one that gives a long list of goodies, and let the children have the kitchen. They may waste a little but if you measure it against what they might have wasted in some other occupation you won't mind. In fact, you'll be glad of it.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped addressed envelope for reply.)

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR STOPS MOB BENT ON LYNCHING

We may have made fun at times of Governor "Bill" Murray (Alfalfa Bill) of Oklahoma, but when it comes to promptness in doing his duty as Governor, we must take our hats off to him, for then we are in the presence of a genius.

When it looked as if there were danger to an alleged kidnaper and slayer from mob violence, the Governor immediately ordered out the militia for the protection of this man. And his instructions were, "shoot to kill," to protect the prisoner.

There is nothing like the language of "shoot to kill," to take from a mob its "mob-mindedness." If that word had been sent down to San Jose, the mob would have been respectful and kept its distance.

Desperate hunger and personal need may drive men and women to the point where they have no fear of bullets or bayonets, but trying to take a prisoner from the officer of the law, for a "Roman holiday," is another thing again.

We congratulate Governor Murray and Oklahoma.

We notice that some of the foreign papers, commenting on our lynching in this country, said that it is confined mostly to the backward sections of the country. Whether or not this charge could be made, when we reach the condition of mind where we will do things of that kind, we certainly have our back to the rising sun of civilization and are headed toward the primitive condition of the race.

HYPNOTIST ADVERTISES

We notice that a man in Chicago has been enjoined from hypnotizing his wife. We wonder if that is the way he got her to begin with.

She charged he hypnotized her into believing she had been accorded joint interest in their restaurant. We wonder if this thing couldn't be worked to promote domestic felicity. If the woman were happier in believing it, why should the judge prevent him from getting her into that ecstatic condition of mind? If "ignorance is bliss," why should we commit the folly of wisdom?

This wife is simply a former wife of the hypnotist. She wants to reopen the divorce. This hypnotist failed somewhere, or he wouldn't have this difference with her now.

We recall the story of the couple who came before the preacher for marriage several times, and in each case the groom-to-be was drunk, and the preacher refused to marry them. Finally on the third visit, he said to the bride: "I will not marry you when this man is in this condition. Why do you keep returning?" She replied: "I can't get him here when he is sober." We wonder if this hypnotist couldn't find a vast amount of work and take the place of intoxication.

Upper Air and Weather

"Not more and better weather," but more and better forecasts of the same, is the objective of a new system of reporting which is proposed in a report of the Science Advisory Board. This unobtrusive scientific agency of the Government, acting as a clearing house for facts on science and research, is convinced that aviation is going to offer the strongest of helping hands to those who would tell us whether the morrow and next day are to be fair or stormy.

The flyers are to help and the flyers are mainly the occasion for the new program. There is a need for better reports for airmen and it becomes more acute with the increase in business. In October 12,000 more passengers were carried by plane than in the same month a year ago.

It is recommended that daily maps of upper air temperatures, humidity, pressure and wind velocity be printed. The Board feels that the upper air is being neglected as a source of weather information and would supplement such reports made in this country with ones from neighboring Mexico and Canada, as well as Siberia. With this done, it is said, weather may be predicted a longer time in advance. Then the Board would consolidate the whole system of recording and reporting meteorological data and forecasting under the Weather Bureau, excepting for necessary Army and Navy service.

Europe is ahead of the United States in the use of knowledge of the weather in the upper air, the Board reports, and suggests that studies of the whole air mass be broadened. In addition it thinks the number of daily weather forecasts should be increased to three or four, and additional service should be given aviators.

Each Morning

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

Someone has written a book on "Life Begins at Forty." I rise to offer a substitute title, Mr. Author, "Life Begins Each Morning."

Whether one is twenty, forty or sixty; whether one has succeeded, failed or just muddled along; whether yesterday was full of sun or storm, or one of those dull days with no weather at all, Life Begins Each Morning!

Life is a day—this day. All past days are gone beyond reviving. All days that still may come for you or me are veiled in the great mystery, and for all we know, there may not be another for either of us. Therefore, this day is Life, and life begins anew with it.

There is no staged age or period of which it can be said, "Here is the dawn of life's day." Today is the dawn of that day. Take and use it as best you can, or as you choose. It is your life, and if you prefer to loll it away or waste it, that is your privilege, though it be unwise and unprofitable.

However, you have used gone days, you can start afresh each morning, if you so desire. You can use this day for consolidating past gains of spirit, brain and hand, or you can use it for tearing down the old structure of self and laying the foundations for a new building. Each night of life is a well between today and the past. Each morning is the open door to a new world—new vistas, new aims, new tryings.

The greatest fact in life is this, that it never is too late to start again. History overflows with startling examples of this truth. And if we had access to the vast number of unrecorded lives, we would find an overwhelming mass of supporting testimony.

However discouraging your days may have been thus far, keep this thought burning brightly in your mind—Life Begins Each Morning!

A GUIDE FOR THE THRILL HUNTER

It is fun to fare after Kadiak bear
On Alaska's chilly snows—
Great brutes that sleep by the icy deep
Where the Holluschickie goes.
It is also nice to keep off the ice
Where these brutes are not so ostensible,
And not to roam by the shores of Nome;
And it's quite a bit more sensible.

To take a rake and pursue a snake
The sage-brush desert through—
So people say who have been that way—
Is a pleasant thing to do.
But a voyage at sea north of '53
On a steady, plodding collier,
You will find, I'm sure, will have more allure
And will prove a great deal jollier.

It is swell to rest on Mt. Everest
Where a thundering, snowy mass
May sweep you down from the mountain's crown
To a yawning and wide crevasse,
Where you'll cool your brow an eon from now
In depths that are quite unmeasurable;
But spending a day 'mid the flowers of May
Is likely to prove more pleasurable.

Vesuvius' peak, with the smoky streak
Which streams like a rage of fire,
Is a glorious goal toward which one's soul—
Might—though I don't know why—aspire.
But to climb the hill by the old red mill
On an autumn day is glorious,
And the top of the same, though a trifle tame,
Will not be so uproarious.

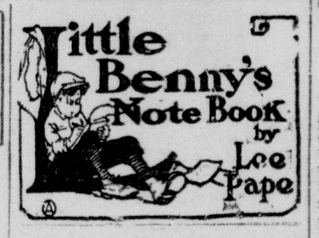
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



We was eating breakfist and ma said, Well, the proverbial question has rolled around again, Willyum, what shall we have for dinner? I'm torn 2 ways between roast lam and roast beef, wich would you suggest, Willyum? she said.

Liver and onions, pop said, and ma said, Now Willyum are you going to start that?

I'm willing to start it and finish it and mop up the gravy, pop said, and ma said, I bleeve if this life was a continuous streem of liver and onions you wouldn't ask anything better of the next life. Now Willyum dont be unreasonable, it's not reasonable, she said.

You're rite, I always admit when I'm wrong, give me livverty or give me death, I mean give me roast beef, pop said, and ma said, That's more sensible, and how about vegetables, brockily is still on the market.

I dont bleeve they've withdrawn liver and onions, either, pop said, and ma said, Willyum, we're off the subjeck of meet and on the subjeck of vegetables.

Why didn't you tell me? pop said, How about brockily? he said, and ma sadi, Splendid, that's just what I was thinking of. And potatoes, naturelly, and a salad goes without saying.

It even goes without eating, as far as I'm concerned, pop said.

Wich it genrelly does, and ma said, And now have you any suggestion for dizzert?

Liver and onions, pop said, and ma said, Now that's the last straw but not the least. We'll go out and eat in a resterant, it will be a change for me and if you order liver and onions it wont be on anybody's head but yours.

I hope it does my scalp good, pop said.

And we met him downtown and ate in the Stitz Hotel, making me feel lucky.

The shipment of the season's first carload of celery from the C. M. Furuta ranch at Wintersburg, caused George W. Moore of Wintersburg, former manager of the Orange County Celery Growers' association, to compare the current acreage of 150 acres planted, with that of 1907 when 6800 acres in Orange county were planted to this crop alone. It had been superseded by beets after sugar factories stablized the sugar beet market.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

AS THE REPEAL ERA OPENS

This month we are ending an era of prohibition and entering an unpredictable era of repeal. This transition raises issues of public policy and private practice that deserves our most reasoned consideration.

The repeal of prohibition is a move of historic moment in public policy!

For some time to come we shall be dealing with the public policy aspects of this transition from prohibition to repeal. The hastily improvised legislation for liquor control that state after state is now putting on the books will have to be revised and refined in the light of experience. It is fortunate that we are not attempting to clamp down over all the states a dogmatically conceived national control scheme in these huried days of transition. The varied plans of the various states will give us a chance at genuinely laboratory experimentation in control.

The job of drafting control legislation has to be done quickly. It is unfortunate that a longer studied and more deliberately planned program is not available to our states, but it is a situation not a theory that confronts us. Some sort of control schemes must be adopted instanter by the states.

It is important that we do not consider such state schemes which we adopt as final, but keep our minds open to their progressive perfection.

Meanwhile it is necessary that there be kept going a nation-wide consideration of the objectives and means of a permanent liquor control policy or policies. We may be sure that the hurried legislation of these early weeks of repeal will be based on far fom mature and comprehensive consideration. For later revision we shall need a good back log of study and discussion and the driving force of a well informed public opinion.

Tomorrow I shall list some of the objectives that must, as I see it, be set for pemanent liquor control legislation.

Our Children

KITCHEN FUN

Home is coming into its own these days and the children are going to be the happier for it. In the evenings that are coming the children will want something to do. What shall we do, tonight? is going to bother fathers and mothers a lot this winter unless they have thought ahead a little and provided against the empty evenings.

The radio won't always serve. Dancing has its limitations. Games need to be varied. That's where the kitchen comes in. The kitchen offers amusement and interest that will carry along for months and months once the fun begins. If you can let the children cook and clean up there once a week they'll be delighted. And you'll breathe that relieved sigh that comes of knowing that for once, they are safe and contented and doing something worthwhile.

All children like to make candy. Sugar is cheap these days and this is the season for nuts and apples. The stoves are so safe and easy that the children can be allowed to use them freely. Then why not teach them the few necessary facts about managing the stove and using the cook book, and let them go to it.

Candy is good for children provided always that they use it temperately. They have a better chance of doing this if they make it before they eat it. You can't make a batch of candy and eat it all in the same night yourself. You can have a couple of friends in, make the candy, serve yourself and them some light refreshment, which they help to prepare and serve, and share the candy among you. That serves as entertainment and treat at the same time.

It's great fun to prepare almonds, if you're a beginner and not the routine-worn family cook. It's fun to make raisin and almond sandwiches, and the fancy touches that can be given to the combination will keep children happy and busy for hours.

How about popcorn balls? First there is the fun of popping. Then the excitement of boiling the syrup and making the balls. Then comes the wrapping of them in gay papers tied with gay colors. Everybody likes to eat a popcorn ball, even the dieting fraternity will break rules at the first sniff.

Candied apples are fine, too. And so simple to make. It's not always easy to get the skewers for them but maybe a word to the butcher would help out there. Apples and nuts for the holidays are just the thing for kitchen parties.

Cookies come next. December is the time for cookies. There are as many kinds as there are tastes for them. Children love them and they would ask nothing better than to be allowed to make some these long dark evenings. Get a good cook book, one that gives a long list of goodies, and let the children have the kitchen. They may waste a little but if you measure it against what they might have wasted in some other occupation you won't mind. In fact, you'll be glad of it.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped addressed envelope for reply.)
